Things Fall Apart Journal Topics:

Understanding Things Fall Apart Kalu Ogbaa, 1999-01-30 Things Fall Apart is the most widely read and influential African novel. Published in 1958, it has sold more than eight million copies and been translated into fifty languages. African culture is not familiar to most American readers, however, and this casebook provides a wealth of commentary and original materials that place the novel in its historical, social, and cultural contexts. Ogbaa, an Igbo scholar, has selected a wide variety of historical and firsthand accounts of Igbo history and cultural heritage. These accounts illuminate the historical context and issues relating to the colonization of Africa by European powers, in particular Britain's colonization of Nigeria. Fascinating materials bring to light the novel's cultural context, folkways, language, and narrative customs, and traditional Igbo religion. Among the documents included are a slave narrative, interviews, journal and magazine articles, and historical essays. Each chapter is followed by questions for class discussion and ideas for student paper topics. A selection of maps and photos of Igbo culture complement the text. Following a literary analysis, historical documents trace the European powers' partition of Africa and the creation and colonization of Nigeria, home of the Igbo people. Several chapters on Igbo cultural harmony feature materials that explain the Igbo view of the world of humans and the world of the spirits, Igbo language, and traditional Igbo religion and material customs. Selections on the African novelists place Things Fall Apart in the context of African literature and emphasize the difference between African and Western elements of fiction. A concluding chapter examines the debate on writing African novels in ex-colonizers' languages. This casebook will greatly enhance the reader's appreciation of the novel and understanding of Igbo history, society, culture, and civilization. CliffsNotes on Achebe's Things Fall Apart

John Chua, 2011-05-18 The original CliffsNotes study guides offer expert commentary on major themes, plots, characters, literary devices, and historical background. The latest generation of titles in this series also feature glossaries and visual elements that complement the classic familiar format. In CliffsNotes on Things Fall Apart, you explore the ground-breaking work of author Chinua Achebe, considered by many to be the most influential African writer of his generation. The novel, amazing in its authenticity, leaves behind the stereotypical portrayals of African life and presents the Igbo culture of Nigeria in all its remarkable complexity. Chapter summaries and commentaries take you through Achebe's world, and critical essays give you insight into the novel's themes and use of language. Other features that help you study include character analyses of the main characters, a character map that graphically illustrates the relationships among the characters, a section on the life and background of Chinua Achebe, a review section that tests your knowledge, a Resource Center full of books, articles, films, and Internet sites. Classic literature or modern modern-day treasure, you'll understand it all with expert information and insight from CliffsNotes study guides. Issues in Clinical Psychology, Psychiatry, and Counseling: 2011 Edition, 2012-01-09 Issues in Clinical Psychology, Psychiatry, and Counseling, 2011 Edition is a ScholarlyEditions eBook that delivers timely, authoritative, and comprehensive information about Clinical Psychology, Psychiatry, and Counseling. A study on the writing style of Chinua Achebe Dr. Ashish Gupta, 2024-03-08 Chinua Achebe was a master that mastered a variety of distinct approaches that authors may use to create tales There are many different ways that writers can tell stories When it comes to creating stories authors have the capacity to use a variety of techniques One of the narrative techniques that Achebe utilised was referred to as flashback and it was included into his work However Achebe utilised a variety of approaches and one of those methods was flashback Whenever we get to this point in the story the story will take us on a trip through time to show us something that took place in the past This book delves into the rich tapestry of Achebe's writing style examining the intricate threads that weave together his exploration of Igbo culture the clash between tradition and colonialism the multi dimensional characters he breathes life into the narrative structures that captivate readers the language and diction that form a linguistic bridge between worlds the social commentary that critiques historical injustices and the symbolism and imagery that elevate his works to realms of profound meaning The work of Achebe is not only a reflection of a particular cultural environment rather it is a mirror that is held up to the intricacies of the human experience As we begin our investigation we will travel across the landscapes of Nigeria's pre colonial and colonial history We will also navigate the twisting routes of Achebe's narratives which merge the past and the present in a seamless manner The individuals that we come across are not only figments of our imagination rather they are manifestations of the internal tensions moral conundrums and the indomitable spirit that characterises mankind in the face of hardship The unfolding of this investigation takes place against the backdrop of Achebe's linguistic artistry which is a dance that captures the spirit of cultural hybridity through the merging of English and Igbo expressions

Gender Issues in African Literature Chin Ce, Charles Smith, 2014-04-02 Gender Issues in African Literature examines the ways in which some protagonists of African fictions are made to counter and challenge intertwined Western discourses on gender employment sexuality and health Here the conflict between Tradition and Modernity is argued from the favourite premise of male supremacist ideology showing how women have unlearned these false concepts to build a sustained feminist movement and re learn the value of sisterhood There is a bold attempt to reread Achebe as a consistent in urging women to fight the seemingly oppressive structures that have traditionally discriminated against them and to disregard their diversity and embrace their unity A chapter of Feminist Re writing disagrees with the attempt to equate theory with political activism and presents Feminist literature as more than a verbal assertion that points to Feminist aesthetics and politics The use of the trauma theory and testimonio literature to explore traumatised female characters and its impact for Zimbabwean civil society is a useful addition to these gender studies in African literature Existential and Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes Adrian Tomer, Grafton Eliason, Paul T. Issues in the Contemporary Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa G. Harrison, 2002-06-19 Graham Harrison investigates contemporary African politics by privileging the dynamics of political struggle and resistance Through the analysis of peasant politics debt and structural adjustment democratization and identity politics the author shows the importance of resistance and agency Detailed studies of Mozambique Nigeria and Burkina Faso demonstrate how political organization and resistance have been closely ingrained in particular post colonial trajectories An original and refreshing approach to the study of African politics this will be a useful textbook for upper level undergraduates and postgraduate students

Towards a Poetics of Creative Writing Dominique Hecq, 2015 This book offers an in depth study of the poetics of creative writing as a subject in the dramatically changing context of practice as research taking into account the importance of the subjectivity of the writer as researcher It explores creative writing and theory while offering critical antecedents theoretical directions and creative interchanges The book narrows the focus on psychoanalysis particularly with regard to Lacan and creative practice and demonstrates that creative writing is research in its own right The poetics at stake neither denotes the study or the techniques of poetry but rather the means by which writers formulate and discuss attitudes to their work

Navigating Boundaries: A Comprehensive Study of Postcolonial Theory and Literature, 2025-02-25 Navigating Boundaries A Comprehensive Study of Postcolonial Theory and Literature delves into the intricate area of postcolonial discourse amplifying the voices emerging from the margins challenging dominant narratives while exploring the themes of identity mimicry hybridity power and resistance Drawing from key theorists such as Edward Said Homi K Bhabha Frantz Fanon Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Philip G Altbach Deepesh Chakravarthy Chandra Talpade Mohanty Gauri Viswanathan etc this book offers a deep investigation into the multiple aspects of theoretical frameworks that shape postcolonial discourse The analysis moves seamlessly from theory to literature investigating how postcolonial literary texts navigate critical issues such as hybridity mimicry identity and resistance A vital resource for students research scholars teachers and anyone curious about the dynamic field of postcolonial theory and literature this book calls readers to reflect question and join the discourse on the complex narratives that continue to shape our world Generally most of the postcolonial critiques explore linguistic imperialism but this book makes a groundbreaking contribution by foregrounding the use of vernacular languages in literary texts and critical theory positing that this is not just an aesthetic choice but a form of resistance and identity reclamation. In doing so it echoes Ngũgĩ's call for linguistic decolonization and applies it in a broader more diverse context examining how the act of writing in local languages disrupts colonial power dynamics and fosters cultural preservation. While much of postcolonial criticism tends to centre on broad historical and political analysis, Navigating Boundaries emphasizes the multiple voices coming from Africa, Caribbean and South Asia, offering a more intimate look at identity formation in postcolonial settings. Moreover, the book's interdisciplinary approach strengthens its position in the field. By weaving in cultural studies, sociology and psychological perspectives on gender, trauma, ethnicity and memory, it opens up fresh pathways, making the work relevant not just for literary scholars but for those interested in a wider discourse on postcolonial theory.

Issues in African Literature E. Nnolim, 2010-12-01 The multitudinous nature of African literature has always been an issue but really not a problem although its oral base has been used by expatriate critics to accuse African literature of thin plots, superficial characterisation and narrative structures. African literature also it is observed is a mixed grill: it is oral, it is written in vernacular or tribal tongues, written in foreign tongues (English, French, Portuguese) and within the foreign language in which it is written pidgin and creole further bend the already bent language, giving African literature a further taint of linguistic impurity. African literature further suffers from the nature of its newness and this created problems for the critic. Because it is new and because its critics are in simultaneous existence with its writers, we confront the problem of instant analysis. Issues in African Literature continues the debate and tries to clarify contemporary burning issues in African literature by focussing on particular areas where the debate has been most concerned or around which it has hovered and been persistent.

What Writing Does and How It Does It Charles Bazerman, Paul Prior, 2003-12-08 In What Writing Does and How It Does It editors Charles Bazerman and Paul Prior offer a sophisticated introduction to methods for understanding, studying and analyzing texts and writing practices. This volume addresses a variety of approaches to analyzing texts and considers the processes of writing, exploring textual practices and their contexts and examining what texts do and how texts mean rather than what they mean. Included are traditional modes of analysis: rhetorical, literary, linguistic, as well as newer modes such as text and talk, genre and activity analysis and intertextual analysis. The chapters have been developed to provide answers to a specified set of questions, with each one offering a preview of the chapter's content and purpose, an introduction to basic concepts referring to key theoretical and research studies in the area, details on the types of data and questions for which the analysis is best used, examples from a wide-ranging group of texts including educational materials, student writing, published literature and online and electronic media, one or more applied analyses with a clear statement of procedures for analysis and illustrations of a particular sample of data and a brief summary, suggestions for additional readings and a set of activities. The side-by-side comparison of methods allows the reader to see the multi dimensionality of writing facilitating selection of the best method for a particular research question The volume contributors are experts from linguistics communication studies rhetoric literary analysis document design sociolinguistics education ethnography and cultural psychology and each utilizes a specific mode of text analysis With its broad range of methodological examples What Writing Does and How It Does It is a unique and invaluable resource for advanced undergraduate and graduate students and for researchers in education composition ESL and applied linguistics communication L1 and L2 learning print media and electronic media It will also be useful in all social sciences and humanities that place importance on texts and textual practices such as English writing and rhetoric
