Virus Hunters Documentary:

Level 4: Virus Hunters of the CDC Joseph McCormick, M.D., Susan Fischer-Hoch, M.D., 2020-04-01 McCormick has been face to face with Ebola in Africa. He worked for days inside a mud hut that was smeared with Ebola blood on his knees among people who were crashing and bleeding out. Richard Preston The Hot Zone Now with a new foreword by the authors about the novel Coronavirus pandemic. Sublimely equipped to survive to propagate to conquer the virus is neither really alive nor really dead. Its dimensions are measured in molecules. It attacks by dismantling its human targets cell by cell. An ancient adversary resident on this earth long before our evolutionary ancestors arrived the virus is without conscience or compassion without mind. It enjoys the advantages of countless numbers and infinite time. It is a being almost too simple to understand and too basic to outwit. We are locked in a war with the virus. Each battle kills some of us. The battles have many names. Ebola. Lassa fever. Crimean Congo Hemorrhagic Fever. AIDS. Dr. Joseph McCormick and Dr. Susan Fischer-Hoch have met them all and they have fought them all. Level 4: Virus Hunters of the CDC is their story. It is an intense personal account of more than a quarter of a century on the front lines in the ultra high tech hot zone lab that McCormick was instrumental in creating at the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta as well as in the most primitive places on the planet where the local climate, terrain and politics can kill as easily as any disease. In the villages of Zaire and Sudan, the ghettos and rain forest of Brazil and the nomadic settlements of northern Pakistan, the cutting edge of science meets the deadly universe of viral disease. The elite corps of virus hunters who dare to penetrate these realms combine the unquenchable curiosity and raw guts of intrepid explorers with the training of top level scientists, the hunch, playing passion of master sleuths and the compassion of truly great physicians. Told in intimate detail by two of the world's best known virologists, colleagues, collaborators, husband and wife, Level 4 is a journey across the world and into many strange new worlds from the seductive beauty of equatorial Africa, a limitless reservoir of infection to the confines of the all but invisible field of the electron microscope. While other books have offered hot zones, sick monkeys and grim statistics, Level 4 brings home from the world of the virus the human stories of those who lived and those who died.

Cancer Virus Hunters Gregory J. Morgan, 2022-08-02. Traces the history of the study of tumor viruses and its role in driving breakthroughs in cancer research. Worldwide, approximately one fifth of human cancers are caused by tumor viruses, with hepatitis B virus and HPV being the leading culprits. While the explosive growth in molecular biology in the late twentieth century is well known, the role that the study of tumor viruses has played in driving many of the greatest breakthroughs is not. Without the insights gained by studying tumor viruses, many significant theoretical advancements over the last four decades in cellular and molecular biology would not have been made. More practically, the study of tumor viruses has saved thousands if not millions of lives. In Cancer Virus Hunters, Gregory J. Morgan traces the high points in the development of tumor virology from Peyton Rous's pioneering work on chicken tumors in 1909 to the successful development of an HPV vaccine for cervical cancer in 2006. Morgan offers a novel approach to understanding the interconnectedness of a long series of biomedical breakthroughs including those that led to seven Nobel prizes Among other advances Morgan describes and contextualizes the science that prompted the discoveries of reverse transcriptase RNA splicing the tumor suppressor p53 the vaccine for hepatitis B and the HIV test He also explores how cancer virus hunters have demonstrated the virtue of beginning with a simple system even when investigating a complex disease like cancer Based on extensive archival research and over fifty interviews with experts Cancer Virus Hunters is a tour de force summarizing a century of research to show how discoveries made with tumor viruses came to dominate the contemporary understanding of cancer By showcasing the scientists themselves the book makes for an unusually accessible journey through the history of science It will be of interest to biomedical professionals especially in oncology hepatology and infectious disease in addition to historians of science and anyone interested in cancer research

Virus Hunter C. J. Peters, Mark Olshaker, 1997 The commander of the army virology unit that battled the Ebola virus in The Hot Zone and the current Chief of Special Pathogens at the Centers for Disease Control teams up with the bestselling coauthor of MindHunter to chronicle his extraordinary thirty year career fighting deadly viruses From Central and South America to a deadly outbreak of a mystery virus in the American Southwest from fieldwork in Egypt and the mountains of Kenya to immobilizing an army unit to stop a gut wrenching outbreak of Ebola only miles from Washington D C Virus Hunter takes us backstage in the inevitable clash between biology and human lives Because of new emerging viruses and the return of old vanquished ones for which vaccines do not exist there remains a very real danger of a new epidemic that could without proper surveillance and early intervention spread worldwide virtually overnight And the possibility of foreign countries or terrorist groups using deadly airborne viruses that are easily obtained rather than unwieldy explosives looms larger than ever in the future High octane science writing at its most revealing and best Virus Hunter is a thrilling first person account of what it is like to be a warrior in the Hot Zone

Simon R. Troon, 2024-06-13 Cinematic Encounters with Disaster takes Hollywood's disaster movies and their codified versions of natural disaster, post-apocalyptic survival, and extra-terrestrial threat as the starting point for an analytical trajectory that works toward new understandings of how cinema shapes and informs our conceptions of disaster and catastrophe. It examines a range of films from distinct regional and industrial contexts: Hollywood indie movies, different kinds of documentaries from the US and elsewhere, and auteurist realist cinema from Europe and Asia. Moving across and beyond critical and industrial categories that often inform thinking about cinema, this book contends that different approaches to film style can push us to imagine disaster in distinct ways with distinct ethical connotations. Framed by contemporary concerns around the global climate crisis and the advent of the Anthropocene, questions about how films can best offer responses to historical exigency guide the book's explorations of spectacular 2010s blockbusters like Gravity (2013) and San Andreas (2015), environmental documentaries including the paradigmatic An Inconvenient Truth (2006), post-disaster films by auteurs including Abbas Kiarostami and Lav Diaz, and more. Conceiving of disaster as intersubjective ethics between humans and nonhuman alterity, forces of nature, errant technology, monsters, ghosts, and other entities, it analyses how formal techniques and narrative strategies render encounters in which human protagonists are confronted with the threat of death and respond in ways that can be instructive for our planet's present juncture.

Polio David M. Oshinsky, 2005-04-12 Here David Oshinsky tells the gripping story of the polio terror and of the intense effort to find a cure, from the March of Dimes to the discovery of the Salk and Sabin vaccines and beyond. Drawing on newly available papers of Jonas Salk, Albert Sabin, and other key players, Oshinsky paints a suspenseful portrait of the race for the cure, weaving a dramatic tale centered on the furious rivalry between Salk and Sabin. He also tells the story of Isabel Morgan, perhaps the most talented of all polio researchers who might have beaten Salk to the prize if she had not retired to raise a family. Oshinsky offers an insightful look at the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which was founded in the 1930s by FDR and Basil O'Connor; it revolutionized fundraising and the perception of disease in America. Oshinsky also shows how the polio experience revolutionized the way in which the government licensed and tested new drugs before allowing them on the market, and the way in which the legal system dealt with manufacturers' liability for unsafe products. Finally, and perhaps most tellingly, Oshinsky reveals that polio was never the raging epidemic portrayed by the media, but in truth, a relatively uncommon disease. But in baby-booming America, increasingly suburban, family-oriented, and hygiene-obsessed, the specter of polio, like the specter of the atomic bomb, soon became a cloud of terror over daily life. Both a gripping scientific suspense story and a provocative social and cultural history, Polio opens a fresh window onto postwar America.
