Experiencing God in Everything and Nothingness Annette Potgieter,Khegan M. Delport,2024-05-03 COVID 19 has impacted the way we see the world and the way we view spirituality in times of crisis people turn or return to religion or spirituality Most of the South African population identifies as Christian This brings to the fore what is meant by spirituality in a country crippled by the remains of apartheid structure rampant corruption poverty and various systemic problems Overall there is a lack of scholarship investigating spirituality and spirituality studies from the global South This book aims to bridge the gap New avenues are investigated of thinking about God in difficult circumstances as ideologies of hope and prosperity are reshaped This book links text and context spirituality and material culture self and society the analogue and the digital contemplation and action saying and unsaying in short the question of experiencing God in both everything and nothingness comes under the scope of this book

Inequality Studies from the Global South David Francis, Imraan Valodia, Edward Webster, 2020-05-04 This book offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach to thinking about inequality and to understanding how inequality is produced and reproduced in the global South Without the safety net of the various Northern welfare states inequality in the global South is not merely a socio economic problem but an existential threat to the social contract that underpins the democratic state and society itself Only a response that is firmly grounded in the context of the global South can hope to address this problem This collection brings together scholars from across the globe with a particular focus on the global South to address broad thematic areas such as the conceptual and methodological challenges of measuring inequality the political economy of inequality in the global South inequality in work households and the labour market and inequalities in land spaces and cities The book concludes by suggesting alternatives for addressing inequality in the global South and around the world The pioneering ideas and theories put forward by this volume make it essential reading for students and researchers of global inequality across the fields of sociology economics law politics global studies and development studies

eThekwiní's Green and Ecological Infrastructure Policy Landscape Richard Meissner, 2020-08-31 This book offers the reader a deeper understanding of the eThekwiní Metropolitan Municipality's green and ecological infrastructure policy landscape The author utilises the PULSE3 analytical framework to conduct an in depth examination and to show how experts frame and implement the municipality's green and ecological infrastructure strategies and projects Although the initial purpose of this book was to investigate the role of green and ecological infrastructures in eThekwiní's water security aspirations the author realised that climate change adaptation and mitigation play a more central role in motivating the municipality to develop and implement such science driven projects To be sure science that is informed by a positivist paradigm guides how where and when the municipality should develop green and ecological infrastructures Furthermore a positivistic stance is generated in this policy landscape where science and politics meet at a local government level and the book offers an insight into the science policy interface as well as the normative and value orientations that positivism often ignores The book also shows the usefulness of the PULSE3 framework and how it can assist scientists in all fields to gain a deeper understanding of the complications that are faced by humankind This book fills a market gap by providing a view of how scientists think about problems and how to solve them by using established paradigms and theories
