Dahl, 2025-08-19 Equip
 Strengthening smallholder livestock systems for the future a project that is at the feed the future innovation lab for livestock systems aims to improve livestock productivity by improving the supply of quality feed to dairy cows in Ethiopia and sheep and goats in Burkina Faso This is achieved through interconnected activities that involve inventory of feed resources using landscape analysis testing improving yield quality and preservation of forages determining and meeting nutrient requirement of local dairy and sheep and goat breeds improving the capacity to analyze nutritional value of livestock feed using NIRS ILRI and examining Effects of Synergizing Feed Management and Genetic Interventions on Milk Production and Health of Dairy Cows Project activities have been implemented since 2018 and most of the components have generated data or evidence that has mostly been analyzed and is now ready for publication In 2019 studies that mostly focus on forages have been published in special issue at the Agronomy journal The are other studies that have results but not yet published These include include agronomic testing of improved forages mainly from Ethiopia the use of improved forage or preserved forage to improve animal productivity estimating and testing nutrient requirement of local animal breeds The purpose of this proposed special issue is to share the results of the EQUIP FEED project with a wider academic research and development community and stakeholders that focus on improvement of animal productivity in developing countries Kenya Yearbook ,2011 The Blue Economy in Sub-Saharan Africa DONALD SPARKS, 2021-06-16 The blue economy comprising coastal and marine resources offers vast benefits for sub Saharan Africa of the 53 countries and territories in the region 32 are coastal states there are 13 million sq km of maritime zones more than 90% of the region s exports and imports come by sea and the African Union hails the blue economy as the new frontier of African renaissance Despite their importance the region s coastal and marine resources have been neither fully appreciated nor fully utilized They are only now being recognized as being key to Africa s potential prosperity As the region grows it has in general not taken adequate safeguards to protect these valuable resources That is partly because some of the problems pollution for example are regional and know no borders All too often short term gains are made at the expense of the long term overfishing for example This book provides for the first time a study of the constraints and opportunities the blue economy offers for sub Saharan Africa It includes an introduction and overview sectoral analyses including tourism fisheries mineral resources culture shipping and maritime safety country case studies and analyses of regional and international efforts towards better coastal zone and marine management Library & Information Science Abstracts ,1991 Urbanization and Development ,2016 The analysis of urban development of the past twenty years presented in this maiden edition of the World Cities Report shows with compelling evidence that there are new forms of collaboration and cooperation planning governance finance and learning that can sustain positive change The Report unequivocally demonstrates that the current urbanization model is unsustainable in many respects It conveys a clear message that the pattern of urbanization needs to change in order to better respond to the challenges of our time to address issues such as inequality climate change informality insecurity and the unsustainable forms of urban expansion Library Catalogue: Author catalogue University of London. Internationalization of the petroleum industry. Law and policy of energy and resources in Uganda's Host Government Contracting Herbert Abigaba,2014-11-10 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2014 in the subject Energy Sciences grade 90% University College London School of Energy and Natural Resources Management course Law and Policy of Energy and Natural Resources language English abstract This paper discusses the internationalization of the petroleum industry as witnessed within Uganda s petroleum legal and regulatory framework drawing heavily on the Host Government Contracts HGC The country is selected for a number of reasons First the framework relates strongly with the other countries across East Africa a region that is profoundly becoming a new petroleum frontier 1 Second Uganda s commercial oil discoveries realized in early 2006 have since increased to become the largest on shore oil reserves in the Sub Sahara Africa SSA over the last 20 years 2 Third this black gold potential has seen strong foreign interest especially over the last ten years with country now pitted to become a top 50 oil producer in the mid term if the development plan is achieved 3 As a result the country has witnessed legal regulatory and policy reforms strongly over the last ten years aimed at improved management of the nascent industry as shall be discussed The paper is structured as follows In the first section a chronological development of country s petroleum legal regulatory and policy framework is discussed Section two explains the HGC that has been employed in Uganda to manage its hydrocarbon resources In the third section internationalization of the industry as reflected in Uganda s framework is considered Although the focus is on host government contracting the interdependence with the public law framework that governs it is appreciated For this reason the discussion permeates beyond the HGCs to include this framework While it is adduced that internationalization within Uganda s legal system is apparent and still progressing the paper suggests that developing countries face some specific challenges In the last section these challenges are assessed along with recommendations to remediate them and entrench this narrative
