Reading the Short Story Anna Wing-bo Tso,Scarlett Lee,2019-10-31 Beginning with a brief history and evolution of the short story genre alongside an overview of the key short story writers and an explanatory chapter of literary criticism this book aims to give readers insight into the works by canonical British Irish and American authors including Edgar Allan Poe James Joyce Flannery O Connor and more Applying close reading skills and critical literary approaches to twelve selected short stories in English this work conducts comparative analyses to reveal the interrelationships between the texts the authors the readers and the sociocultural contexts Developed and tested in literature classes at university over several semesters this book addresses key issues topics and trends in the short story genre Reading Fiction in Antebellum America James L. Machor, 2011-04-01 James L Machor offers a sweeping exploration of how American fiction was received in both public and private spheres in the United States before the Civil War Machor takes four antebellum authors Edgar Allan Poe Herman Melville Catharine Sedgwick and Caroline Chesebro and analyzes how their works were published received and interpreted Drawing on discussions found in book reviews and in private letters and diaries Machor examines how middle class readers of the time engaged with contemporary fiction and how fiction reading evolved as an interpretative practice in nineteenth century America Through careful analysis Machor illuminates how the reading practices of nineteenth century Americans shaped not only the experiences of these writers at the time but also the way the writers were received in the twentieth century What Machor reveals is that these authors were received in ways strikingly different from how they are currently read thereby shedding significant light on their present status in the literary canon in comparison to their critical and popular positions in their own time Machor deftly combines response and reception criticism and theory with work in the history of reading to engage with groundbreaking scholarship in historical hermeneutics In so doing Machor takes us ever closer to understanding the particular and varying reading strategies of historical audiences and how they impacted authors' conceptions of their own readership The Tell Tale, 1940 Curriculum Mapping Kathy Tuchman Glass, 2006-12-07

Library of Congress, 1968 Remote Teaching and Learning in the Middle and High ELA Classroom Sean Ruday, Jennifer Cassidy, 2021-07-26 Teaching in remote distance and hybrid environments can be overwhelming and confusing and poses many challenges for novice and veteran teachers alike. This book guides teachers through the best practices of English language arts ELA instruction and helps them reflect on ways to apply those practices in remote learning and envision future instruction that draws from the most useful aspects of educational innovations. Understanding that remote teaching looks different in each subject, Ruday and Cassidy identify methods specifically designed for middle and high school ELA classrooms. Designed for use in remote, hybrid, and flex environments with synchronous or asynchronous learning, this resource gives teachers a toolbox of research-backed recommendations, ideas, examples, and practices for teaching in unpredictable and new environments. Ruday and Cassidy address essential topics including writing, grammar, and reading instruction, assessment, differentiation, culturally relevant teaching, family engagement, and communication technology.
