The Naval Institute Guide to Naval Writing, 4th Edition Christopher E Crane, Estate of Robert E Shenk, 2024-06-01
With updates to every chapter this new fourth edition serves as the premier guide to professional writing for the naval services. Authored by a naval officer who taught English at two service academies, the book is widely used by officers, enlisted men and women, and civilians in both the Navy and Marine Corps. Shenk provides sound practical advice on all common naval writing assignments across digital and print platforms. Fully revised, the book reflects the changing landscape of professional communication in general and changes in naval culture in the last decade across the fleet, making it an essential guide.

Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology David H. Jonassen, 2004
This edition of this handbook updates and expands its review of the research, theory, issues, and methodology that constitute the field of educational communications and technology. Organized into seven sectors, it profiles and integrates the following elements of this rapidly changing field: Resources in Education, 2000-10; Style Guide for Voting System Documentation Dana E. Chisnell, 2009-05. This style guide is a product of the voting system standards and test methods research at NIST. The most recent version of the tech standard, the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines of Aug 2007, contains requirements for the usability of documentation used by poll workers and election support staff. The approach to testing these requirements has two components: 1. Style guide incorporating best practices for voting system documentation; 2. Test protocol for voting system test labs to use to measure the usability of instructions supplied by voting system manufacturers for election workers. This style guide sets out guidelines for voting system manufacturers to use to implement best practices in their documentation for poll workers and election support staff. Technical Abstract Bulletin, NASA Technical Memorandum, 1981.

e-Negotiations Nicholas Harkiolakis, Daphne Halkias, 2016-04-29
Practical negotiating skills, including those needed for cross-cultural negotiations, have long been taught in classrooms along with some of the theory that underpins them. Most of this has been based on the notion that negotiation will be interpersonal and face-to-face. In recent years, though, globalization, the telecommunications boom, and the ever-increasing need for today's professionals to conduct cross-cultural business transactions has led to a new way of negotiating, bargaining, and resolving disputes. In e-Negotiations, Nicholas Harkiolakis and his co-authors highlight the challenge that awaits the young professionals who are today training in business schools. Future dispute resolutions and bargaining will take place between faceless disputants involved in a new kind of social process. Any adolescent with a mobile phone and Internet access knows that most of today's social transactions take place via a hand-held or other electronic device. In a world of video conferences, chat rooms, Skype, Facebook, and MySpace, critical financial, business, and political decisions are made through interaction between two-dimensional characters on screens. Here, the authors compare and contrast e-negotiation as it currently is with traditional face-to-face negotiation. Case studies illustrate how cross-cultural negotiations can be managed through modern channels of social influence and information.

sharing and shed light on the critical social cognitive and behavioral role of the negotiator in resolving on line cross cultural conflicts and disputes and generally in bargaining and negotiation This book with its practical exercises will be of immense help to students and professionals needing to practice with the new negotiating media Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1987 Lists citations with abstracts for aerospace related reports obtained from world wide sources and announces documents that have recently been entered into the NASA Scientific and Technical Information Database Scientific and Technical Information Resources Subramanyam,1981-03-01 This book focuses on current practices in scientific and technical communication historical aspects and characteristics and biblio graphic control of various forms of scientific and technical literature It integrates the inventory approach for scientific and technical communication Human Centered Design Masaaki Kurosu,2009-07-14 The 13th International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCI Inter tional 2009 was held in San Diego California USA July 19 24 2009 jointly with the Symposium on Human Interface Japan 2009 the 8th International Conference on Engineering Psychology and Cognitive Ergonomics the 5th International Conference on Universal Access in Human Computer Interaction the Third International Conf ence on Virtual and Mixed Reality the Third International Conference on Internati alization Design and Global Development the Third International Conference on Online Communities and Social Computing the 5th International Conference on Augmented Cognition the Second International Conference on Digital Human Mod ing and the First International Conference on Human Centered Design A total of 4 348 individuals from academia research institutes industry and gove mental agencies from 73 countries submitted contributions and 1 397 papers that were judged to be of high scientific quality were included in the program These papers dress the latest research and development efforts and highlight the human aspects of the design and use of computing systems The papers accepted for presentation thoroughly cover the entire field of human computer interaction addressing major advances in knowledge and effective use of computers in a variety of application areas User Experience Research and Usability of Health Information Technology Jessica Lynn Campbell,2024-02-02 Health information technology HIT is a critical component of the modern healthcare system Yet to be effective and safely implemented in healthcare organizations and physicians and patients lives it must be usable and useful User Experience UX research is required throughout the full system design lifecycle of HIT products which involve a user centered and human centered approach This book discusses UX research frameworks study designs methods data analysis techniques and a variety of data collection instruments and tools that can be used to conduct UX research in the healthcare space all of which involve HIT and digital health This book is for academics and scholars to be used to design studies for graduate dissertation work in independent research or as a textbook for UX usability courses in health informatics or related health information and communication courses This book is also useful for UX practitioners because it provides guidance on how to design a user research or usability study and focuses on leveraging a mixed methods approach including step by step by instructions and best practices for conducting Field studies Interviews
