

The poster features three faces, likely the main characters, arranged in a circular composition. The faces are rendered in a dark, textured, almost stone-like material, with a warm, orange-gold light emanating from the center, highlighting their features. The background is dark and moody.

Whistling Pops Kenny Lord, 2014-09-30 I took the words from the valleys and streams I took my inspiration from Journeys and dreams Songs for the Sanctuary, 1873 Angela's Ashes Frank McCourt, 1998-12-17 A Pulitzer Prize winning 1 New York Times bestseller Angela's Ashes is Frank McCourt's masterful memoir of his childhood in Ireland now with a new introduction by Patrick Radden Keefe When I look back on my childhood I wonder how I managed to survive at all It was of course a miserable childhood the happy childhood is hardly worth your while Worse than the ordinary miserable childhood is the miserable Irish childhood and worse yet is the miserable Irish Catholic childhood So begins the luminous memoir of Frank McCourt born in Depression era Brooklyn to recent Irish immigrants and raised in the slums of Limerick Ireland Frank's mother Angela has no money to feed the children since Frank's father Malachy rarely works and when he does he drinks his wages Yet Malachy exasperating irresponsible and beguiling does nurture in Frank an appetite for the one thing he can provide a story Frank lives for his father's tales of Cuchulain who saved Ireland and of the Angel on the Seventh Step who brings his mother babies Perhaps it is story that accounts for Frank's survival Wearing rags for diapers begging a pig's head for Christmas dinner and gathering coal from the roadside to light a fire Frank endures poverty near starvation and the casual cruelty of relatives and neighbors yet lives to tell his tale with eloquence exuberance and remarkable forgiveness Angela's Ashes imbued on every page with Frank McCourt's astounding humor and compassion is a glorious book that bears all the marks of a classic Producing Spoilers Joyce Dalsheim, 2014-07-01 Supporters of Hamas and radical religious Israeli settlers seem to serve one purpose in the international peace process to provide an excuse for its failure High level diplomatic negotiators and grassroots peace activists alike blame religious extremists for acting as spoilers of rational negotiation and have often attempted to neutralize co opt or marginalize them In Producing Spoilers Joyce Dalsheim explores the problem of stalled peacemaking by viewing spoilers not as the cause but as a symptom of systemic malfunctions within the concept of the nation state itself and the secular constructs of historicism that support it She argues that spoilers are generated as internal enemies in the course of conflict and used to explain why processes of peace and reconciliation fail In other words peacemaking efforts can work to produce enmity Focusing on the case of Israel and Palestine Dalsheim shows how processes of conflict resolution diplomacy dialogue education and social theorizing about liberation peace and social justice actually participate in constructing enemies thus limiting the options for peaceful outcomes Dalsheim examines the work of politicians and diplomats as well as scholars and grass roots level peacemakers drawing on her research and her own experience as an activist for peace She identifies a number of common techniques and assumptions that help to produce spoilers among them the constraints of the narrative form and how storytelling is employed in conflict resolution and the idea of anachronism which prevents theorists and activists from seeing creative possibilities for peaceful coexistence Dalsheim also looks at the limits of territorial solutions and the consequences of nationalism the context in which spoilers of the Israeli Palestinian conflict are produced She contrasts that nationalism with current theorizing on flexible citizenship and diasporic identity The book culminates by moving beyond national enmity and outside conventional peacemaking to clear a space in which to think about alternative forms of negotiation exchange community and coexistence The Year's Best Science Fiction: Twenty-Second Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2005-07-01

Widely regarded as the one essential book for every science fiction fan The Year s Best Science Fiction Winner of the 2004 Locus Award for Best Anthology continues to uphold its standard of excellence with more than two dozen stories representing the previous year s best SF writing The stories in this collection imaginatively take readers far across the universe into the very core of their beings to the realm of the Gods and to the moment just after now Included are the works of masters of the form and the bright new talents of tomorrow This book is a valuable resource in addition to serving as the single best place in the universe to find stories that stir the imagination and the heart Jara's Fate Judith Anne Closs, 2011-04-14
