Go Be a Writer! Candace R. Kuby,Tara Gutshall Rucker,2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom examining literacy based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio Focusing on literacy processes the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra actions with human and nonhuman materials Because these theories emphasize the unplanned nonlinear aspects of literacy the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra actions they allow for more authentic learning

Power Up Your Read-Alouds Andrea Paganelli,2019-07-16 Capture the hearts minds and attention of your digital age listeners using read aloud experiences that engage technology I wish my learners would be as excited about reading as they are about technology is a lament frequently sung by those who seek to support reading development There is no debate that reading is fundamental and that reading aloud strongly supports lifelong reading engagement Technology however is ubiquitous in our society and engagement with it is essential for our success Reading and technology are therefore in competition for learners attention but by combining reading and technology through use of read aloud facilitators can create engaging digital read aloud programs to enhance the learning experience Digital read aloud can be used with multiple age groups in a variety of settings and with differing degrees of expense and technology complexity Understanding that these myriad options can be overwhelming however Andrea Paganelli offers detailed information on the background implementation evaluation and sustainability of technology infused read aloud for reading support persons school librarians public librarians instructional librarians teachers and professors Her ideas span multiple ages and subjects and include practical examples designed to engage both educators and readers How Do I Get Them to Write? Karen Filewych,2017-05-15 This remarkable book shows teachers how to inspire students to learn to write and write to learn Committed to the premise that all students can learn to write with appropriate teaching modelling and practice it argues that reading and writing go hand in hand Through reading writing and the inevitable discussions that follow students learn from the experiences of others open their minds to many possibilities gain a glimpse into new worlds make connections to their lives and reflect on their own choices and learning This practical book shows you how to use freewriting and powerful mentor texts to create classrooms where students enjoy putting pencil to paper and taking the necessary risks to grow and flourish as writers

Evaluating ALL Teachers of English Learners and Students With Disabilities Diane Staehr Fenner, Peter Kozik, Ayanna Cooper, 2015-03-04 Teacher evaluation can be a valuable tool for evaluators and teachers alike But it should never be used in a one size fits all manner especially when evaluating all teachers who work with the nation s growing numbers of English learners ELs and students with disabilities Just as these diverse students needs require nuanced teaching methods the evaluations of all teachers who work with these students require unique considerations. Such considerations are precisely what you will learn in this comprehensive action-oriented book. Drawing on a focused array of authoritative research on supporting the success of ELs and students with disabilities, case studies, and action plans, the authors detail four principles for inclusive teacher evaluation of diverse learners that are compatible with the Danielson and Marzano frameworks. Sample specialized look-fors that evaluators can use and adapt to recognize effective teaching of ELs and students with disabilities. Strategies for coaching teachers of ELs and students with disabilities who need more support reaching these learners. Teaching ELs and students with disabilities can be one of the most challenging experiences in an educator's career and also one of the most rewarding if educators have the tools they need. With this book, the first of its kind, your school can become a leader in the field by taking part in conversations that center on equitable teaching of diverse learners as well as valid evaluation of those who serve them in classrooms. Staehr Fenner, Kozik, and Cooper provide a framework for rich instructional conversations that moves teacher evaluation from the blame game to a collaborative and informative process that empowers teaching effectiveness and student learning. Spencer Salend, Emeritus Professor of Educational Studies, State University of New York at New Paltz. In this book, the authors successfully outline an objective assessment framework that builds educators' individual and collective capacity to improve their practice not only with ELs but with all their students. A must-read for teachers and evaluators alike. Rosa Aronson, Executive Director, TESOL International Association.
