Freeman,2001 In this provocative new book the first one to examine print and broadcast news coverage of women s issues in English Canada Barbara Freeman explores what the media were saying about women and their concerns during an important period in our history and why The Satellite Sex is both a social history and a media case study of the years 1966 1971 when the feminist movement began once more to gather support Women wanted equal treatment under the law and they wanted rights they had not gained when they won the vote many years earlier In response the Canadian government appointed a federal inquiry on the status of women and hundreds of women came forward to talk to the Commission about the injustices they experienced at school at work in public life in their homes and even in their bedrooms The Satellite Sex demonstrates that the print and broadcast media coverage of women s issues at that time were much more complex and fragmented than revealed by research in the United States on the same era This book released thirty years after the Canadian Commission presented its report also raises questions about the lack of strong feminist voices in today s news media Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1900 American Duroc-Jersey Record American Duroc-Jersey Swine Breeders' Association,1923 Mapping in Architectural Discourse Marc Schoonderbeek,2021-11-29 This book explores the notion of mapping in architectural discourse First locating positioning and theorizing mapping it then makes explicit the relationship between research and design in architecture through cartography and spatial analysis It proposes three distinct modalities tool operation and concept showing how these methods lead to discursive aspects of architectural work and highlighting mapping as an instrument in developing architectural form It emphasizes the importance of place and time as fundamental terms with which to understand the role of mapping An investigation into architectural discourse this book will appeal to academics and researchers within the discipline with a particular interest in theory history

Secretary of the Commonwealth,1908 Anatomy of Victory John D. Caldwell,2018-11-09 This groundbreaking book provides the first systematic comparison of America s modern wars and why they were won or lost John D Caldwell uses the World War II victory as the historical benchmark for evaluating the success and failure of later conflicts Unlike WWII the Korean Vietnam and Iraqi Wars were limited but they required enormous national commitments produced no lasting victories and generated bitter political controversies Caldwell comprehensively examines these four wars through the lens of a strategic architecture to explain how and why their outcomes were so dramatically different He defines a strategic architecture as an interlinked set of continually evolving policies strategies and operations by which combatant states work toward a desired end Policy defines the high level goals a nation seeks to achieve once it initiates a conflict or finds itself drawn into one Policy makers direct a broad course of action and strive to control the initiative When they make decisions they have to respond to unforeseen conditions to guide and determine future decisions Effective leaders are skilled at organizing constituencies they need to succeed and communicating to them convincingly Strategy means employing whatever resources are available to achieve policy goals in situations that are dynamic as conflicts change quickly over time Operations are the actions that occur when politicians soldiers and diplomats execute plans A strategic architecture Caldwell argues is thus not a static blueprint but a dynamic vision of how a state can succeed or fail in a conflict
