Glider Flight Instructor Manual Francesco Daniele Padovano,2022-09-16 For decades and in the interests of greater flight safety Competence criteria have been introduced in professional training The results obtained in professional aviation are indisputable and the proposed new paradigm aims to increase the pilot s ability to resolve in particular unfamiliar situations There is no doubt that during soaring the conditions faced are as a general rule highly variable which requires the pilot to be highly adaptable However even though this flying technique is the one that requires the most resilience there is no single criterion in the development of training that would lead the future pilot to develop the necessary skills nor is there a single evaluation criterion that would determine a common standard From my experience in professional teaching in organisations such as CAE the experience as an EASA inspector and my own experience as a gliding instructor I wanted to propose a new way of teaching and above all of assessing a future glider pilot with COMPETENCE criteria in which the elements of CRM and TEM are always present together with the application of KSA In this text I hope that gliding instructors will find a tool for teaching their classes and a greater standardisation as a guide to develop their own Competence Based Training and assessment adapted at the local conditions and gliders The future is not white or black but an infinite scale of greys where different solution could be proposed successfully By this the list of mission proposed is my personal view adapted to my programs but it not pretends to be an absolute criterion Hope you will enjoy Happy landings

The volume provides a rounded, accessible collection of work on the nature and significance of materiality in early modern Europe, a term that embraces a vast range of objects as well as addressing a wide variety of human interactions with their physical environments. This stimulating view of materiality is distinctive in asking questions about the whole material world as a context for lived experience and the book considers material interactions at all social levels. There are 27 chapters by leading experts as well as 13 feature object studies to highlight specific items that have survived from this period, defined broadly as c. 1500–c. 1800. These contributions explore the things people acquired, owned, treasured, displayed and discarded; the spaces in which people used and thought about things; the social relationships which cluster around goods between producers, vendors and consumers of various kinds; and the way knowledge travels around those circuits of connection. The content also engages with wider issues such as the relationship between public and private life, the changing connections between the sacred and the profane or the effects of gender and
