The Land Of Green Plums:

The Land of Green Plums Herta Müller, 1998 Mueller takes an unflinching look at the alienation and complexity of a rapidly changing Eastern Europe focusing on a group of young friends in Ceausescu's Romania The Land of Green Plums by Herta Müller Gillian Bouras, Herta Müller, 2001 The Land of Green Plums Herta Müller, 1996-11-15 In Romania at the height of Ceausescu's reign several young people leave the impoverished provinces for the city in search of better prospects but they must face betrayal suicide and the reality that even the strongest must bend to the oppressors or

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2010-09-29 Types and stereotypes is the fourth and last volume of a path breaking multinational literary history that incorporates innovative features relevant to the writing of literary history in general Instead of offering a traditional chronological narrative of the period 1800-1989 the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe approaches the region's literatures from five complementary angles focusing on literature's participation in and reaction to key political events literary periods and genres the literatures of cities and sub regions literary institutions and figures of representation The main objective of the project is to challenge the self enclosure of national literatures in traditional literary histories to contextualize them in a regional perspective and to recover individual works writers and minority literatures that national histories have marginalized or ignored Types and stereotypes brings together articles that rethink the figures of National Poets figurations of the Family Women Outlaws and Others as well as figures of Trauma and Mediation As in the previous three volumes the historical and imaginary figures discussed here constantly change and readjust to new political and social conditions An Epilogue complements the basic history focusing on the contradictory transformations of East Central European literary cultures after 1989 This volume will be of interest to the region's literary historians to students and teachers of comparative literature to cultural historians and to the general public interested in exploring the literatures of a rich and resourceful cultural region

The Exile and Return of Writers from East-Central Europe John Neubauer, Borbála Zsuzsanna Török, 2009 Main description This first comparative study of writers who fled from both the Nazi and Communist dictatorships in East Central Europe includes interpretations of individual trajectories literary works and exile literary cultures A historical and theoretical introduction provides an overview of the events and studies exile cultures from Paris London and New York to Moscow Toronto and Buenos Aires Interpretations of select writers are complemented by studies of the main exile journals publishers and associations Special attention is devoted to the problems of homecoming Post-Multicultural Writers as Neo-cosmopolitan Mediators Sneja Gunew, 2017-02-01 Post Multicultural Writers as Neo Cosmopolitan Mediators argues the need to move beyond the monolingual paradigm within Anglophone literary studies Using Lyotard's concept of post as the future anterior back to the future this book sets up a concept of post multiculturalism salvaging the elements within multiculturalism that have been forgotten in its contemporary denigration Gunew attaches this discussion to debates in neo cosmopolitanism over the last decade creating a framework for re evaluating post multicultural and Indigenous writers in settler colonies such as Canada and Australia She links these writers with transnational writers across diasporas from Eastern Europe South East Asia China and India to construct a new framework for literary and cultural studies After Cosmopolitanism Rosi Braidotti, Patrick Hanafin, Bolette Blaagaard, 2013 At a time when social and political reality seems to move away from the practice of cosmopolitanism whilst being in serious need of a new international framework to regulate global interaction what are the new definitions and practices of cosmopolitanism Including contributions from leading figures across the humanities and social sciences After Cosmopolitanism takes up this question as its central challenge Its core argument is the idea that our globalised condition forms the heart of contemporary cosmopolitan claims which do not refer to a transcendental ideal but are rather immanent to the material conditions of global interdependence But to what extent do emerging definitions of cosmopolitanism contribute to new representative democratic models of governance The present volume argues that a radical transformation of cosmopolitanism is already ongoing and that more effort is needed to take stock of transformations which are both necessary and possible To this end After Cosmopolitanism calls for an understanding of cosmopolitanism that is more attentive to the material reality of our social and political situation and less focused on linguistic analyses of its metaphorical implications It is the call for a cosmopolitanism that is also a cosmopolitics

Women's Narratives and the Postmemory of Displacement in Central and Eastern Europe Simona Mitroiu, 2018-10-15 This volume explores the different mechanisms and forms of expression used by women to come to terms with the past focusing on the variety and complexity of women's narratives of displacement within the context of Central and Eastern Europe The first part addresses the quest for personal post memory from the perspective of the second and third generations The touching collaboration established in reconstructing individual and family post memories offers invaluable insights into the effects of displacement coping mechanisms and resilience Adopting the idea that the text itself becomes a site of post memory the second part of the volume brings into discussion different sites and develops further this topic in relation to the creative process and visual text The last part questions the past in relation to trauma and identity displacement in the countries where abusive regimes destroyed social bonds and had a lasting impact on the people's lives Russian Life, 1997

Włodzimierz Borodziej, Ferenc Laczó, Joachim von Puttkamer, 2020-08-02 Intellectual Horizons offers a pioneering transnational and comparative treatment of key thematic areas in the intellectual and cultural history of Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century For most of the twentieth century Central and Eastern European ideas and cultures constituted an integral part of wider European trends However the intellectual and cultural history of this diverse region has rarely been incorporated sufficiently into nominally comprehensive histories of Europe This volume redresses this underrepresentation and provides a more balanced perspective on the recent past of the continent through original critical overviews of themes ranging from the social and conceptual history of intellectuals and histories of political thought and historiography to literary visual and religious cultures to perceptions and representations of the region in the twentieth century While structured thematically individual contributions are organized chronologically They emphasize where relevant generational experiences agendas and accomplishments while taking into account the sharp ruptures that characterize the period The third in a four volume set on Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century it is the go to resource for understanding the intellectual and cultural history of this dynamic region
