The Lonesome Dreamer English Edition:

A Cycle of the West, Bison Classic Annotated Edition John G. Neihardt, A Cycle of the West rewards its readers with a sweeping saga of the American West and John G. Neihardt's exhilarating vision of frontier history Poets and Dreamers: Studies and translations from the Irish Lady Gregory, 2022-09-16 In Poets and Dreamers: Studies and Translations from the Irish Lady Gregory presents a rich tapestry of Irish literature and folklore showcasing her deep engagement with the cultural and linguistic heritage of Ireland. This collection weaves together her insightful analyses and poetic translations of ancient Irish texts illuminating the spiritual and mythical dimensions of Irish identity. The literary style embodies both lyrical beauty and scholarly rigor enhancing the reader's understanding of Ireland's literary traditions during the early 20th century a period marked by a resurgence of interest in Celtic culture and literature amid the broader Gaelic revival. Lady Gregory 1852-1932 was a pivotal figure in the Irish literary renaissance co-founder of the Abbey Theatre and an ardent advocate for Irish cultural identity. Her extensive engagement with folklore and mythology stemming from her own Irish heritage significantly influenced her work. Gregory's passion for preserving and reviving Irish stories and heritage prompted her to delve into the versatility of Irish poetic expression as she meticulously translated and studied the works that shaped her literary landscape. Poets and Dreamers is an essential read for anyone interested in Irish culture literature and the evolution of national identity. Gregory's evocative translations and insightful studies not only celebrate the richness of Irish poetic tradition but also invite readers to explore the profound connections between dreams history and poetry in Ireland. This book is a remarkable contribution that deserves a place on the shelf of every literary enthusiast Catalog of Copyright Entries, 1945

Western Medical Review, 1911 Cultural identity in the East African novel Regina Hartmann, 2014-04-11

Inhaltsangabe Introduction As the Black African writers have taught us we must dance our word for in human speech as in dance lies an offering to speak and to write is also to offer oneself to the other it is to be reborn together This quotation by M Rombaut locates African literature close to the performing arts According to his statement African literature seems to transcend the conventional European conception of writing which is conceiving literature as something planned and permanent The idea of a literary performance in African writing places the author much closer to the story teller who is dependent on his audience and trying to keep in touch with them By processing their feelings in his performance he gives expression to a common consciousness In contrast to the Western author who often wants to stand apart from his society African authors tend to aim their participation in the formation of a shared identity This paper tries to find out how authors from the framework of East Africa conceive of cultural identity Basically I will proceed in two steps part A is dedicated to the development of a pattern within which the complex issue of identity can be adequately discussed in an East African context In Part B I will then apply this discussion scheme to three novels which as I will explain are representative for East African writing in far as this term is justified Part A starts off from some basic observations about identity on the foundation of which I want to deduce the structure of my analysis I will argue that identity is based on one's observation of the environment and on the influence of outsiders All this is to some extent true for two concepts individual and cultural identity The latter develops when a group of individuals feels or is ascribed a common bond apt to correspond to several individual self concepts These individuals may then share a feeling of home which can act as a physical but also mental commitment Departing from these ideas I will show that four issues might be interesting in dealing with cultural identity which can be expressed by some central questions 1 Identity imposed and adopted In how far can others influence our identity 2 Identity rediscovered and reinvented To what extent does our history work on identity 3 Identity displaced How does our feeling of physical or mental bond to a physical or mental space I will call home work on identity 4 Identity integrated How Searching for the Postmark Jeff Donovan, 2003 Can one place help two people come to terms with the past and can a series of long distance letters provide the basis for a future Reaching out into Lake Michigan the slender peninsula of Door County Wisconsin is a place of idyllic beauty and rustic charm of sailboats and sunsets dormant cherry orchards and dry docked wooden fishing boats It is a place Brian Bailey loves and tries to escape to But the quaint tourist towns quiet back roads and weathered gray barns offer little respite from his memories Memories never known bring Colleen O Connell from Arizona to The Door in search of the places her brother held dear Hoping to find remembrance in a place she s never been she finds instead an old farmhouse perched atop a hill The story of two people brought together by the very distance that separates them Searching for the Postmark asks difficult and uniquely human questions about what it means to live love and die and how the fellowship of family helps us find meaning in the fleeting nature of our existence From the remembrance and longing of autumn to the excitement and hope of spring Brian and Colleen s journey through the seasons tells a story of holding on and letting go of memories kept and created of letters sent and unsent A beautifully descriptive and deeply introspective testament to the power of people and place Searching for the Postmark is a summer read that will stay with you into fall and winter What I hope to have written writes author Jeff Donovan is a book that in addition to telling a nice story will also give the reader pause to think and reflect on the death of a loved one and on that from which we draw meaning in our lives A thought provoking love story about accepting the loss of a loved one Searching for the Postmark will appeal to anyone who finds special meaning in the dream of Door County and have meaning for anyone who has lost a special loved one Russell
