Transport, Climate Change and the City Robin Hickman, David Banister, 2014-02-05 Sustainable mobility has long been sought after in cities around the world particularly in industrialised countries but also increasingly in the emerging cities in Asia Progress however appears difficult to make as the private car still largely fuelled by petrol or diesel remains the mainstream mode of use Transport is the key sector where carbon dioxide CO2 emissions seem difficult to reduce Transport Climate Change and the City seeks to develop achievable and low transport CO2 emission futures in a range of international case studies including in London Oxfordshire Delhi Jinan and Auckland The aim is that the scenarios as developed and the consideration of implementation and governance issues can help us plan for and achieve attractive future travel behaviours at the city level The alternative is to continue with only incremental progress against CO2 reduction targets to sleepwalk into climate change difficulties oil scarcity a poor quality of life and to continue with the high traffic casualty figures The topic is thus critical with transport viewed as central to the achievement of the sustainable city and reduced CO2 emissions

Resistance and the City, 2018-07-17 The contributions collected in the second volume of Resistance and the City are devoted to the three markers of identity that cultural studies has recognised as paramount for our understanding of difference inequality and solidarity in modern societies race class and gender These categories tightly linked to the mechanics of power domination and subordination have often played an eminent role in contemporary struggles and clashes in urban space The confluence of people from diverse ethnic social and sexual backgrounds in the city has not only raised their awareness of a variety of life concepts and motivated them to negotiate their own positions but has also encouraged them to develop strategies of resistance against patterns of social and spatial exclusion Contributors Oliver von Knebel Doeberitz Barbara Korte Anna Lienen Gill Plain Frank Erik Pointner Katrin R der Ingrid von Rosenberg Mark Schmitt Ralf Schneider Christoph Singer Sabine Smith Merle T nnies Ger Zielinski

City Logistics 2 Eiichi Taniguchi, Russell G. Thompson, 2018-05-24 This volume of three books presents recent advances in modelling planning and evaluating city logistics for sustainable and liveable cities based on the application of ICT Information and Communication Technology and ITS Intelligent Transport Systems It highlights modelling the behaviour of stakeholders who are involved in city logistics as well as planning and managing policy measures of city logistics including cooperative freight transport systems in public private partnerships Case studies of implementing and evaluating city logistics measures in terms of economic social and environmental benefits from major cities around the world are also given
