I Know Best Roger L. Simon, 2016-06-14 In 1979 Christopher Lasch published the epochal The Culture of Narcissism warning of the normalizing of narcissism in our society Lasch may have understated it 35 years later in the Obama era with its parade of endless often inexplicable scandals we have a full blown epidemic of what has recently been called Moral Narcissism Forget Narcissus and his reflection Moral Narcissism the almost schizophrenic divide between intentions and results now pervading our culture is the new method for feeling good about yourself It no longer matters how anything turns out as long as your intentions were good that you were moral And just as importantly the only determinant of those intentions the only one who defines that morality is you I Know Best goes beyond Lasch to lay bare how this moral narcissism is behind all those scandals from Obamacare to the Veterans Administration to the IRS Benghazi Bergdahl Syria and beyond Everything the Obama administration did and does was about making them feel good about themselves the results be damned And they have as their allies those supreme moral narcissists in the academy media and Hollywood ever willing to ratify those good intentions and ignore those same results But I Know Best is not just about the Left Moral Narcissism affects the right as well even when they don't realize it It is a true epidemic that must be cured in order to save our democratic republic and our futures

Cool Nations Katja Valaskivi, 2016-04-14 Nation branding is the most recent feature of imagined nation making in the history of nations Facing global competition national decision makers aim to distinguish their countries from others by means of branding Quite a few nations have considered the term cool suitable for describing some essence of their country's brand Cool Nations Media and the Social Imaginary of the Branded Country traces the mediated ways in which the transnational idea of cool has circulated from popular culture fashion and marketing into describing nations The book explores the commodification of the nation the shift to a promotional political culture and the role of media in contributing to the circulation of the idea of the Cool Nation The social imaginary of nation branding takes its theory and practices from marketing unlike earlier imaginations based on ideas of democracy or citizenship Cool Nations argues that cool is one of the vehicles through which the commodification of nations takes place

Black Families and Recession in the United States Dorothy Smith-Ruiz, Albert M. Kopak, 2021-03-30 Black Families and the Recession in the United States goes beyond the massive loss of property among African Americans during the Great Recession of 2007-2009 It connects the housing experience to broader systems of inequality in America Following the Great Recession of 2007-2009 the US elections of 2008 the impact of COVID-19 and widespread demonstrations resulting from the murder of George Floyd by police the sociopolitical and economic status of Blacks in the United States is at a critical point in history with demand for major transformation The authors reveal a history of racist practices against Blacks in many systems including education policing incarceration wealth transmission voting restrictions and housing segregation The social costs of the recession are manifested in the daily lives of African American families In addition to financial losses African Americans are more likely to be plagued with issues related to poverty chronic illnesses and lack of trust of social and economic institutions Research policy and practical implications of this research include identifying social and economic supports unique to African Americans and determining strategies to strengthen families paramount to addressing racial disparities The interdisciplinary focus of this book appeals to a wide audience and areas of study The Great Uprising Peter B. Levy,2018-01-25 Offers a rich description of the impact of the 1960s race riots in the United States whose legacy still haunts the nation The Great Sports Documentaries Michael Peters,2018-01-16 Sports and competition have been film subjects since the dawn of the medium Olympic sports documentaries have been around nearly as long as the games themselves films about surfing boxing roller derby motorcycle racing and bodybuilding were theatrical successes during the 1960s and 1970s The author surveys the history of the sports documentary subgenre covering more than 100 award winning films of 40 different competitions from traditional team sports to dogsled racing to ballroom dancing Remembering the Great War in the Middle East Hans-Lukas Kieser,Thomas Schmutz,Pearl Nunn,2021-10-07 This book addresses the conflicts myths and memories that grew out of the Great War in Ottoman Turkey and their legacies in society and politics It is the third volume in a series dedicated to the combined analysis of the Ottoman Great War and the Armenian Genocide In Australia and New Zealand and even more in the post Ottoman Middle East the memory of the First World War still has an immediacy that it has long lost in Europe For the post Ottoman regions the first of the two World Wars which ended Ottoman rule was the formative experience This volume analyses this complex configuration why these entanglements became possible how shared or even contradictory memories have been constructed over the past hundred years and how differing historiographies have developed Remembering the Great War in the Middle East reaches towards a new conceptualization of the long last Ottoman decade 1912-22 one that places this era and its actors more firmly at the center instead of on the periphery of a history of a Greater Europe a history comprising as contemporary maps did Europe Russia and the Ottoman world China's Quest for Great Power Bernard D Cole,2016-09-15 This book examines China's national security strategy by looking at the three major elements foreign policy energy security and naval power all interactive and major influences on China's future and its relations with the United States A decade and a half into the twenty first century Beijing requires reliable access to energy resources the navy to defend that access and foreign policies to navigate safely toward its goals Most importantly the People's Liberation Army Navy PLAN must be able to safeguard China's regional maritime interests especially the sovereignty disputes involving Taiwan and the Yellow East China and South China Seas Many Chinese naval officers and analysts think the United States is determined to contain China and prevent it from achieving the dominant historical position to which it is entitled This view has been strengthened by Washington's shift to Asia transfer of naval units to the Pacific and the March 2015 Maritime Strategy released by the U S Navy Marine Corps and Coast Guard China's relationship with the United States is vital to both countries and to the world The relationship is based on both common and divergent interests in economics military operations and political goals and methods China's international trading economy and ambition for a world class navy require effective foreign diplomacy and participation in global affairs This policy trifecta in large part defines China's posture to the world Beijing is approximately halfway toward its mid century goal of deploying a navy capable of defending China's perceived maritime interests China's priorities follow President Xi Jinping's definition of national security as comprehensive encompassing politics the military the economy technology the environment and culture What this means for future Chinese foreign policy choices as naval modernization and energy security concerns enable different courses of action lies at the center of this book's conclusions

Attempt Great Things for God Chloe T. Sun, 2020-11-17 Celebrating the contributions of the ethnic seminary in America While the narrative of decline haunts churches and seminaries in the United States there is great hope to be found in the explosive growth of Christian populations in Latin America Africa and Asia In light of this much can be learned from points of intersection between the minority and majority worlds such as Logos Evangelical Seminary an ATS accredited Chinese language seminary in California the first in the US Chloe Sun makes the case here for why an ethnic seminary like Logos has much to teach us about the evolving possibilities for theological education in a society of cultural exchange with many populations living in diaspora Sun a professor of Old Testament at Logos has herself been formed by an array of cultural influences She was raised by Chinese parents who were born in Vietnam she grew up hearing multiple languages and she has lived in China Hong Kong and the United States With this unique background she recognizes and extols the richness of pluralism recognizing in it the work of God akin to the diversity instantiated at the biblical Pentecost event The title of this book comes from Logos's motto Attempt great things for God rescue millions of souls In this spirit Sun's vision is one of both humility and ambition which begins by honoring the particularity of a person or group of people and then moves outward to the universal all inclusive movement of the Holy Spirit

2016: the Campaign Chronicles JD Foster, 2019-10-08 The 2016 campaign ended with Donald J Trump as president elect of the United States astounding just about everyone More than two dozen candidates had vied for the two parties nominations leaving Trump and former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton Her flaws standing in rough proportion to her strengths Clinton had been the presumed Democratic nominee though Bernie Sanders had nearly upended her run In contrast Trump's capturing the Republican nomination seemed preposterous before and after the fact The campaign overall was far more than the result It was a long tumultuous outrageous frolic of American politics The Campaign Chronicles was written contemporaneously with events as they happened so as to capture the sense of each amazing if horrific moment Even weeks after the election the country remained stunned by the outcome which as we learned foretold of a presidency unlike any before it But before the presidency there was a campaign about which many histories will be written But before the histories must come the chronicling history stripped of faded memories and coherent perspective Herewith such a chronicling written from a determinedly neutral posture presenting the good with the bad for all concerned

The Great

Betrayal Fawaz A. Gerges, 2025-04-29 How the Middle East can achieve political change and social progress The Middle East is in upheaval a widening chasm between state and society the failure of governing elites to address citizens genuine grievances massive economic mismanagement all made worse by repeated interventions by Western powers Why has political change been so difficult to achieve In The Great Betrayal Fawaz Gerges argues that the convergence of political authoritarianism meddling by the West and the effects of prolonged regional conflicts have produced political paralysis and economic stagnation The agency of everyday people has been thwarted by an authoritarian status quo that is maintained by a powerful partnership of external and internal forces Gerges traces more than a century of consequential events in the region from the end of the Ottoman Empire and the European carve up of the Middle East to the Iranian Revolution and the Arab Spring uprisings He shows how the people of the Middle East have been systematically denied self determination political representation and effective government Gerges finds that the region with its diversity variability and volatility defies abstract grand theories previous accounts that have attributed the Middle East's problems to any one cause such as modernism ignore the complexity and specificity of the issues What can we learn from the Middle East's vexed history Gerges is optimistic declaring that the region's future will be determined not by dictators and their superpower patrons but by a growing population of Arab and Muslim youth who demand to be treated as citizens and not as subjects Best

The Enduring Promise of America's Great City Schools Michael Casserly, 2024-10-30 A sober yet encouraging look at how urban public schools have confronted challenges defied expectations and continued to improve

Great Expectations Loyce Caruthers, Jennifer Friend, 2016-03-01 This book explores meaningful and effective use of student voice in urban school renewal efforts through strategies that include surveys interviews focus groups visual and video projects social media and student participation in governance Chapters provide a definition of student voice context for public schooling in the United States and introduce a framework for including student voice in school renewal processes Examples guide readers to implementation of the framework to include student voices in diverse educational settings Authentic voices of approximately 175 students interviewed by the authors express what it is that they really want from public schools and how pre K 12 educators can provide a structure for ongoing student participation in governance and the work of the school The existing literature explores student characteristics such as poverty cultural diversity and what the experts believe students need public schools to provide Within the research urban public schools and technical reform are often explored and examined separately from conversations about what students want from schools excluding opportunities for their voices and diverse perspectives to be heard Listening to students describe instances of bullying or teachers low academic expectations provides educators with opportunities to address issues that impede student learning The uniqueness of this framework for including student voice is that it provides multiple opportunities for students in any grade level to tell us what it is they want from public schools and to make meaningful and lasting contributions to school renewal efforts editor Sherman Alexie's picks for The Best American Poetry 2015 highlight the depth and breadth of the American experience. Culled from electronic and print journals, the poems showcase some of our leading luminaries: Amy Gerstler, Terrance Hayes, Ron Padgett, Jane Hirshfield, and introduce a number of outstanding younger poets taking their place in the limelight. A leading figure since his breakout poetry collection The Business of Fancydancing in 1992, Sherman Alexie won the National Book Award for his novel The Absolutely True Diary of a Part Time Indian. He describes himself as lucky enough to be a full-time writer and has written short stories, novels, screenplays, and essays, but he is at his core a poet. As always, series editor David Lehman's foreword assessing the state of the art kicks off the book, followed by an introductory essay in which Alexie discusses his selections. The Best American Poetry 2015 is a guide to who's who and what's happening in American poetry today.

Great Powers, Grand Strategies Anders Corr, 2018-01-15 Great Powers, Grand Strategies offers the analysis of a dozen experts on the big picture approaches to the South China Sea dispute. By exploring the international dimensions of this regional hotspot, Gordon Chang, Bernard Cole, James Fanell, Bill Hayton, and others examine how the military, diplomatic, and economic strategies of the major global actors have both contributed to solutions and exacerbated the potential for conflict. As editor of this volume, Anders Corr seeks to juxtapose the grand strategies of the great powers to determine the likely outcomes of the South China Sea dispute, as well as evaluate the ways to possibly defuse tensions in the region.

Challenging the One Best System Katrina E. Bulkeley, Julie A. Marsh, Katharine O. Strunk, Douglas N. Harris, Ayesha K. Hashim, 2021-02-04 In Challenging the One Best System, a team of leading education scholars offers a rich comparative analysis of the set of urban education governance reforms collectively known as the portfolio management model. They investigate the degree to which this model, a system of schools operating under different types of governance and with different degrees of autonomy, challenges the standard structure of district governance, famously characterized by David Tyack as the one best system. The authors examine the design and enactment of the portfolio management model in three major cities: New Orleans, Los Angeles, and Denver. They identify the five interlocking mechanisms at the core of the model: planning and oversight, choice, autonomy, human capital, and school supports, and show how these are implemented differently in each city. Using rich qualitative data from extensive interviews, the authors trace the internal tensions and tradeoffs that characterize these systems and highlight the influence of historical and contextual factors as well. Most importantly, they question whether the portfolio management model represents a fundamental restructuring of education governance or more incremental change, and whether it points in the direction of meaningful improvement in school practices. Drawing on a rigorous multimethod study, Challenging the One Best System represents a significant contribution to our understanding of system-level change in education.

Unsettling the Great White North Michele A. Johnson, Funké Aladejebi, 2022-01-27 An exhaustive volume of leading scholarship in the field of Black Canadian history, Unsettling the Great White North highlights the diverse experiences of persons of African descent within the chronicles of Canada's past. The book considers histories and
