The Macdermots of Ballycloran Anthony Trollope, 2019-10-11 The Macdermots of Ballycloran is a novel by Anthony Trollope. It was Trollope's first published novel which he began in September 1843 and completed by June 1845. However, it was not published until 1847. The novel was an abysmal failure with the reading public. The novel was written while Trollope was staying in the village of Drumsna, County Leitrim, Ireland. Plot summary: The narrative of The Macdermots of Ballycloran chronicles the tragic demise of a small Catholic landowning family in the Protestant-dominated Ireland of the mid-nineteenth century. It focuses on the struggle of Thady Macdermot to keep his sinking property afloat. Thady lives with his father Larry Macdermot in a dilapidated mansion in Co. Leitrim which is mortgaged to their enemy, the vulgar builder Joe Flannelly. They cannot keep up the payments on the mortgage. Enmity between the Macdermot and Flannelly families is sharpened by Thady's having declined to marry Joe's daughter Sally. Larry Macdermot's daughter Feemy, christened Euphemia, is seduced by the English police officer Captain Myles Ussher, who is hated by the local Catholic majority for his brutal enforcement of the excise laws against poteen distilling. One night Thady comes home to find Ussher abducting Feemy and kills him in the ensuing struggle. Despite the mitigating circumstances, the Protestant-dominated courts find Thady guilty of murder in the context of a panic about crime and possibly anti-British terrorism. Thady is hanged, his father Larry goes mad, Feemy dies bearing Ussher's bastard, and the Ballycloran house is finally vacated.

Anthony Trollope (24 April 1815 – 6 December 1882) was an English novelist of the Victorian era. Among his best-known works is a series of novels collectively known as the Chronicles of Barsetshire, which revolves around the imaginary county of Barsetshire. He also wrote novels on political, social, and gender issues and other topical matters. Trollope's literary reputation dipped somewhat during the last years of his life, but he had regained the esteem of critics by the mid-20th century.

Biography

Thomas Anthony Trollope: Anthony's father was a barrister. Though a clever and well-educated man and a Fellow of New College, Oxford, he failed at the Bar due to his bad temper. In addition, his ventures into farming proved unprofitable, and he lost an expected inheritance when an elderly childless uncle remarried and had children. Thomas Trollope was the son of Rev. Thomas Anthony Trollope, rector of Cottred, Hertfordshire; himself the sixth son of Sir Thomas Trollope, 4th Baronet. The baronetcy later came to descendants of Anthony Trollope's second son, Frederick. As a son of landed gentry, Thomas Trollope wanted his sons to be raised as gentlemen and to attend Oxford or Cambridge. Anthony Trollope suffered much misery in his boyhood owing to the disparity between the privileged background of his parents and their comparatively small means. Born in London, Anthony attended Harrow School as a free day pupil for three years from the age of seven because his father's farm, acquired for that reason, lay in that neighbourhood. After a spell at a private school at Sunbury, he followed his father and two older brothers to Winchester College, where he remained for three years. He returned to Harrow as a day boy to reduce the cost of his education Trollope had some very miserable experiences at these two public schools They ranked as two of the most elite schools in England but Trollope had no money and no friends and was bullied a great deal At the age of twelve he fantasised about suicide However he also daydreamed constructing elaborate imaginary worlds The Macdermots of Ballycloran, by Anthony Trollope Is a Novel Anthony Trollope, 2016-06-08 The Macdermots of Ballycloran is a novel by Anthony Trollope It was Trollope's first published novel which he began in September 1843 and completed by June 1845 However it was not published until 1847 The novel was an abysmal failure with the reading public The novel was written while Trollope was staying in the village of Drumsna County Leitrim Ireland The narrative of The Macdermots of Ballycloran chronicles the tragic demise of a small Catholic landowning family in the Protestant dominated Ireland of the mid nineteenth century It focuses on the struggle of Thady Macdermot to keep his sinking property afloat Thady lives with his father Larry Macdermot in a dilapidated mansion in Co Leitrim which is mortgaged to their enemy the vulgar builder Joe Flannelly They cannot keep up the payments on the mortgage Enmity between the Macdermot and Flannelly families is sharpened by Thady's having declined to marry Joe's daughter Sally Larry Macdermot's daughter Feemy is seduced by the English police officer Captain Myles Ussher who is hated by the local Catholic majority for his brutal enforcement of the excise laws against poteen distilling One night Thady comes home to find Ussher abducting Feemy and kills him in the ensuing struggle Despite the mitigating circumstances the Protestant dominated courts find Thady guilty of murder in the context of a panic about crime and possibly anti British terrorism Thady is hanged his father Larry goes mad Feemy dies bearing Ussher's bastard and the Ballycloran house is finally vacated of Macdermots Anthony Trollope 24 April 1815 6 December 1882 was one of the most successful prolific and respected English novelists of the Victorian era Among his best loved works is a series of novels collectively known as the Chronicles of Barsetshire which revolves around the imaginary county of Barsetshire He also wrote perceptive novels on political social and gender issues and on other topical matters Trollope's literary reputation dipped somewhat during the last years of his life but he regained the esteem of critics by the mid twentieth century Thomas Anthony Trollope Anthony's father was a barrister Though a clever and well educated man and a Fellow of New College Oxford he failed at the bar due to his bad temper In addition his ventures into farming proved unprofitable and he lost an expected inheritance when an elderly childless uncle remarried and had children As a son of landed gentry he wanted his sons to be raised as gentlemen and to attend Oxford or Cambridge Anthony Trollope suffered much misery in his boyhood owing to the disparity between the privileged background of his parents and their comparatively small means Born in London Anthony attended Harrow School as a free day pupil for three years from the age of seven because his father's farm had been acquired for that reason lay in that neighbourhood After a spell at a private school at Sunbury he followed his father and two older brothers to Winchester College where he remained for three years He returned to Harrow as a day boy to reduce the cost of his education Trollope had some very miserable experiences at these two public schools They ranked as two of the most elite
