Road Home Vernon E. Davis, 2000 Contains a history of the United States role in shaping prisoner of war policy during the Vietnam War Reveals the difficult often emotional and vexing nature of a problem that engaged the attention of the highest officials of the United States government Examines frictions and disagreements between the State and Defense Departments and within Defense itself as a sometimes conflicted organization struggled to cope with an imposing array of policy issues

Bringing the War Home Jeremy Peter Varon, 2004-04-30 In this first comprehensive comparison of left wing violence in the United States and West Germany Jeremy Varon focuses on America's Weather Underground and Germany's Red Army Faction to consider how and why young middle class radicals in prosperous democratic societies turned to armed struggle in efforts to overthrow their states Based on a wealth of primary material ranging from interviews to FBI reports this book reconstructs the motivation and ideology of violent organizations active during the 1960s and 1970s Varon conveys the intense passions of the era the heat of moral purpose the depth of Utopian longing the sense of danger and despair and the exhilaration over temporary triumphs Varon's compelling interpretation of the logic and limits of dissent in democratic societies provides striking insights into the role of militancy in contemporary protest movements and has wide implications for the United States current war on terrorism Varon explores Weatherman and RAF's strong similarities and the reasons why radicals in different settings developed a shared set of values languages and strategies Addressing the relationship of historical memory to political action Varon demonstrates how Germany's fascist past influenced the brutal and escalating nature of the West German conflict in the 60s and 70s as well as the reasons why left wing violence dropped sharply in the United States during the 1970s Bringing the War Home is a fascinating account of why violence develops within social movements how states can respond to radical dissent and forms of terror how the rational and irrational can combine in political movements and finally how moral outrage and militancy can play both constructive and destructive roles in efforts at social change

Stealing Home Shannon Lee Fogg,2017 Between 1942 and 1944 the Germans sealed and completely emptied at least 38 000 Parisian apartments The majority of the furnishings and other household items came from abandoned Jewish apartments and were shipped to Germany After the war Holocaust survivors returned to Paris to discover their homes completely stripped of all personal possessions or occupied by new inhabitants In 1945 the French provisional government established a Restitution Service to facilitate the return of goods to wartime looting victims Though time consuming difficult and often futile thousands of people took part in these early restitution efforts Stealing Home demonstrates that attempts to reclaim one's furnishings and personal possessions were key in efforts to rebuild Jewish political and social inclusion in the war's wake Far from remaining silent Jewish survivors sought recognition of their losses played an active role in politics and turned to both the government and each other for aid Drawing on memoirs oral histories restitution claims social workers reports newspapers and government documents Stealing Home provides a social history of the period that focuses on Jewish survivors everyday lives during the lengthy process of restoring citizenship and property rights It examines social rebirth through the prism of restitution and argues that the home was critical in shaping the postwar relationship between Jews and the state and in the successes and failures associated with rebuilding Jewish lives in France after the Holocaust

Home After Fascism Anna Koch, 2023-10-03 Home after Fascism draws on a rich array of memoirs interviews correspondence and archival research to tell the stories of Italian and German Jews who returned to their home countries after the Holocaust The book reveals Jews complex and often changing feelings toward their former homes and highlights the ways in which three distinct national contexts East German West German and Italian shaped their answers to the question is this home Returning Italian and German Jews renegotiated their place in national communities that had targeted them for persecution and extermination While most Italian Jews remained deeply attached to their home country German Jews struggled to feel at home in the country of murderers Yet some retained a sense of belonging through German culture and language or felt attached to a specific region or city Still others looked to the future socialist and communists of Jewish origin hoped to build a better Germany in the Soviet Occupied Zone In all three postwar states surviving Jews fought against persistent antisemitism faced the challenge of recovering lost homes and possessions struggled to make sense of their persecution and tried to find ways to reclaim a sense of belonging Wide ranging and moving Home after Fascism enriches our understanding of Jews homecoming experiences after 1945 It reveals the deep affection and persistent love people feel for their homes the suffering that comes with losing them and the challenges of a return

The Otherworlds of Liz Jensen Helen Esther Mundler, 2016 The first study of one of the most innovative of contemporary novelists Liz Jensen and of the otherworlds in her fiction Liz Jensen a British author of eight novels is among today's most innovative writers Her literary thrillers occupy the terrain between realism and science fiction This first study of Jensen centers on the very diverse otherworlds she creates in each of her novels which can consist of an indeterminate space of ontological instability a zone in which real and unreal converge to destabilize the realist text as in Egg Dancing 1995 and The Ninth Life of Louis Drax 2004 In other novels the otherworld relies on defamiliarization thus in War Crimes for the Home 2002 the experience of war is transformed by being seen from a woman's perspective. In still other cases the otherworld spans the novel's entire topos as in The Paper Eater 2000 the full-blown utopia at the center of Jensen's oeuvre. Jensen's work approaches contemporary social issues such as religious fundamentalism, ecological disaster and assisted procreation. Simultaneously it displays a number of characteristics of erudite fiction including self-reflexivity, inter- and intratextual reference, parody, pastiche and burlesque. Notwithstanding the popular elements of Jensen's work, Helen E. Mundler's study adopts a rigorously academic approach to it, referencing canonical works but also more innovative texts, particularly by contemporary women writers as points of comparison. Helen E. Mundler is Senior Lecturer in English Studies at UPEC, Université Paris Est Créteil with a research affiliation at the Université Paris X Nanterre La Défense.

The Home Front

Patrick Lindsay, 2023-04-11. Forty-one Australian soldiers died in action over 20 years of fighting in Afghanistan; in that time more than 1400 veterans have taken their own lives. Veterans today are chronically over-represented when it comes to PTSD, depression, homelessness and suicide. Australians rightfully pause on Anzac Day each year to solemnly remember fallen soldiers but are we forgetting our returned veterans whose personal battles continue every single day and how did we get to this point? In this authoritative, compelling and urgent book, bestselling author Patrick Lindsay, The Spirit of the Digger and Fromelles among many, looks at the wide-ranging damage caused by training Australians to be fighting machines and then inadequately supporting them as they re-enter their communities. Featuring moving interviews with veterans and their families as well as a broader analysis of Australian military culture and government responses, Lindsay illustrates both the personal and societal costs of this dereliction of duty. The Home Front is a fascinating and rousing indictment of the culture of war, the thinking of those who wage it and the cost to those who experience it.

Terrorism and Exclusion from Refugee Status in the UK Sarah Singer, 2015-04-21. Exclusion from refugee status for the suspected commission of serious crimes is a topic fraught with political and legal controversy. This is an area which sees the intersection of refugee law with international criminal and humanitarian law and increasingly measures taken in the fight against terrorism. In Terrorism and Exclusion from Refugee Status in the UK, Sarah Singer examines whether and how terrorism has featured in the UK's interpretation and application of the Refugee Convention's exclusion clause. A number of sources are drawn on, including questionnaires and interviews conducted with immigration judges, the Home Office's exclusion unit and legal practitioners. She therefore provides an unprecedented and thorough analysis of the UK's approach to asylum seekers suspected of serious criminality.

Travelling Home: Essays on Islam in Europe

The FCO's Human Rights Work 2011

Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2012-10-17. It is inevitable that the UK will have strategic commercial or security-related interests overseas which have the potential to conflict with its human rights work, says the

Foreign Affairs Committee in a report published today The Government should not be trying to assert that the two can co exist freely it should instead be explaining publicly its judgments on how to balance them in particular cases The Committee s recommendation comes in the light of the FCO s decision not to designate Bahrain as a country of concern in its 2011 report on its human rights work despite the repression of demonstrations in Bahrain in 2011 The Committee recommends that the criteria for designation should be based purely on assessments of human rights standards and should not be coloured by strategic or other considerations The Committee also challenges the Government for being inconsistent in not taking a public stance on the Bahrain Grand Prix but boycotting group stage games at Euro 2012 in Ukraine On rendition the Committee finds that the protracted police investigations had an unacceptable impact on the work of the Gibson Inquiry and of relevant committees The Government should explain why current investigations into claims of rendition made by two Libyans are expected to take so long The Committee accepts that enough progress has been made in Burma to justify some relaxation of the EU s sanctions regime but it says that Burma s human rights record remains seriously blemished It recommends that the UK should call for better access to those still detained as political prisoners and should press the Burmese authorities to allow independent observers to visit Rakhine state to assess the extent to which the rights of the Rohingya minority are being respected

Prisoners of the Home Front Martin F. Auger, 2011-11-01 In the middle of the most destructive conflict in human history almost 40 000 Germans civilians and prisoners of war were detained in internment and work camps across Canada Five internment camps were located on the southern shores of the St Lawrence River in the province of Quebec at Farnham Grande Ligne le aux Noix Sherbrooke and Sorel Prisoners of the Home Front details the organization and day to day affairs of these internment camps and reveals the experience of their inmates Martin Auger shows how internment imposed psychological and physical strain in the form of restricted mobility sexual deprivation social alienation and lack of physical comfort In response Canadian authorities introduced labour projects and education programs to uphold morale thwart internal turmoil and prevent escapes These initiatives were also intended to expose prisoners to the values of a democratic society and prepare them for postwar reintegration Auger concludes that Canada abided by the Geneva Convention its treatment of German prisoners was humane Prisoners of the Home Front sheds light on life behind barbed wire filling an important void in our knowledge of the Canadian home front during the Second World War

The Idea of Home in Law Lorna Fox O'Mahony, James A. Sweeney, 2016-03-03 The Idea of Home in Law Displacement and Dispossession explores an important set of legal and policy issues surrounding the concepts of home and homelessness taking a growing area of legal scholarship into the new arena of human rights and international law The collection considers the ideas concerning home both in the sense of the dwelling place as a special type of property and territorial claims to homeland which underpin many contemporary legal problems by examining a range of contexts where people are displaced or dispossessed from their homes The essays focusing on dispossession consider themes ranging from mortgage and rent arrears in the UK to responses to the foreclosure crisis in the USA and from eviction for the purposes of economic development in South Africa to the exclusion of asylum seekers from the UK's social housing and welfare provision and within the framework of the European Convention on Human Rights The displacement theme meanwhile examines transnational home issues from the experiences of exiles and refugees in areas of conflict to the impact of the broader context of economic social and cultural rights on attempts to protect housing and home through international law At the heart of each essay the contributors experts from across the fields of law policy and housing rights examine the circumstances in which displacement and dispossession take place and reconsider how law and policy respond to such circumstances with a particular focus on the impact of loss of home for the human person At a time of particular and increasing concern about security of tenure and the role of law and policy in protecting people who are vulnerable to forced eviction The Idea of Home in Law presents a bold opportunity to raise questions about the rights and norms associated with housing and home and to generate new insights for scholarship and for national and international policy debates concerning displacement and dispossession

The Modern Law of Land Warfare Morris Greenspan, 2023-11-15 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1959

Home and International Law Henrietta Zeffert, 2024-03-26 This book is about home and international law More specifically it is about the profound and frequently devastating transformations of home that are happening almost everywhere in the world today and what international law has to do with them Through three stories of home the desert home the lake home and the city home this book traces how the everyday operations of international law shape the material affective and imaginative experience of home It argues that international law's homemaking work is characterised by acts of domination practices of resistance and the production of unhomely spaces However the book also considers whether and how the liberatory potential of international law could be unlocked through the metaphor of home This book draws from fieldwork conducted by the author in Palestine Cambodia and the United Kingdom It takes a global socio legal approach to home and international law informed by feminist political theory feminist geography home studies and contemporary critical approaches to international law It is the first academic work to examine the relationship between home and international law This book's global socio legal approach to home and international law will be of interest to those teaching and studying in international law socio legal studies legal pluralism and legal geography

the Millstones The State of Iraq's Minorities since the Fall of Mosul published in March 2015 Since June 2014 many thousands of persons belonging to minorities have been murdered maimed or abducted including unknown numbers of women and girls forced into marriage or sexual enslavement ISIS forces and commanders have committed war crimes crimes against humanity and the crime of genocide including summary executions killing mutilation rape sexual violence torture cruel treatment the use and recruitment of children outrages on personal dignity and the use of chemical weapons Cultural and religious heritage dating back centuries continues to be destroyed while property and possessions have been systematically looted These abuses are ongoing at the time of writing and appear to be part of a conscious attempt to eradicate Iraq's religious and ethnic diversity It should also be stressed that as the latest phase in the conflict reaches a two year benchmark forces fighting ISIS have also apparently committed human rights and international humanitarian law violations including Iraqi Security Forces Popular Mobilization Units and Kurdish Peshmerga The millions of displaced still remain in camps and there are no serious returns to areas retaken from ISIS As of March 2016 internal displacement exceeded 3.3 million Iraqi sources estimate the total number of those who have lost their homes and are internally displaced at more than 4 million factoring in those IDPs not registered Currently there appears to be no serious Iraqi or international effort to build the political social and economic conditions for the sustainable return of those who lost homes and livelihoods as a result of the conflict Militias and unscrupulous local authorities are exploiting this vacuum This report is called No Way Home to highlight the despair Iraqi ethnic and religious communities feel about prospects for return This perspective is rooted both in a sense of hopelessness about the prospect of return and frustration with the continued deterioration of humanitarian conditions There is a lack of trust that the government regional actors local officials or the international community will provide the necessary support to facilitate returns locate missing persons provide justice facilitate the difficult process of reconciliation and ensure the return of looted possessions and homes The result will be another Iraqi lost generation radicalized by homelessness and depredation repeating the cycle that created ISIS The Long Trail Home Janet Kinrade Dethick, 2016-01-30 During the Second World War the small landlocked Italian region of Umbria was crossed by thousands of Allied servicemen There were those entrained for camps in Northern Italy in Germany or in German controlled territories There were those belonging to work parties who came in open trucks from Campo PG 54 at Fara in Sabina to construct a new camp Campo PG 77 at Pissignano or to swell the much depleted indigenous labour force in a cement factory and brickworks and were interned in PG 115 Morgnano and PG 115 3 Marsciano There were men from the Special Air Services SAS who had been parachuted in to carry out special missions There were the American airmen whose planes had been shot down from the Umbrian skies There were the escapers and evaders who in trying to reach the Allied Lines or neutral Switzerland walked the Appenines There were two submariners from HM Submarine Saracen who were held in Perugia gaol before being sent to Dachau This is their story
