The Great War Robert Cowley, 2003 The great war or the First World War, as most Americans call it, was the true turning point of the century just past. It brought down dynasties and empires, including the Ottoman, one of the roots of our present difficulties. It changed the United States from a bumptious provincial nation into a world power. It made World War II inevitable and the Cold War as well. Above all, the Great War was history's first total war, an armed conflict on a world stage between industrialized powers. Robert Cowley has brought together the thirty articles in this book to examine that unnecessary but perhaps inevitable war in its diverse aspects. A number of the subjects covered here are not just unfamiliar but totally fresh. Who originated the term no man's land and the word tank? What forgotten battles nearly destroyed the French Army in 1915? How did the discovery of a German naval codebook bring the United States into the war? What was the weapon that for the first time put a man-made object into the stratosphere? The Great War takes a hard look at the legend of the Massacre of the Innocents at Ypres in 1914, an event that became a cornerstone of Nazi mythology. It describes the Gallipoli campaign as it has never been described before, from the Turkish side. Brought to life as well are the horrors of naval warfare as both British and German sailors experienced them at the Battle of Jutland. The near breakdown of the American commander John H. Pershing and the rarely told story of the British disaster on the Tigris River in what is now Iraq. Michael Howard chronicles the summer of 1914 and the descent into a war that leaders were actually more afraid to avoid than to join. John Keegan writes about the muddy tragedy of Passchendaele in 1917. Jan Morris details the rise and fall of Sir

First World War or the Great War was a global war centred in Europe that began on 28 July 1914 and lasted until 11 November 1918. More than 70 million military personnel including 60 million Europeans were mobilised in one of the largest wars in history. Over 9 million combatants and 7 million civilians died as a result of the war, including the victims of a number of genocides, a casualty rate exacerbated by the belligerents' technological and industrial sophistication and the tactical stalemate caused by trench warfare, a grueling form of warfare in which the defender held the advantage. It was one of the deadliest conflicts in history and paved the way for major political changes, including revolutions in many of the nations involved. The war drew in all the world's economic great powers assembled in two opposing alliances: the Allies, based on the Triple Entente of the United Kingdom, British Empire, France, and the Russian Empire, versus the Central Powers of Germany and Austria-Hungary. Although Italy was a member of the Triple Alliance alongside Germany and Austria-Hungary, it did not join the Central Powers as Austria-Hungary had taken the offensive against the terms of the alliance. These alliances were reorganised and expanded as more nations entered the war. Italy, Japan, and the United States joined the Allies, while the Ottoman Empire and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. The trigger for the war was the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary, by Yugoslav nationalist Gavrilo Princip in Sarajevo on 28 June 1914. This set off a diplomatic crisis when Austria-Hungary delivered an ultimatum to the Kingdom of Serbia, and entangled international alliances formed over the previous decades were invoked. Within weeks, the major powers were at war, and the conflict soon spread around the world. On 28 July, the Austro-Hungarians declared war on Serbia and subsequently invaded. As Russia mobilised in support of Serbia, Germany invaded neutral Belgium and Luxembourg before moving towards France, leading the United Kingdom to declare war on Germany. After the German march on Paris was halted, what became known as the Western Front settled into a battle of attrition with a trench line that would change little until 1917. Meanwhile, on the Eastern Front, the Russian army was successful against the Austro-Hungarians but was stopped in its invasion of East Prussia by the Germans. In November 1914, the Ottoman Empire joined the Central Powers, opening fronts in the Caucasus, Mesopotamia, and the Sinai. Italy joined the Allies in 1915, and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers in the same year, while Romania joined the Allies in 1916, followed by the United States in 1917. The Russian government collapsed in March 1917, and a subsequent revolution in November brought the Russians to terms with the Central Powers via the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, which constituted a massive German victory. After a stunning German offensive along the Western Front in the spring of 1918, the Allies rallied and drove back the Germans in a series of successful offensives. On 4 November 1918, the Austro-Hungarian empire agreed to an armistice, and Germany, which had its own trouble with revolutionaries, agreed to an armistice on 11 November 1918, ending the war in victory for the Allies. By the end of the war, the German Empire, Russian Empire, Austro-Hungarian Empire, and the Ottoman Empire had ceased to exist. National borders were redrawn, with several independent nations restored or created, and Germany's colonies were parceled out among the winners. During the Paris Peace Conference, of 1919 the Big Four Britain France the United States and Italy imposed their terms in a series of treaties The League of Nations was formed with the aim of preventing any repetition of such a conflict This however failed with economic depression renewed European nationalism weakened member states and the German feeling of humiliation contributing to the rise of Nazism These conditions eventually contributed to World War II

The Legacy of Serbia's Great War Alex Tomić, 2024-01-05 In the winter of 1915 following the invasion of Serbia by the Central Powers the Serbian Army retreated across the mountains of Albania and Montenegro together with thousands of civilians Around 240 000 lost their lives Today the story of the retreat is little known except in Serbia where it represents the heroic Serbian sacrifice in the Great War In this book Alex Tomic examines the centenary events memorializing the First World War with the retreat at its core and provides a persuasive account of the ways in which the remembrance of Serbian history has been manipulated for political purposes Whether through commemorations ceremonies or grass root initiatives she demonstrates how these have been used as distractions from the more recent unexamined past and in doing so provides an important new perspective on the cultural history of commemoration

History of the Great War, 1914-1918 Carlton J. H. Hayes, 2017-06-05 Self interest was the dominant note of the years immediately preceding the outbreak of the Great War In economics and in politics among individuals social classes and nations flourished a self interest that tended more and more to degenerate into mere cynical selfishness There was no international organization There was no general authority for the determination of disputes and for the regulation of world interests There were at the opening of the twentieth century some fifty states in theory absolutely independent sovereign and equal In fact the fifty were very unequal and even the strongest among them was not strong enough to maintain its independence should the others unite against it Yet each proceeded to act on the assumption in most cases that it was self sufficient and that its own self interest was its supreme guide Carlton J H Hayes
