Online Teaching at Its Best Linda B. Nilson,Ludwika A. Goodson,2021-06-16 Bring pedagogy and cognitive science to online learning environments Online Teaching at Its Best Merging Instructional Design with Teaching and Learning Research

2nd Edition is the scholarly resource for online learning that faculty instructional designers and administrators have raved about. This book addresses course design, teaching, and student motivation across the continuum of online teaching modes: remote, hybrid, hyflex, and fully online, integrating these with pedagogical and cognitive science and grounding its recommendations in the latest research. The book will help you design or redesign your courses to ensure strong course alignment and effective student learning in any of these teaching modes. Its emphasis on evidence-based practices makes this one of the most scholarly books of its kind on the market today. This new edition features significant new content, including more active learning formats for small groups across the online teaching continuum, strategies and tools for scripting and recording effective micro lectures, ways to integrate quiz items within micro lectures, more conferencing software and techniques to add interactivity, and a guide for rapid transition from face-to-face to online teaching. You'll also find updated examples, references, and quotes to reflect more evolved technology. Adopt new pedagogical techniques designed specifically for remote, hybrid, hyflex, and fully online learning environments. Ensure strong course alignment and effective student learning for all these modes of instruction. Increase student retention, build necessary support structures, and train faculty more effectively. Integrate research-based course design and cognitive psychology into graduate or undergraduate programs. Distance is no barrier to a great education. Online Teaching at Its Best provides practical, real-world advice grounded in educational and psychological science to help online instructors, instructional designers, and administrators deliver an exceptional learning experience even under emergency conditions.

Teaching Through Text Michael C. McKenna, Richard David Robinson, 2005. Rave Reviews for the Fourth Edition of Teaching Through Text. The major strengths of this text are its elegant conceptual frame, first the global lesson planning frameworks and then the before, during, after reading strategies, and its conscious use of connections to technology. Sharon Walpole, University of Delaware. Due to the extra care the authors took to make Teaching Through Text a real-life example of a reader-friendly textbook, the text itself becomes a more accessible and therefore more rewarding text from which to learn about content area literacy instruction. Laura Jones, Nazareth College of Rochester. It is an easy text to read and use. Summaries are brief and provide a nice closure to the chapters. Content information is easily located and dissected for class discussion and presentation. Isaac Willis, Xavier University. About the Fourth Edition: Bringing all the research up to date, this Fourth Edition of Teaching Through Text provides a broad range of techniques to enhance students' literacy development and learning across the curriculum. Authored by two of the most respected literacy researchers, this text focuses on describing, illustrating, and applying both teacher-directed and student-centered strategies for content area literacy in middle and secondary grades. What's New on the Fourth Edition: Additional instructional techniques are presented, aligned with the Report of the National Reading Panel. The treatment of diversity is more prominent and has been expanded to include the topic of culturally responsive teaching. A detailed section on content area read-alouds has been added. New research-based ideas for motivating students to read are presented. The topic of
