Moore, 2016-11-03 This book goes around the world and across centuries to tell a story of Exploration and Conquest In past generations the saga of European empire building featured personalities that advanced the interests of powerful rulers More recently voices that were once silenced have been raised that tell the story of conquest from a different perspective These voices speak in the pages of Exploration and Conquest Stories of Indigenous Peoples Vivid pictures bring their experiences to life This book is designed for students aged 14 and up There is a study guide and a vocabulary guide Map study is included Abolitionist Intimacies El Jones, 2022-11-02T00:00:00Z In Abolitionist Intimacies El Jones examines the movement to abolish prisons through the Black feminist principles of care and collectivity Understanding the history of prisons in Canada in their relationship to settler colonialism and anti Black racism Jones observes how practices of intimacy become imbued with state violence at carceral sites including prisons policing and borders as well as through purported care institutions such as hospitals and social work The state also polices intimacy through mechanisms such as prison visits strip searches and managing community contact with incarcerated people Despite this Jones argues intimacy is integral to the ongoing struggles of prisoners for justice and liberation through the care work of building relationships and organizing with the people inside Through characteristically fierce and personal prose and poetry and motivated by a decade of prison justice work Jones observes that abolition is not only a political movement to end prisons it is also an intimate one deeply motivated by commitment and love

Determinants of Indigenous Peoples' Health Sarah De Leeuw, 2015 The health disparities affecting Indigenous peoples in Canada might well be understood as a national epidemic Although progress has been made in the last decade towards both understanding and ameliorating Indigenous health inequalities very little research or writing has expanded a social determinants of health framework to account for the unique histories and present realities of Indigenous peoples in this country This timely edited collection addresses this significant knowledge gap exploring the ways that multiple health determinants beyond the social from colonialism to geography from economy to biology converge to impact the health status of Indigenous peoples in Canada This unique collection comprised largely of contributions by Indigenous authors offers the voices and expertise of First Nations Inuit and Metis writers from across Canada The multitude of health determinants of Indigenous peoples are considered in a selection of chapters that range from scholarly papers by research experts in the field to reflective essays by Indigenous leaders Appropriate throughout a range of disciplines including Health Studies Indigenous Studies Public and Population Health Community Health Sciences Medicine Nursing and Social Work this engaging text broadens the social determinants of health framework to better understand health inequality Most importantly it does so by placing front and center the voices and experiences of Indigenous peoples

Pockets of Change Jane Stadler, Peta Mitchell, Adam Atkinson, Tricia Hopton, 2011-04-29 The twelve essays collected in Pockets of Change locate adaptation within a framework of two overlapping if not simultaneous creative processes on the one hand adaptation is to be understood as an acknowledged transposition of an existing source that is the process of adapting from on the other hand adaption is also a process of purposeful shifting and evolving of creative practices in response to external factors including but not limited to other creative works in other words the process of adapting to This book explores adaptation then as an active practice of repetition and as a reactive process of development or evolution The essays also extend beyond the production transformation and interpretation of texts to interrogate the values and practices at work in cultural transition and transformation during periods of social and historical change Collectively the papers theorize adaptation by taking on three tasks first to examine the conditions under which the two processes of adaptation operate second to give an account of the space and moment in which the processes unfold the pockets of the title and finally to examine what emerges from pockets of adaptation While adapting from and adapting to are both processes that appear to preclude innovation in the way that they acknowledge and depend on external sources Pockets of Change demonstrates that adaptation is productive It not only references prior texts attitudes practices and media but it also invites us to re visit the past and to re think the present in new ways potentially giving narrative space to muted or occluded voices This book therefore brings together an innovative and varied range of approaches to interpretations and uses of adaptation challenging the assumption that an adaptation is simply either a re make or the act of turning one medium into another Adaptation then names not only the means by which texts are transformed but also the space in which that transformation takes place T Pathways of Reconciliation Aimée Craft, Paulette Regan, 2020-05-29 Since the Truth and Reconciliation Commission released its Calls to Action in June 2015 governments churches non profit professional and community organizations corporations schools and universities clubs and individuals have asked How can I we participate in reconciliation Recognizing that reconciliation is not only an ultimate goal but a decolonizing process of journeying in ways that embody everyday acts of resistance resurgence and solidarity coupled with renewed commitments to justice dialogue and relationship building Pathways of Reconciliation helps readers find their way forward The essays in Pathways of Reconciliation address the themes of reframing learning and healing researching and living They engage with different approaches to reconciliation within a variety of reconciliation frameworks either explicit or implicit and illustrate the complexities of the reconciliation process itself They canvass multiple and varied pathways of reconciliation from Indigenous and non Indigenous perspectives reflecting a diversity of approaches to the mandate given to all Canadians by the TRC with its Calls to Action Together the authors academics practitioners students and ordinary citizens demonstrate the importance of trying and learning from new and creative approaches to thinking about and practicing reconciliation and reflect on what they have learned from their attempts both successful and less successful in the process
