The Illegal Business Of Human Trafficking:

The Illegal Business of Human Trafficking Maria João Guia, 2014-12-26 This book offers a brand new perspective on human trafficking as an illegal business. It also proposes a new form of networked action combining the perspectives of academic researchers with those of highly skilled professionals involved in policymaking in this area. This book is a unique contribution and a first step toward a networking paradigm promoting collaboration in preventing and combating human trafficking crime and in raising awareness of this ongoing problem. This book was born within the CINETS group Crimmigration Control International Net of Studies www.crimmigrationcontrol.com which was established in 2011 with the aim of bringing together expertise from different fields, professions, universities and countries. It aims to form a new paradigm for sharing knowledge and advancing research on topics related to human trafficking, crimmigration control, immigration and crime, immigrant detention and all types of violence that may affect victims of crimes, helping to create a fairer society.

Transnational Crime Fiction Maarit Piipponen, Helen Mäntymäki, Marinella Rodi-Risberg, 2020-10-27 Focusing on contemporary crime narratives from different parts of the world, this collection of essays explores the mobility of crimes, criminals and investigators across social, cultural and national borders. The essays argue that such border crossings reflect on recent sociocultural transformations and geopolitical anxieties to create an image of networked and interconnected societies where crime is not easily contained. The book further analyses crime texts' wider sociocultural and affective significance by examining the global mobility of the genre itself across cultures, languages and media. Underlining the global reach and mobility of the crime genre, the collection analyses types and representations of mobility in literary and visual crime narratives, inviting comparisons between texts, crimes and mobilities in a geographically diverse context. The collection ultimately understands mobility as an object of study and a critical lens through which transformations in our globalised world can be examined.

Sex Trafficking and Human Rights Heather Smith-Cannoy, Patricia C. Rodda, Charles Anthony Smith, 2022-09-01 Case studies explore how women's rights shape state responses to sex trafficking and show how politically empowering women can help prevent and combat human trafficking. Human trafficking for the sex trade is a form of modern day slavery that ensnares thousands of victims each year, disproportionately affecting women and girls. While the international community has developed an impressive edifice of human rights law, these laws are not equally recognized or enforced by all countries. Sex Trafficking and Human Rights demonstrates that state responsiveness to human trafficking is shaped by the political, social, cultural and economic rights afforded to women in that state. While combatting human trafficking is a multiscale problem with a host of conflating variables, this book shows that a common theme in the effectiveness of state response is the degree to which women and girls are perceived as and actually are full citizens. By analyzing human trafficking cases in India, Thailand, Russia, Nigeria and Brazil, they shed light on the factors that make some women and girls more susceptible to traffickers than others. This important book is both a call to understanding and a call to action if the international community and state governments are to responsibly and effectively combat human trafficking they must center the equality of women in national policy Combating Human Trafficking in Our Major Cities United States. The Trap of Proximity Violence Ignazia Bartholini, 2020-08-30 This book aims at shifting the emphasis from a general vision of gender based violence to a more opaque yet equally destructive one that related to proximity violence The first type of violence is exercised in multiple situations and in the generality of relationships experienced by people involving others who are both strangers to and intimate with each other Proximity violence provides and includes a fiduciary kind of proximity of dependent intimacy where the trust that the victim places in the other her tormentor favours the exercise of violence itself allowing it to take place thus making it practically imperceptible when not actually normal in extreme cases In turn this confidence is comparable to a veil of Maja which in conditions of vulnerability typical of victims attenuates the consequences of the violence undergone or the omens of what becomes violent action The conceptual triad proximity violence vulnerability resistance resilience is explored here in the three main chapters and in the details aimed at identifying in the final chapter

The Organisation of Crime and Harm in the Construction Industry Jon Davies, Hanna Malik, 2024-04-30 Drawing on empirical work and secondary analysis from the UK and Finnish construction industries this book contributes a deep rooted analysis of construction industry harms that originate from corporate industrial state processes The UK context arguably represents a classic neoliberal system categorised by privatisation of services and minimal regulation whereas Finland broadly provides a social democratic alternative with its relatively strong national regulation and public sector oversight of industry These concepts interlink strongly with the notion of state corporate crime since this perspective shifts attention away from individualistic explanations for crime and harm towards symbiosis between states and corporations This book argues that existing explanations based on organised crime and individual rogues are insufficient to account for the wider range and subtlety of harms that occur in construction and therefore offers a unique perspective into organisational industry and state dynamics in this sector An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology organized crime and those interested in harms in the construction industry
