Bruce Butcher, 2000-04-13 This book is written from the perspective of a practising company lawyer and is principally concerned with two broad duties owed by directors of British and Australian companies to act honestly in good faith and for proper purposes and to exercise care and diligence Public attitudes towards directors have altered since the mid 1980s and the business community has raised its expectations of directors In response to this shift in public feeling parliament and the judiciary are adopting a new approach to directors duties widening the scope of duties imposed on directors and encouraging a more rigorous approach to corporate governance Directors Duties analyses this new approach with reference to recent English and Australian case law and explores the courts attempts to deal with the myriad of competing interests found within the morass of legal rules equitable principles and statutory enactment which comprise modern company law In examining the latest case law and legislation the author addresses some of the more contentious and controversial issues which directors in the 21st century will need to confront in order to properly discharge the legal equitable and statutory requirements of their office The subject of directors duties is of considerable theoretical and practical importance from economic political as well as social perspectives This unique and important work will be of great value to all lawyers policymakers academics and researchers working in this complex and rapidly changing field of the law

Executive remuneration. The Tate & Lyle PLC case study Christos Boras, 2019-04-08 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 72% Aston University Business School course MSc in Accounting and Finance language English abstract This report provides an analysis and evaluation over the executive remuneration issues The basic issues in this report raised the public debate and the academic literature findings over the misalignment between the pay and performance and the level of executives emoluments In order to provide a more specific and practical perspective of the issues raised this project used a case study of Tate Lyle plc and its main competitor Associated British Foods plc Methods of analysis include the review over the UK corporate governance evolution on executive remuneration matters The second part of the review is based on the academic literature review Furthermore the internal structure of both companies and the level of salaries in the hierarchy give an explanation over the level of the executive emoluments Moreover the structure of the executive remuneration is approved in both companies by the majority of the shareholders and there is evidence that the short term and long term performance of the companies have an important effect on executives salary Last but not least there is evidence that the executive remuneration is almost the same across the same industry even if the performance between two companies is different The report finds that both companies are in line with UK corporate governance code guidelines and aligned pay with performance However there are not adequate case studies through different industries in order to have a more precise information over the relationship between pay and performance of other companies The major area of weakness on the academic literature is the lack of case studies which can provide more detailed information of practical implementations of the Code and academic literature Moreover the institutions and most of the academic research is based on using average figures based on the FTSE100 FTSE250 and FTSE350 Indexes The report also investigates the fact that the analysis conducted has limitations Some of the limitations include the lack of ABF s annual report for 2014 In order to overpass this difficulty this project used the annual report of 2013 for both companies Another limitation was the lack of case studies over the executive remuneration issues based on certain companies rather than the average trend of an Index Last but not least there was no other case study of a company over the executive remuneration issues in order to use the methodology
