The Hunter From The Woods:

The Hunter from the Woods Robert R. McCammon, 2011 The Hunter from the Woods marks the much anticipated return of Michael Gallatin the lycanthropic hero of Robert McCammon's 1989 classic The Wolf's Hour These all new interlinked stories offer a full measure of McCammon's trademark narrative excitement and comprise a fascinating composite portrait of a unique fictional creation The volume opens with a pair of brief glimpses into Michael's early life in Russia and his initial recruitment into the British Secret Service It ends with a haunting vision of the werewolf at twilight In between McCammon gives us three stellar novellas depicting different phases of Michael's long brutal war against Nazi Germany Sea Chase is a nautical tale about the hazards of transporting a defecting German scientist to a place of sanctuary in England The Wolf and the Eagle is the account of an unlikely friendship between rival men of action and a harrowing portrayal of a lethal forced march through the North African desert The Room at the Bottom of the Stairs tells of an impossible ultimately tragic love affair set in the embattled city of Berlin during the latter stages of the war Erotic visceral and filled with moments of desolating horror and unexpected warmth The Hunter from the Woods is a triumph of imaginative storytelling Like the best of McCammon's earlier work it offers intelligent world class entertainment In the process it shines a welcome new light on one of the most uncommon heroes in contemporary fiction Traditional Witchcraft for the Woods and Forests Melusine Draco, 2012-03-16 No matter where you live there will always be a wide variety of trees in the immediate vicinity whether open countryside urban parkland or municipal gardens Get to know them learn to recognise the different species and draw on the magical power of the Tree Be humbled in the presence of the trees by their great size and beauty and learn to work with them as a witch The North American Indian: The Chipewyan. Cree. The Sarsi Edward S. Curtis, 1928 A comprehensive and permanent record of all the important tribes of the United States and Alaska that still retain to a considerable degree their primitive customs and traditions The value of such a work in great measure will lie in the breadth of its treatment in its wealth of illustration and in the fact that it represents the result of personal study of a people who are rapidly losing the traces of their aboriginal character and who are destined ultimately to become assimilated with the superior race It has been the aim to picture all features of the Indian life and environment types of the young and the old with their habitations industries ceremonies games and everyday customs Though the treatment accorded the Indians by those who lay claim to civilization and Christianity has in many cases been worse than criminal a rehearsal of these wrongs does not properly find a place here General introduction Letters from the Woods Edward B. Ground of the Devil Richard Rezendes, 2019-04-23 Richard Rezendes wrote a book on a laser printer about thirty five years ago and he worked on this book for more than a year He typed in on an old Apple desktop computer then on a laser printer His biggest dream is that one day he would like to publish a book He got the idea on a magazine about a story about an asteroid that struck in Connecticut and fragments were found The story led to earthquakes in Moodus

Connecticut That may have been caused by water flowing through limestone and Native Indians believed it was the devil He thought of writing a book about it and named it Ground of the Devil This story is about a comet that hit Moodus Connecticut and a creature living underground for several months before it went on its attack and it killed people and animals and it had magical powers The creature looked like a huge porcupine with pricks all over it By the way this creature is a female with large breasts It sprays fire like a dragon It has a large tail and a powerful stinger It has lobsterlike claws like a scorpion and feet like an elephant Richard Rezendes worked at Brown University and the east Greenwich school department before retiring at age sixty two He will be sixty five years old on Monday August twentieth He likes sports football basketball and baseball in that order He is a bowler tenpins and currently holds a 220 average He is five feet eight inches 166 pounds and he is pretty healthy
