

THE EXECUTIVE CHIC INC.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Executive Chic Inc. is a family-owned corporation with the purpose of tailoring custom-made uniforms for identified members of the community. The original operation of the company commenced at the Province of Nueva Ecija through the leadership of the matriarch of the Gonzales Family. It has been registered at the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on September 02, 2002.

Currently, the company operates at 58 Pla Pla St., Kaularan Village, Brgy 014, Calocan City, Metro Manila. The pioneer of the company is Ms. Illuminada Gonzales and was later on succeeded by her daughters, Ms. Nimfa Gonzales-Pacson and Ms. Marissa Gonzales-Santiago.

The target customer of The Executive Chic Inc. are institutions from the public and private, including national agencies, local government units and premier companies in the metro. It has a generic strategy of being cost leader in the garments industry, particularly the custom-made sector. Furthermore, the

The major concern for The Executive Chic Inc. is the inventory management and marketing strategy of the company.

At present, the inventory management of the business practices safety stock strategy where a bulk of inventory materials are maintained by the company. This strategy has caused efficiency issues in the resource allocation of the business.

Also, the production capacity and target market of the business has also causes major concerns. With the tough competition in the market, the marketing approach of The Executive Chic Inc. lacks presence in the social media aspect. Furthermore, the fully depreciated machines hamper the production capacity of the business.

To fully assess the business' competitive position in the market, the researcher utilized a variety of tools to grasp the external and internal environment of the company. Through the Internal-External Factor Evaluation Matrix, the researcher was able to extract the ideal strategy to implement for the business which is the Hold and Maintain Strategy through market penetration and product development.

Strategic Management Paper:

Strategic Management for Government Agencies Navin Girishankar, Migara De Silva, 1998-01-01 This paper presents a conceptual framework for the strategic management of government agencies in developing and transition economies It delineates a working model of an efficient government agency for which core strategy internal organizational design and external environment are aligned It then demonstrates how the objectives of public sector management are ideally based on assessments of areas of misalignment in government agencies Discussion Paper (University of Minnesota. Strategic Management Research Center). ,19?? Annual Review of Communications: Volume 59 International Engineering Consortium, 2007 An indispensable reference publication for telecommunication and information industry professionals Each year the IEC brings together into one unique resource the most current thinking and practical experience of industry leaders around the world on a variety of topics facing their areas of specialization This 700 page reference tool is a must for executives managers engineers analysts and educators in all sectors of today s changing information industry

Organizational Decision Making Zur Shapira, 2002-03-25 Decision making in organizations is often pictured as a coherent and rational process in which alternative interests and perspectives are considered in an orderly manner until the optimal alternative is selected Yet as many members of organizations have discovered from their own experience real decision processes in organizations only seldom fit such a description This book brings together researchers who focus on cognitive aspects of decision processes on the one hand and those who study organizational aspects such as conflict incentives power and ambiguity on the other It draws from the tradition of Herbert Simon who studied organizational decision making s pervasive use of bounded rationality and heuristics of reasoning These multiple perspectives may further our understanding of organizational decision making Organizational Decision Making is particularly well suited for students and faculties of business psychology and public administration Business Ethics and Strategy, Volumes I and II Alan E. Singer, 2018-10-26 This volume is intended as a reference for those interested in the relationship between business strategy and business ethics broadly conceived Several articles have been selected from various leading journals in management strategy and ethics An introductory chapter provides an overview of the articles but it also relates them systematically to a fundamental dualism involving values ethics and politics all viewed from the perspective of business and business studies

The Competitive Dynamics of Entrepreneurial Market Entry Gideon Markman, Phillip H. Phan, 2011 Research on general market entry usually focuses on large enterprises Often however small entrants can alter the competitive dynamics of an industry This volume brings together the most prominent thought leaders and the best research on the asymmetric entrant incumbent dynamics The ideas presented offer a more nuanced perspective on how when where and with what consequences small single product firms enter markets that are dominated by large multiproduct and multimarket incumbents Large enterprises often enjoy a number of advantages that young small ventures as well as matured but still small firms lack These differences manifest not only in how large and small firms operate and in their resource capability mix but also in how they compete and interact with each other Research on general market entry and competitive dynamics is extensive yet it focuses on entrants and incumbents that are of similar profile similar size comparable asset mixes related product strategies and equivalent organizational capabilities The unique contribution of this volume is its concentration on asymmetric entrant incumbent dynamics Scholars and students in entrepreneurship strategy international business and related fields will find this excellent collection of key published and original material illuminating

Critical Theory Ethics for Business and Public Administration David M. Boje, 2008-09-01 The purpose of this book is to develop those ethical traditions For example Horkheimer's books Eclipse of Reason and Critique of Instrumental Reason and his early and now classic essay Materialism and Morality ask for a reformation of Kantian ethics The reform sought is that categorical imperative in an individualism capitalism serves to worsen the difference between business ethics and moral philosophy That is it is not enough to try to be good or ethical as individuals when it is the systemic processes that must be dealt with Therefore Horkheimer asks that the maxim that would be made universal be done at the level of people organizing with others to change the social system that is producing the unethical behaviors The book is organized into several sections The first section sets the stages beginning with a challenge to the field of social responsibility in business and public administration Jones Ten bos Parker have a new book out that is smashing Then we turn to Carr and to Zanetti who each have done critical theory work in public administration This is followed by Heather Hopfl who edited an issue on ethics of goodness and does the kind of writing that makes deep connections The next set of chapters make topic connections rhizomatics dialogics of co experience story narrative and postmodern The third set of topics focus on application technofuturist international business economics university environment accounting spirituality strategy and ending with Mills work on silence of race ethnicity in business and public administration ethics writing

Ethics through Corporate Strategy Daniel R. Gilbert, 1996-09-19 Ethics Through Corporate Strategy is a daring challenge to anyone who uses the customary language of business in America It is daring because Daniel Gilbert argues that we should discard two popular ways of linking business and ethics It is challenging because Gilbert proceeds from the premise that everyone who uses a language of business is responsible for the ethical implications of that way of talking This work is one demonstration of how we can relocate conversations about business in the larger conversation that we know as liberal education
