In a realm where legends dwell,
Sailed a knight, both brave and great,
His name, renowned near and far,
With a gentle, guiding hand.

He rode upon his noble steed,
Through forests deep and wide,
To seek the dragon, fierce and proud,
That in the mountains did reside.

The villagers had cried in fear,
Of him that in the night,
But then, with courage clear,
Set out to set things right.

Unit Of Work On Poetry Stage :

Assessing and Reporting the Classroom Curriculum in the Knowledge Age David Lynch, Richard Smith, 2013 How does the effective teacher assess and report their classroom curriculum program Building on the success of their previous book Designing the Classroom Curriculum in the Knowledge Age David Lynch and Richard Smith seek to answer this question by focusing their teaching design idea on classroom assessment and reporting At the heart of their teaching design idea is the formulation of teaching strategies that enable all students to make the required learning gains At its core the book encourages the teacher to work towards becoming a different kind of teacher a teacher who has a mindset attuned to the Knowledge Age and who embraces new knowledge sets that reflect research into effective teaching More specifically the book explores the theory and practice of teaching design from the perspective of assessment and reporting The book examines these premises as context when assessing and reporting the classroom curriculum A real how to assess and report book

Making Progress in Writing Eve Bearne, 2003-08-29 Children's achievements in writing lag behind their achievements in reading speaking and listening National tests are beginning to expose this gap and inevitably it is raising concerns The issue is not without controversy but regardless of the politics of the situation national progress in children's writing is both needed and possible This new book from Eve Bearne makes a valuable contribution towards helping teachers close this gap Uniquely it follows the structure of the National Literacy Strategy whilst examining key areas such as bridging KS2 and KS3 writing and writing skills beyond the Literacy Hour Such a structure makes the book incredibly practical and easy to use providing essential information for both practitioners and academics

Designing the Classroom Curriculum Exploring Curriculum, Assessment and the Incorporation of Technology in Classrooms Mike Howarth, David Lynch, Richard Smith, 2016-05-26 This book is about designing the effective classroom curriculum The authors argue that an effective classroom curriculum should be the goal of every teacher in every classroom around the world effective that is for every student not just those who find school easy But how does one go about designing a classroom curriculum that is effective What are the essential ingredients and how should these ingredients be organised for teaching effect What role does Technology play in such classroom plans In this book Lynch Smith and Howarth provide an insight into these questions by providing a text that focuses on classroom teaching diagnostic and design strategies Their intent in writing such a book is to enable the classroom teacher to develop teach and assess a classroom curriculum where learning success for all students is the central goal This text is compulsive reading for the teacher who wants to make a difference in their classrooms

Creative Approaches to Poetry for the Primary Framework for Literacy Jan Foale, Linda Pagett, 2009-06-02 Creative Approaches to Poetry for the Primary Framework for Literacy supports teachers in planning teaching and most importantly enjoying poetry with their pupils With an emphasis on creative cross curricular approaches the authors explore tried and tested methods of teaching poetry in an engaging and comprehensive manner A carefully considered range of poems has been included in order to expand children's repertoires in a variety of poetic forms. Chapters cover how to develop a range of creative approaches to teaching poetry involving visualisation, drama, choral speaking, performance, discussion and writing how to engage children from a variety of backgrounds and abilities in experiencing poetry in its many forms, integrating the teaching of poetry with all other areas of the curriculum including ICT and citizenship, effectively linking all work to the KS1 poetry units of the renewed Primary National Framework for Literacy, an innovative model that takes children on a journey beginning before they meet the poem through to becoming poets themselves. This accessible and user-friendly book includes informative case studies, photographs and children's work to demonstrate alternative routes to working with poetry. It will prove an invaluable resource for all primary teachers seeking to employ progressive and effective strategies in the teaching of poetry.

Planning Creative Literacy Lessons Andrew Lambirth, 2013-05-13 This book builds on the guidance given by the Primary Strategy for Literacy. By filling in the gaps that the planning documentation leaves, the book provides teachers with the structures and ideas to plan creatively and effectively for their children whilst following and enhancing the recommendations of the strategy. It includes clear and practical ways to plan units of work that embrace reading, writing, speaking and listening in exciting and active ways, examples of effective practice using children's work that highlight the effects of creative planning, suggestions for texts and resources that can be included in half-termly and termly planning. Written by a team of leading educationalists and teacher educators in the primary literacy field, this edited collection is a must-have for primary teachers wishing to inject creativity into the planning of their literacy lessons.

Huh: Curriculum conversations between subject and senior leaders John Tomsett, Mary Myatt, 2021-09-18 Schools need to have purchase on the curriculum why they teach the subjects beyond preparation for examinations what they are intending to achieve with the curriculum how well it is planned and enacted in classrooms and how they know whether it is doing what it is supposed to Fundamental to this understanding are the conversations between subject leaders and their line managers However there is sometimes a mismatch between the subject specialisms of senior leaders and those they line manage If I don't know the terrain and the importance of a particular subject how can I talk intelligently with colleagues who are specialists This book sets out to offer some tentative answers to these questions Each of the national curriculum subjects is discussed with a subject leader and provides an insight into what they view as the importance of the subject how they go about ensuring that knowledge understanding and skills are developed over time how they talk about the quality of the schemes in their departments and what they would welcome from senior leaders by way of support We have chosen this way of opening up the potentially difficult terrain of expertise on one side and relative lack of expertise on the other by providing these case studies They are suggested as prompts rather than the last word Informed debate is after all the fuel of curriculum development And why Huh Well Huh may be John's first response when he walks into a Year 8 German class but in fact we chose Huh as the title of our book as he is the Egyptian god of endlessness As Claire Hill so eloquently comments in her chapter Curriculum development is an ongoing process it is not going to be finished ever And we believe that Huh captures a healthy and expansive way of considering curriculum conversations
