Venezuela As An Exporter Of 4th Generation Warfare Instability:

Venezuela as an Exporter of 4th Generation Warfare Instability (Enlarged Edition) Max G. Manwaring, Strategic Studies Institute, U.S. Army War College, 2013-05-21 Because of rising popular expectations regarding currently nonexistent rights in Latin America it appears to be a revolutionary insurgent criminal and populist dream Thus the Americas appear to be particularly susceptible to state and their proxies and nonstate actors that promise the security stability and prosperity national governments have generally failed to provide Accordingly Venezuela and President Hugo Chavez have become exporters of asymmetric unconventional and undeclared war If left ignored and unchecked these wars compel radical unwanted and epochal political economic social system change Even though prudent governments must prepare for high risk low probability conventional interstate war there is a high probability that the U S President and Congress and leaders of other powers around the world will continue to require civil military participation in unconventional conflicts

VENEZUELA AS AN EXPORTER OF 4TH GENERATION WARFARE INSTABILITY. Max G. Manwaring, 2022

Venezuela as an Exporter of 4th Generation Warfare Instability Max G. Manwaring, 2012 Almost no one seems to understand the Marxist Leninist foundations of Hugo Chavez s political thought It becomes evident however in the general vision of his Bolivarian Revolution The abbreviated concept is to destroy the old foreign dominated U S dominated political and economic systems in the Americas to take power and to create a socialist nationalistic and popular direct democracy in Venezuela that would sooner or later extend throughout the Western Hemisphere Despite the fact that the notion of the use of force compulsion is never completely separated from the Leninist concept of destroying any bourgeois opposition Chavez s revolutionary vision will not be achieved through a conventional military war of maneuver and attrition or a traditional insurgency According to Lenin and Chavez a new society will only be created by a gradual systematic compulsory application of agitation and propaganda i e agit prop That long term effort is aimed at exporting instability and generating public opinion in favor of a revolution and against the bourgeois system Thus the contemporary asymmetric revolutionary warfare challenge is rooted in the concept that the North American U S Empire and its bourgeois political friends in Latin America are not doing what is right for the people and that the socialist Bolivarian philosophy and leadership will This may not be a traditional national security problem for the United States and other targeted countries and it may not be perceived to be as lethal as conventional conflict but that does not diminish the cruel reality of compulsion Venezuela As an Exporter of 4th Generation Warfare Instability U. S. Army U.S. Army War College, 2014-11-12 Almost no one seems to understand the Marxist Leninist foundations of Hugo Chavez s political thought It becomes evident however in the general vision of his Bolivarian Revolution The abbreviated concept is to destroy the old foreign dominated U S dominated political and economic systems in the Americas to take power and to create a socialist nationalistic and popular direct democracy in Venezuela that would sooner or later extend throughout the Western Hemisphere Despite the fact that the notion of the use of force compulsion is never completely separated from the Leninist concept of destroying any bourgeois opposition Chavez's revolutionary vision will not be achieved through a conventional military war of maneuver and attrition or a traditional insurgency According to Lenin and Chavez a new society will only be created by a gradual systematic compulsory application of agitation and propaganda i.e. agit prop That long term effort is aimed at exporting instability and generating public opinion in favor of a revolution and against the bourgeois system Thus the contemporary asymmetric revolutionary warfare challenge is rooted in the concept that the North American U.S. Empire and its bourgeois political friends in Latin America are not doing what is right for the people and that the socialist Bolivarian philosophy and leadership will In these terms regime legitimacy is key to the conflict and it is public opinion that is the main target of the revolutionary effort Chavez's vision comes at a time when despite general economic progress there are deep flaws in the democratic political systems throughout the Western Hemisphere Relative popular dissatisfaction stems from deep rooted socioeconomic inequalities distrust and lack of confidence in the police national legislatures and political parties There are also rising popular expectations along with a popular consciousness of currently nonexistent rights Latin America now as in the 1960s 1970s and 1980s appears to be a revolutionary's dream Thus it appears that Hugo Chavez is prepared to help friends partners and allies to destabilize to facilitate the processes of state failure and to destroy in order to build in true revolutionary fashion Moreover according to Chavez it does not matter whether or not he will be able to continue to direct that effort He states straightforwardly that independent of my personal destiny this revolution has gotten its start and nothing and no one can stop it Consequently this book will address four cogent issues operating within the context of President Chavez's grand strategic political psychological destabilization effort They are 1 Hugo Chavez's Bolivarian Vision 2 Key Components of the Chavez Strategic Level Asymmetric 4th Generation War War Model 3 The Paramilitary Operational Model for Compelling Radical Change in the Western Hemisphere and 4 Implications and Recommendations

Criminal Insurgents in Mexico and Latin America John P. Sullivan, Robert J. Bunker, 2015-03-05 The 4th Small Wars Journal/El Centro anthology comes at a pivotal time roughly a third of the way through the term for the Enrique Peña Nieto administration in Mexico. The mass kidnapping and execution of 43 rural student teachers in Iguala Guerrero in late September 2014 has only served to further highlight the corruptive effects of organized crime on the public institutions in that country. In addition many other states in Latin America are now suffering at the hands of criminal insurgents who are threatening their citizens and challenging their sovereign rights.

Confronting the Evolving Global Security Landscape Max G. Manwaring, 2019-06-14 Helps civilian and military leaders opinion makers scholars and interested citizens come to grips with the realities of the 21st century global security arena by dissecting lessons from both the past and the present. This book accomplishes four tasks first it outlines the evolution of the national and international security concept from the Treaty of Westphalia 1648 to the present second it examines the circular relationship of the elements that define contemporary security third it provides empirical examples to accompany the discussion of each element security development governance and sovereignty and fourth it argues that substantially more sophisticated stability security concepts policy structures and policymaking precautions are required in order for the United States to play more effectively in the global security arena Case studies provide the framework to join the various chapters of the book into a cohesive narrative while the theoretical linear analytic method it employs defines its traditional approach to case studies For each case study it discusses the issue in context findings and outcomes of the issue and conclusions and implications Issue and Context sections outline the political historical situation and answer the What question Findings and Outcome sections answer the Who Why How and So What questions and Conclusions and Implications sections address Key Points and Lessons

Threat to the Homeland United States. Congress. House. Committee on Homeland Security. Subcommittee on Oversight and Management Efficiency, 2014

A Strategy for the United States to Engage and Contain Venezuela Craig Bowser, 2017-08-14 U S policy toward Latin America has failed to address the region's pressing social and economic problems This gave rise to the Bolivarian revolution in Venezuela After taking office former President Hugo Chavez moved to change the Venezuelan constitution take control of the judicial and legislative branches of government and politicize the military in doing so he eliminated democratic checks and balances and ensured that his Bolivarian revolution would live on after his death War evolves along with society Fourth generation warfare 4GW is ideologically driven Max Manwaring says This kind of conflict is based on perceptions beliefs expectations and dreams Those groups and individuals who engage in 4GW lack power in the conventional sense so they adopt strategies and tactics that do not try to match those of stronger conventional forces with superior military capabilities but instead take advantage of their own particular strengths 4GW is sometimes difficult to recognize because it is likely to be diffuse and largely undefined in the traditional senses of war and peace 4GW is a highly political and usually protracted conflict It is nonlinear and likely to have no traditional battlefields Chavez created a 4GW framework that allows Venezuela to export direct democracy socialist propaganda and asymmetric warfare capabilities easily to friendly governments radical groups and insurgents all over the hemisphere the goal of which is to export instability and generate public opinion in favor of a revolution against the region's stable governments Venezuela has both the capacity and the will to export instability throughout Latin America Instability is the foundation for 4GW and the starting point for nation state failure This is the strategic threat posed by Venezuela and the challenge that the U S faces Because 4GW is political and deliberately protracted in nature the U S must prepare a strategy that is designed to engage and contain 4GW in order to prevent the spread of instability in Latin America The strategy must encompass both political and social elements and be designed to last for decades if necessary This approach is the opposite of today's dominant U S strategy of high tech shock and awe short term warfare The status quo is untenable and will not produce the results that the U S wants and needs Qiao Liang and Wang Xiangsui in their book Unrestricted Warfare say These things make it clear that warfare is no longer an activity confined only to the military sphere and that the course of any war could be changed or its outcome decided by political factors economic factors diplomatic factors cultural factors technological factors or other nonmilitary factors Yearbook of International Organizations ,1989 Warfare in Latin America Miguel Angel Centeno,2007 Five sections reflect the critical stages of military development in the continent The first deals with the conquest in the 16th century the second with the independence process in the first part of the nineteenth century the next two with international and civil conflicts and the last with the challenges of the 21st century
