level of institutional insulation of trade policy executives from interest groups and legislators determines the design of social standards In the EU where institutional insulation is high social standards mirror the normative preferences of the European Commission leading to a softer approach In the US where such insulation is low social standards are driven by interest groups and legislators they control resulting in a stricter approach This book shows that both approaches can be effective but work through different causal mechanisms To test his argument Postnikov draws on original data collected in Brussels Washington Santiago Bogota and Seoul This book will be of interest to all scholars and students working in the fields of international political economy and EU and US trade policy A Guide to Trade Credit Insurance The International Credit Insurance & Surety Association, 2015-06-01 A Guide to Trade Credit Insurance is a reference book on trade credit insurance written from an international perspective It is a compilation of contributions from various authors and reviewers drawn from ICISA member companies The book provides an overview of the whole process regarding trade credit insurance including the history of trade credit insurance trade credit insurance providers the underwriting process premium calculation claims handling case studies and a glossary of terminology
