

AP WORLD HISTORY STUDY GUIDE

Unit 1 (1200-1450):

1.1: State Building in China

- China was kind of like the Texas of the ancient world: Don't mess with China.
- In 960, China was split into regional kingdoms again as the power of the Tang Dynasty was gradually waning. Zhao Kuangyin: ruler of one of those kingdoms that took it upon himself to unify most of them all again as the Song Dynasty. (960-1279)
- Song State Structure: 6 departments
 - Personnel, finance, rites, army, justice, and public works.
 - Censorate overseeing these departments. Made sure no one in these bureaucratic departments were behaving bad.
- Confucianism: chief things that helped organize the government.
 - Great continuity in Chinese culture over the years
 - According to Confucian thought, reality is fundamentally hierarchical. Everyone has their place in society, and everyone needs to behave rightly and fulfill their role for everything to go well. (People subject to rulers, etc.)
- Civil service examination:
 - Influenced by Confucian ideals. Major part of the exam was being WELL VERSED in Confucian ideals.
 - A test you had to pass in order to work in the imperial bureaucracy.
 - Led ruling from a heretic form of aristocracy to a new class of scholarly leaders
 - Aristocracy: a form of government in which power is held by the nobility.
- Chinese merchants participated heavily in robust system of long-distance trade across Afro-Eurasia.
 - Increasingly commercialized Chinese society. People began to produce goods not only for local consumption, but also for distant markets. Chinese manufacturing FLOURISHED during this period.
- By the 11th century, China's iron industry was producing 32,000 suits of armor and 16 million iron arrowheads ANUALLY.
- As commerce grew, role of money also changed. As economy grew, there was not enough precious metal available for minting coins to keep up with the demand.
 - Introduction of paper money
 - Became more popular than minting coins
- Gunpowder
 - Accidental discovery by Daoist alchemists trying to discover elixir of immortality.
 - First application was fireworks and pyrotechnic displays for imperial court, not in a military context.
 - Military context next.
- Influenced Japan
 - Chinese influence was all over Japanese culture.

The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States

The Material of World History Tina Mai Chen, David S. Churchill, 2015-03-27 This volume considers the confluence of World History and historical materialism with the following guiding question in mind given developments in the field of historical materialism concerned with the intersection of race gender labour and class why is it that within the field of World History historical materialism has been marginalized precisely as World History orients toward transnational socio cultural phenomenon micro studies or global histories of networks Answering this question requires thinking in an inter related manner about both the development of World History as a discipline and the place of economic determinism in historical materialism This book takes the position that historical materialism as applied to the field of World History needs to be more open to the methodological diversity of the materialist tradition and to refuse narrowly deterministic frameworks that have led to marginalization of materialist cultural analysis in studies of global capitalism At the same time World History needs to be more self critical of the methodological diversity it has welcomed through a largely inclusionary framework that allows the material to be considered separately from cultural social and intellectual dimensions of global processes

Consumer Cultures Beverly Lemire,2018-01-11 The oceanic explorations of the 1490s led to countless material innovations worldwide and caused profound ruptures Beverly Lemire explores the rise of key commodities across the globe and charts how cosmopolitan consumption emerged as the most distinctive feature of material life after 1500 as people and things became ever more entangled She shows how wider populations gained access to more new goods than ever before and through industrious labour and smuggling acquired goods that heightened comfort redefined leisure and widened access to fashion Consumption systems shaped by race and occupation also emerged Lemire reveals how material cosmopolitanism flourished not simply in great port cities like Lima Istanbul or Canton but increasingly in rural settlements and coastal enclaves The book uncovers the social economic and cultural forces shaping consumer behaviour as well as the ways in which consumer goods shaped and defined empires and communities Navigating World History P.

Manning, 2003-05-15 World history has expanded dramatically in recent years primarily as a teaching field and increasingly as a research field. Growing numbers of teachers and Ph.D.s in history are required to teach the subject. They must be current on topics from human evolution to industrial development in Song dynasty China to today's disease patterns and then link these disparate topics into a coherent course. Numerous textbooks in print and in preparation summarize the field of world history at an introductory level. But good teaching also requires advanced training for teachers and access to a stream of new research from scholars trained as world historians. In this book Patrick Manning provides the first comprehensive overview of the academic field of world history. He reviews patterns of research and debate and proposes guidelines for study by teachers and by researchers in world history.

Teaching World History in the Twenty-first Century: A Resource Book Heidi Roupp, 2015-02-12 This practical handbook is designed to help anyone who is preparing to teach a world history course or wants to teach it better. It includes contributions by experienced teachers who are reshaping world history education and features new approaches to the subject as well as classroom tested practices that have markedly improved world history teaching.

Teaching and Learning History Geoff Timmins, Keith Vernon, Christine Kinealy, 2005-04-18 This book informed by exceptionally wide inquiry into current history teaching practices in the English speaking world is a real achievement. The authors convey current context and challenges with great insight and they move through possibilities in sequencing content skills and assessment without strident comment extending our knowledge of options and pitfalls in the process. Peter N Stearns Provost George Mason University Comprehensive persuasive and at all times accessible in style and argument this text both encourages and empowers university historians to review and enhance their teaching practices. All key facets of programme development are explored with reference to an extensive and well chosen range of international examples. The chapter on the historian's skills and qualities of mind is one of several that I will be referring to frequently.

Jeanine Graham Senior Lecturer History University of Waikato the varied findings make fascinating reading this book should be required reading for everyone involved in teaching history there is plenty here for us all to learn from.

ESCalate In providing such a clear informative and thoughtful exploration of the current state of history in higher education and in helping to raise the quality of critical debate about its future this book contributes greatly to the growing scholarship of teaching and learning in the discipline. It should also become a vital resource for all historians who wish to honour the old dictum that in teaching as in research the one duty we owe history is to rewrite it.

Professor Paul Hyland Director of History in the Subject Centre for History Classics and Archaeology Extremely useful provides a thought provoking and useful discussion concerning the task of actually teaching history at university level. This timely book needs to be read widely and the many issues it raises should command our closest attention.

Higher Education Review Over the last 10 years or so history as an academic discipline has become steeped in controversy and introspection. Additional areas of interest have opened up fresh perspectives and approaches have been offered and new teaching and learning strategies have been advocated. There has been an increasing emphasis on producing well qualified graduates equipped with the skills knowledge and attitudes to cope with the changing demands of the world of work This book suggests how these issues may be managed The authors identify and discuss the underlying principles and consider ways in which they can be applied at module and programme levels The Teaching Learning in the Humanities series edited by Ellie Chambers and Jan Parker is for beginning and experienced lecturers It deals with all aspects of teaching individual arts and humanities subjects in higher education Experienced teachers offer authoritative suggestions on how to become critically reflective about discipline specific practices
