The Writing Of History Michel De Certeau:

The Writing of History Michel de Certeau, 1988 From the seventeenth century attempts to formulate a history of man to Freud's Moses and Monotheism de Certeau examines the West's changing conceptions of the role and nature of history

The Writing of History Michel de Certeau, 1988-01-01 A leading intellectual member of France's Freudian school Michel de Certeau combined principles from the disciplines of religion history and psychoanalysis in order to redefine historiography and rethink the categories of history In The Writing of History de Certeau examines the West's changing conceptions of the very role and nature of history itself from the seventeenth century attempts to formulate a history of man to Freud's Moses and Monotheism with which de Certeau interprets historical practice as a function of mankind's feelings of loss mourning and absence Exhaustively researched and stunningly innovative The Writing of History is a crucial introduction to de Certeau's work and is destined to become a classic of modern thought

History, Theory, Text Elizabeth A. Clark, 2009-07-01 A historian of early Christianity considers various theoretical critiques to examine the problems and opportunities posed by the ways in which history is written Clark argues for a renewal of the study of premodern Western history through engagement with the critical methods that have transformed other humanities disciplines in recent decades

Violence and the Writing of History in the Medieval Francophone World Noah D. Guynn, Zrinka Stahuljak, 2013 An examination of medieval historical writings through the prism of violence The concept of medieval historiography as usable past is here challenged and reassessed The contributors shared claim is that the value of medieval historiographical texts lies not only in the factual information the texts contain but also in the methods and styles they use to represent and interpret the past and make it ideologically productive Violence is used as the key term that best demonstrates the making of historical meaning in the Middle Ages through the transformation of acts of physical aggression and destruction into a memorable and usable past The twelve chapters assembled here explore a wide range of texts emanating from throughout the francophone world They cover a range of genres chansons de geste histories chronicles travel writing and lyric poetry and range from the late eleventh to the fifteenth century Through examination of topics as varied as rhetoric imagery humor gender sexuality trauma subversion and community formation each chapter strives to demonstrate how knowledge of the medieval past can be enhanced by approaching medieval modes of historical representation and consciousness on their own terms and by acknowledging and resisting the desire to subject them to modern conceptions of historical intelligibility Noah D. Guynn is Associate Professor of French at the University of California Davis Zrinka Stahuljak is Associate Professor of French and Comparative Literature at the University of California Los Angeles Contributors Noah D. Guynn Zrinka Stahuljak James Andrew Cowell Jeff Rider Leah Shopkow Matthew Fisher Karen Sullivan David Rollo Deborah McGrady Rosalind Brown Grant Simon Gaunt

On the Edge of the Cliff Roger Chartier, 1997 Throughout Chartier keeps his focus on historians who have stressed the relations between the products of discourse and social practices Michel de Certeau Ian Buchanan,2000 de Certeau is often considered to be the theorist of everyday life par excellence This book provides an unrivalled critical introduction to de Certeau s work and influence and looks at his key ideas and asks how should we try to understand him in relation to theories of modern culture and society Ian Buchanan demonstrates how de Certeau was influenced by Lacan Merleau Ponty and Greimas and the meaning of de Certeau s notions of strategy tactics place and space are clearly described The book argues that de Certeau died before developing the full import of his work for the study of culture and convincingly it tries to complete or imagine the directions that de Certeau s work would have taken had he lived Exile and Return as Poetics of Identity in Contemporary Anglo-Caribbean Literature Eleonora Natalia Ravizza,2019-11-25 In contemporary Anglo Caribbean literature the dialectic interrelations of exile and return are essential for conveying meta reflections on literature and language as well as the role they play in the construction of personal and collective identities While this volume focuses on the specificity of a cultural area whose history is marked by colonialism diaspora slavery and racial conflicts it also raises epistemological questions surrounding the complexity of literature and its function in a world which is ever more composite hybrid and transcultural By developing a new systematic approach which combines post colonial studies theories of intertextuality and philosophy of language it explores how contemporary literary texts reflect elaborate and redefine the experiences of societies that are currently dealing with ever growing global interdependencies and newly formed cultural and semiotic context History and Identity Stefan Berger,2022-01-20 This introduction to contemporary historical theory and practice shows how issues of identity have shaped how we write history Stefan Berger charts how a new self reflexivity about what is involved in the process of writing history entered the historical profession and the part that historians have played in debates about the past and its meaningfulness for the present He introduces key trends in the theory of history such as postmodernism poststructuralism constructivism narrativism and the linguistic turn and reveals in turn the ways in which they have transformed how historians have written history over the last four decades The book ranges widely from more traditional forms of history writing such as political social economic labour and cultural history to the emergence of more recent fields including gender history historical anthropology the history of memory visual history the history of material culture and comparative transnational and global history Handbook for the Historiography of Science Mauro L. Condé,Marlon Salomon,2023-09-30 This book aims to perform a critical and broad assessment of the historiography of science produced from the late nineteenth century to the early twenty first century It presents its main authors concepts ideas conceptions and schools It also analyzes the historical circumstances of the rise of the discipline history of science and the relations of the historiography of science with related areas These chapters do not understand the historiography of science as a mere description or record of the history of science Instead they understand the historiography of science from the epistemological criteria and choices that guided the writing of the history of science in its different contexts In other words more than describing the record of the various possibilities of historiographical approaches to science the chapters carry out an epistemological reflection to assess the bases possibilities scope and limits of different historiographical conceptions authors and traditions that have established the writing of the history of science This book can be conceived as a reference work not only for professional historians and philosophers but also for academics from different backgrounds who are initiating themselves in the universe of history and philosophy of science be they scientists from different fields or young researchers from different backgrounds who want to start studying the history and philosophy of science

Deconstructing History Alun Munslow, 2006 Surveying the latest research this welcome second edition of Alun Munslow s successful Deconstructing History provides an excellent introduction to the debates and issues of postmodernist history This new edition has been updated and revised and along with the original discussion material and topics now assesses the claims of history as a form of truthful explanation discusses the limits of conventional historical thinking and practice and the responses of the new empiricists to the book s central arguments examines the arrival of experimental history and its implications clarifies the utility of addressing Michael Foucault and Hayden White and strengthens the analysis of Frank R Ankersmit s recent work Along with an updated glossary and a revised bibliography this second edition will not only live up to its predecessor s reputation but will surpass it as the most essential student resource for studying history and its practice

Four Histories about Early Dutch Football, 1910-1920 Nicholas Piercey, 2016-10-06 What is the purpose of history today and how can sporting research help us understand the world around us In this stimulating book Nicholas Piercey constructs four new histories of early Dutch football exploring urban change club members the media and the diaries of Cornelis Johannes Karel van Aalst a stadium director to propose practical examples of how history can become an important democratic tool for the 21st century Using early Dutch football as a field for experimental thinking about the past the four histories offer new insights into the lives interests and passions of those connected to the sport in the 1910s and the cities they lived in How did the First World War impact on Dutch football Were new stadia a form of social control Is the spread of the beautiful game really a good thing And why was one of the sport s most prominent figures more concerned with potatoes These stories of early Dutch football suggest how vital sport and history can be in shaping our lives perceptions and actions and why we need to challenge the influence they have today

The Killing of History Keith Windschuttle, 1997 For 2 500 years since the time of Herodotus and Thucydides historians have sought to record the truth about the past Today however the discipline is suffering a potentially lethal attack from the rise to prominence of an array of French inspired literary and social theories each of which denies that truth and knowledge about the past are possible These theories claim the central point on which history was founded no longer holds there is no fundamental distinction between history and myth or between history and fiction Historians in classrooms from Berkeley to Paris have embraced these views and an increasing number of literary critics and social theorists now feel free to define their own work as history and to call themselves historians The result is revolutionary historians have not only changed how history is taught they are also increasingly obscuring the very facts on which the truth must be built In The Killing of History Keith Windschuttle offers both a devastating expose of the absurdity of these developments and a defense of the integrity of Western intellectual traditions which are now so widely attacked Windschuttle examines exactly what is being taught about Columbus discovery of the New World the history of asylums and prisons in Europe the fall of Communism in 1989 and the Battle of Quebec in 1759 He offers a much needed defense of traditional history as a properly scientific endeavor and argues that the great works of history should still be regarded as among the finest forms of Western literature

Between Biblical Criticism and Poetic Rewriting Samuel Tongue,2014-04-17 In Between Biblical Criticism and Poetic Rewriting Samuel Tongue offers an account of the aesthetic and critical tensions inherent in the development of the Higher Criticism of the Bible Different types of Bible are created through the intellectual and literary pressures of Enlightenment and Romanticism and as Tongue suggests it is this legacy that continues to orientate the approaches deemed legitimate in biblical scholarship Using a number of ancient and contemporary critical and poetic rewritings of Jacob s struggle with the angel Gen 32 22 32 Tongue makes use of postmodern theories of textual production to argue that it is the paragesis a parasitical form of writing between disciplines that best foregrounds the complex performativity of biblical interpretation

The Memory of the Modern Matt K. Matsuda,1996 Matsuda proves his argument by visiting a remarkable array of memory sites the destruction of a monument to Napoleon during the 1871 Paris Commune the frantic selling of futures on the Paris stock exchange the state s forensic search for a vagabond rapist and murderer a child s perjured testimony on the witness stand a scientist s dissecting of the human brain the invention of cameras and the cinema

Against History, Against State Shail Mayaram,2003 A reassessment of conventional South Asian historiography from a subaltern perspective and a unique look at how conceptions of history and community clash This incisive study explores the Meo community through their oral literature revealing sophisticated modes of collective memory and self government while telling a story that radically diverges from most accepted Indian histories

History in Financial Times Amin Samman,2019-05-14 Critical theorists of economy tend to understand the history of market society as a succession of distinct stages This vision of history rests on a chronological conception of time whereby each present slips into the past so that a future might take its place This book argues that the linear mode of thinking misses something crucial about the dynamics of contemporary capitalism Rather than each present leaving a set past behind it the past continually circulates through and shapes the present such that historical change emerges through a shifting panorama of historical associations names and dates The result is a strange feedback loop between now and then real and imaginary Demonstrating how this idea can give us a better purchase on financial capitalism in the post crisis era History in Financial Times traces the diverse modes of history production at work in the spheres of financial journalism policymaking and popular culture Paying particular attention to narrative and to notions of crisis recurrence and revelation Amin Samman gives us a novel take on the relation between historical thinking and critique The Historiographic Perversion Marc Nichanian, 2009 The law and the fact the 1994 campaign Between amputation and imputation Refutation Testimony from document to monument

Gorgias and the New Sophistic Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey, 2002 In Gorgias and the New Sophistic Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey achieves three rhetorical goals he treats a single sophist's rhetorical techné in the context of the intellectual upheavals of fifth century BCE Greece thus avoiding the problem of generalizing about a disparate group of individuals he argues that we must abandon Platonic assumptions regarding the sophists in general and Gorgias in particular opting instead for a holistic reading of the Gorgianic fragments and he reexamines the practice of appropriating sophistic doctrines particularly those of Gorgias in light of the new interpretation of Gorgianic rhetoric offered in this book In the first two chapters McComiskey deals with a misconception based on selective and Platonic readings of the extant fragments that Gorgias's rhetorical techné involves the deceptive practice of manipulating public opinion This popular and ultimately misleading interpretation of Gorgianic doctrines has been the basis for many neosophistic appropriations The final three chapters deal with the nature and scope of neosophistic rhetoric in light of the non Platonic and holistic interpretation of Gorgianic rhetoric McComiskey postulates in his opening chapters He concludes by examining the future of communication studies to discover what roles neosophistic doctrines might play in the twenty first century McComiskey also provides a selective bibliography of scholarship on sophistic rhetoric and philosophy in English since 1900 The Stages of Age Anne Davis Basting, 1998 A first of its kind study that explores the intersections of performance and aging Playwright and scholar Anne Davis Basting explores both aging actors and aging AS acting in a cross section of American theatrical representations that hope to catalyze shifts in our understanding of age Illustrations
