MAIN IDEAS

The Epidemic of Mass Incarceration

From slavery to Jim Crow laws, African Americans have long been relegated to the status of second-class citizens by society, government, and police. The War on Drugs ushered in a new system of racial control under the guise of drug law enforcement—mass incarceration.

The Instructional Coaching Handbook A. Keith Young, Angela Bell, Julien, Tamarra Osborne, 2023-02-06. Three instructional coaches share more than 200 of the most helpful problem-solving strategies they've used in their decades-long work with teachers, administrators, and coaches. The Instructional Coaching Handbook is not a new model of coaching. It addresses common hiccups that prevent productive coaching conversations from happening in the first place. From their thousands of annual school visits, the authors recognize that coaches frequently confront similar challenges when helping educators address seven skills and dispositions, and they devote a chapter to each: Efficacy, Equity, Academic instruction, Social-emotional instruction, Openness to feedback, Lesson planning, Team membership. Each chapter features scores of practical, research-based strategies with a history of success. Mix and match them according to your leadership style, the needs of the student or teacher, and the demands of the curriculum. In addition to implementation stories that show what the strategies look like in a range of classroom settings, this handbook includes effective tools and resources that help guide you through the thorniest of coaching conversations. All you have to do is dive into an appropriate chapter, scan for ideas that match your style, the educators you coach, and your unique context, and start making a difference.

A Guide to Teaching in the Active Learning Classroom Paul Baepler, J. D. Walker, D. Christopher Brooks, Kem Saichaie, Christina I. Petersen, 2023-07-03. While Active Learning Classrooms or ALCs offer rich new environments for learning, they present many new challenges to faculty because, among other things, they eliminate the room's central focal point and disrupt the conventional seating plan to which faculty and students have become accustomed. The importance of learning how to use these classrooms well and to capitalize on their special features is paramount. The potential they represent can be realized only when they facilitate improved learning outcomes and engage students in the learning process in a manner different from traditional classrooms and lecture halls. This book provides an introduction to ALCs, briefly covering their history and then synthesizing the research on these spaces to provide faculty with empirically based practical guidance on how to use these unfamiliar spaces effectively. Among the questions this book addresses are: How can instructors mitigate the apparent lack of a central focal point in the space? What types of learning activities work well in the ALCs and take advantage of the affordances of the room How can teachers address familiar classroom management challenges in these unfamiliar spaces If assessment and rapid feedback are critical in active learning how do they work in a room filled with circular tables and no central focus point How do instructors balance group learning with the needs of the larger class How can students be held accountable when many will necessarily have their backs facing the instructor How can instructors evaluate the effectiveness of their teaching in these spaces This book is intended for faculty preparing to teach in or already working in this new classroom environment for administrators planning to create ALCs or experimenting with provisionally designed rooms and for faculty developers helping teachers transition to using these new spaces Study Guide With Map Exercises for Use with the Unfinished Nation Alan Brinkley,Harvey H. Surviving Collapse Christina Ergas, 2021 As environmental crises loom Surviving Collapse makes an argument for radical changes in the ways in which people live to avoid a dystopian future To foster readers imagination Christina Ergas reveals real utopian stories that counter climate apocalypse narratives Two eco communities offer examples of alternative futures with small environmental footprints and more egalitarian social practices They model solutions to the interconnected problems of rising social inequalities and environmental degradation Each case engages in community oriented practices direct democracy and ecological agricultural forms that attend to whole ecosystems These practitioners recognize the value of whole biotic communities human and nonhuman and practice reciprocity

Transformative Schooling Vajra M. Watson, 2018-05-11 Discussions of achievement gaps are commonplace in education reform but they are rarely interrogated as a symptom of white supremacy As an act of disruption award winning scholar Vajra Watson pierces through the rhetoric and provides a provocative analysis of the ways schools can become more racially inclusive Her research is grounded in Oakland where longitudinal data demonstrated that Black families were sending their children to school but the ideals of an oasis of learning were being met with the realities of racism low expectations and marginalization As a response to this intergenerational crisis of miseducation in 2010 the school district joined forces with community organizers religious leaders neighborhood elders teachers parents and students to address institutionalized racism Seven years later Watson shares findings from her investigation into the school district's journey towards justice What she creates is a wholly original work filled with penetrating portraits that illuminate the intense and intimate complexities of working towards racial equity in education As a formidable case study this research scrutinizes how to reconfigure organizational ecosystems as spaces that humanize heal and harmonize Emerging from her scholarship is a bold timely and hopeful vision that paves the way for transformative schooling
