Things Fall Apart? Michael Paget-Wilkes, 2020-05-29 This book calls for a major paradigm shift in the church's thinking and practice if the church is to engage with the upcoming generations of the third decade of this fast changing twenty first century Just as the church has had to adapt to a changing context in the past it now needs to engage seriously with this post enlightenment post human techno centric age of artificial intelligence However the church also needs to recall its counter cultural prophetic role following Elijah Jeremiah Amos Jesus and Paul challenging society as it faces complex dilemmas raised by technology driven development in these unprecedented times The church will have to acknowledge unaddressed weaknesses in the past of identifying with established power rather than vulnerability and the marginalized of depending on a hierarchical ministerial order at the expense of the ministry of every believer of acquiescing to materialist anthropocentric and consumerist growth as an undisputable norm This book develops the vision of a church engaged in the mission of God of welcoming technological development but with an eye on kingdom values of promoting innovation so long as it does not result in a growth of inequality or at the expense of the environment of pointing towards a humanity that deepens its relationships with its Creator its fellow humans and its environment The author calls on grassroots believers to reflect and act within their local communities as inspired and empowered daughters and sons of God in the knowledge that following Jesus Christ provides a radical new paradigm for living learning and leading in and through these times of epochal change

Postcolonial Imaginations and Moral Representations in African Literature and Culture Chielozona Eze, 2011-12-16. The postcolonial African culture as it is discoursed in the academia is largely influenced by Africa's response to colonialism. To the degree that it is a response it is to considerably reactive and lacks forceful moral incentives for social critical consciousness and nation building. Quite on the contrary it allows especially African political leaders to luxuriate in the delusions of moral rectitude imploring at will the evil of imperialism as a buffer to their disregard of their people. This book acknowledges the social and psychological devastations of colonialism on the African world. It however argues that the totality of African intellectual response to colonialism and Western imperialism is equally if not more damaging to the African world. In what ways does the average African leader indeed the average African judge and respond to his world? How does he conceive of his responsibility towards his community and society? The most obvious impact of African response to colonialism is the implicit search for a pristine innocent paradigm in for instance literary philosophical social political and gender studies. This search has its own moral implication in the sense that it makes the taking of responsibility on individual and social level highly difficult. Focusing on the moral impact of responses to colonialism in Africa and the African Diaspora this book analyzes the various manifestations of delusions of moral innocence that has held the African leadership from the onerous task of bearing responsibility for their countries. It argues that one of the ways to recast the African leaders responsibility towards Africa is to let go on the one hand the gaze of the West and on the other of the search for the innocent African experience and cultures. Relying on the insights of thinkers such as Frantz Fanon Wole Soyinka Kwame Anthony Appiah Achille Mbembe and Wolfgang Iser this book suggests new approaches to interpreting African experiences. It discusses select African works of fiction as a paradigm for new interpretations of African experiences.

Conrad's Shadow Nidesh Lawtoo, 2016-09-01. Western thought has often dismissed shadows as fictional but what if fictions reveal original truths? Drawing on an anti-Platonic tradition in critical theory Lawtoo adopts ethical anthropological and philosophical lenses to offer new readings of Joseph Conrad's novels and the postcolonial and cinematic works that respond to his oeuvre. He argues that Conrad's fascination with doubles urges readers to reflect on the two sides of mimesis: one side is dark and pathological and involves the escalation of violence contagious epidemics and catastrophic storms; the other side is luminous and therapeutic and promotes communal survival postcolonial reconciliation and plastic adaptations to changing environments Once joined the two sides reveal Conrad as an author whose Janus faced fictions are powerfully relevant to our contemporary world of global violence and environmental crisis
