Major conflict

On one level, the conflict is between the traditional society of Umuofia and the new customs brought by the whites, which are in turn adopted by many of the villagers. Okonkwo also struggles to be as different from his deceased father as possible. He believes his father to have been weak, effeminate, lazy, disgraceful, and poor. Consequently, Okonkwo strives to be strong, masculine, industrious, respected, and wealthy.

Rising action

Enoch's unmasking of an egwagwu, the egwagwu's burning of the church, and the District Commissioner's sneaky arrest of Umuofian leaders force the tension between Umuofia and the colonizers to a breaking point.

Climax

Okonkwo's murder, or uto, of a court messenger

Falling action

The villagers allow the white government's messengers to escape and Okonkwo, realizing the weakness of his clan, commits suicide.

Themes

The struggle between tradition and change; varying interpretations of masculinity; language as a sign of cultural difference

Motifs

Chi, animal imagery

Symbols

The novel is highly symbolic, and it asks to be read in symbolic terms. Two of the main symbols are the locusts and fire. The locusts symbolize the white colonists descending upon the Africans, seeming to promise good but actually signifying troublesome encounters. Fire epitomizes Okonkwo's nature—he is fierce and destructive. A third symbol, the drums, represents the physical connection of the community of clansmen in Umuofia, and acts as a metaphorical heartbeat that beats in unison, uniting all the village members.
