

Things fall apart chapter 1 summary

As both being men, Awoken and Annoy tried to hide their emotions over Snakeskin's death; however, as the reader one knows that Awoken felt depressed and weak while Annoy was just as depressed as his father, but also disappointed in him. Awoken experienced depression. "Awoken did not taste any food for two days after the death of Shameful. He drank palm-wine from morning till night and his eyes were red and fierce like the eyes of a rat when caught by the tail and dashed against the floor." (Achebe) Awoken clearly shows the moon signs of depression, as he loses appetite and begins to drink even more.

A person, in this case Awoken, does not want to eat and it is very common for people who are depressed to drown their sorrows with alcohol, thinking it will help them. Awoken also stayed in his hut avoiding everyone during this time, even his family, which lets the reader know Picador 2 that he does not want people to see him as being weak because it reminds him of his father. A rat that has been caught by the tail is helpless, so Achebe is trying to describe how Awoken feels, helpless. He also begins to elk down on himself. When did you become a shivering old woman," Awoken asked himself, "you, who are known in all the nine villages for your valor on war? How can a man who has killed five men in battle fall to pieces because he has added a boy to their number? Awoken, you have become a woman indeed." (Achebe) Weak, the only word Awoken would have used to describe himself after Snakeskin's death. He cannot describe why he feels this way after the death of some boy who wasn't blood related and calls himself a "woman", another way to say that he was weak and soft.

In his ultra, a woman may be the worst thing a man can call himself, or another man, due to the fact that all women do is stay at home to take of the kids and make his man happy no matter what he has done. Awoken, who has killed five men in the past, cannot come to the conclusion that Shameful really meant more to him than what he thought since he has fallen to pieces after his death. Annoy was also very depressed. "A deathly silence descended on Ginkgo's compound. Even the very little children seemed to know. Throughout that day Annoy sat in his mother's hut and tears stood in his eyes. (Achebe) One an only imagine the pain Annoy went through while losing what he once called a brother that had helped him become a man. If the very young children were aware of what was really going on, than Annoy would have alas known that Shameful was not going to go back with his own family. he knew there was no way they would just let him go like that. This happened after Awoken left with Shameful which was the only reason Annoy was able to show emotion about what they were going to do to Shameful. Annoy Picador 3 had already been beaten once for crying when he first found out about Shameful leaving.

Handbook of Research on Supporting Social and Emotional Development Through Literacy Education Tussey, Jill, Haas, Leslie, 2021-06-25 The social and emotional welfare of students in both K-12 and higher education settings has become increasingly important during the third decade of the 21st century as students face a variety of social-emotional learning (SEL) challenges related to a multitude of internal and external factors. As concepts around traditional literacy education evolve and become more culturally and linguistically relevant, the connections between SEL and academic literacy opportunities warrant considerable exploration. The Handbook of Research on Supporting Social and Emotional Development Through Literacy Education develops a conceptual framework around pedagogical connections to social and emotional teaching and learning within K-12 literacy practices. This text provides a variety of research and practice protocols supporting student success through the integration of SEL and literacy across grade levels. Covering topics such as culturally relevant literacy, digital literacy, and content area literacy, this handbook is essential for curriculum directors, education faculty, instructional facilitators, literacy professionals, practicing teachers, pre-service teachers, professional development coordinators, school counselors, teacher preparation programs, academicians, researchers, and students.

Indirect Subjects Matthew H. Brown, 2021-08-23 In Indirect Subjects Matthew H Brown analyzes the content of the prolific Nigerian film industry's mostly direct-to-video movies alongside local practices of production and circulation to show how screen media play spatial roles in global power relations Scrutinizing the deep structural and aesthetic relationship between Nollywood as the industry is known and Nigerian state television Brown tracks how several Nollywood films in ways similar to both state television programs and colonial cinema productions invite local spectators to experience liberal capitalism not only as a form of exploitation but as a set of expectations about the future This mode of address which Brown refers to as periliberalism sustains global power imbalances by locating viewers within liberalism but distancing them from its processes and benefits Locating the wellspring of this hypocrisy in the British Empire's practice of indirect rule Brown contends that culture industries like Nollywood can sustain capitalism by isolating ordinary African people whose labor and consumption fuel it from its exclusive privileges Emerging Perspectives on Chinua Achebe Ernest Emenyonu, 2004 This compendium of 37 essays provides global perspectives of Achebe as an artist with a proper sense of history and an imaginative writer with an inviolable sense of cultural mission and political commitment
