

Find The Homophones - Story

Homophones are words that sound the same, but are spelt differently and have different meanings.

For example: flower / flour. The flower was pink.

You need flour to make bread.

Read this story. Look for homophones that have been used incorrectly. When you find one, cross it out and write the correct spelling above it.

This is a tale about a King, who lived in an old castle. His rain had lasted over for years, when he decided he didn't want to be King anymore. So he decided to find someone to take his place. Who would he choose? He didn't know what to do. Finally he had a great idea. 'I will find someone by holding a contest,' he said to the Queen. The maid overheard the conversation and rushed home to tell her son. Her son, James, wasn't interested, he replied 'It is a waste of time, I won't win.' The contest involved fighting a dragon and he was scared!

The day of the contest arrived. James had not been looking forward to it. 'I will try my hardest and see what happens,' he said to the maid. At five o'clock, he made his way to the castle. He could hear the crowd of people cheering on the brave knights, as they took it in turns to battle the dragon. One by one, the knights gave up. The dragon had a huge pair of wings and breathed fire. 'I will meet you after the fight' said his mother. She knew her son would do well.

James slowly entered the arena, the crowd had to wait for the dragon to approach James. 'Oh dear, what shall I do?' thought James. He threw some stones at the dragon. The dragon turned and flew towards him. James held his sword tight and battled the fierce dragon for an hour. Exhausted, James had an idea. He would have to be quick. He tied some rope around his waist and climbed up a tree. The other end of the rope was tied to the branch. With no time to spare, he swung himself off the tree and stuck his sword in the dragon's neck. The dragon fell. James had won.
