Definitions

	The perspective from which a story is told. It depends on who the narrator or speaker is and how much he or she knows. The _____ could be first person (I went to the store), second person (You went to the store), or third person (He went to the store). (RL5)
	The character who tells the story in a literary text from his or her point of view. (RL6)
	In a literary writing, writers use structure to convey meaning. This helps break longer pieces of writing into smaller portions that are grouped together because they happened around the same time or because they share a similar meaning. (RL5) • Chapter: A chapter is a section of a book. Books are often divided into chapters. (RL5) • Scene: A scene is a section of a drama or play. Plays are often divided into scenes. (RL5) • Stanza: A stanza is a section of a poem. Poems are often divided into stanzas. (RL5)
	The specific order of a series of events that form a story. (RL3)
	The lesson or message of a literary text. For example, a story could be about two friends who like to do things together, and the theme might be the importance of friendship. (RL2)
	An overview of a text that captures the main points but does not give every detail and does not include opinions. (RL2)
	The most important point or idea that the author is making in a text. It is also known as the main idea. (RL2)
	This refers to the way an author develops a character over the course of a text. (RL3)
	This text structure is used when analyzing two things, such as characters or stories, in relation to each other, and while analyzing the differences between two things, such as two different characters or stories. (RI.9)
	When words, symbols, themes or other parts of the story are used more than once for emphasis
