Green, 2003-06-30 In this comprehensive study of a common deity found in the ancient Near East as well as many other cultures Green brings together evidence from the worlds of myth iconography and literature in an attempt to arrive at a new synthesis regarding the place of the Storm god He finds that the Storm god was the force primarily responsible for three major areas of human concern 1 religious power because he was the ever dominant environmental force upon which peoples depended for their very lives 2

centralized political power and 3 continuously evolving sociocultural processes which typically were projected through the Storm god's attendants Green traces these motifs through the Mesopotamian Anatolian Syrian and Levantine regions with regard to the latter he argues that Yahweh of the Bible can be identified as a storm god though certain unique characteristics came to be associated with him he was the Creator of all that is created and the self-existing god who needs no other

Through The Storm (Volume 1) YU Ruxin, 2024-07-20 Mao Zedong once famously said Power grows from the barrel of a gun and a prime example is the People's Liberation Army PLA With the founding of the People's Republic of China the PLA's mandate extended beyond safeguarding national security to maintaining domestic order and keeping the Chinese Communist Party in power In the 1960s and 1970s the PLA was Mao's chief instrument in preparing launching and further developing the Cultural Revolution but its role was complex and often opaque Through the Storm meticulously traces the PLA's role through archival research and interviews with retired cadres and officers to show that the military's role in the Cultural Revolution has been historically understated and that it eclipsed that of the more high profile civilian Red Guards in both scale and duration With its Chinese edition hailed in media and academia as an exceptionally valuable achievement this book's condensed English edition offers international readers a deeper understanding of the PLA's role in launching and perpetuating the most sustained and violent campaign in modern Chinese history
