Encyclopaedia Britannica: Bisharin-Calgary Hugh Chisholm,1910 This eleventh edition was developed during the encyclopaedia's transition from a British to an American publication Some of its articles were written by the best known scholars of the time and it is considered to be a landmark encyclopaedia for scholarship and literary style The Encyclopaedia Britannica ,1911 In Their Own Words David Aaron,2008-10-15 This book presents the actual statements and writings of jihadis expressing their views on virtually every subject relevant to their cause It is not about Islam as it is practiced in its many varieties in Muslim communities throughout the world nor is it about Islamic fundamentalism or the various Islamist political movements Rather it is about a small group of Muslims who carry out and promote terrorism in the name of Islam Because the jihadis statements are often more appalling and more profoundly revealing than the accounts that have been written about jihadi terrorism this book provides unfiltered access to a broad range of the stories rationales ideas and arguments of jihadi terrorists and those who support them Introductory and contextual material is also included to provide the background and origins of what the jihadis are saying to each other and to the world It is hoped that this will provide greater insights into the motives plans and participants in jihadi terrorism as well as the nature of the threat they pose Not all of the quotations are from prominent jihadis Some have been selected because they are representative others because they are contradictory and still others because they provide a unique insight into the jihadi mentality The Calcutta Gazette ,1912 The Iraq-Kuwait Dispute: The international status of Kuwait ,1994 The Encyclopaedia Britannica Hugh Chisholm,1910 British Museum Catalogue of printed Books ,1895 Calcutta Gazette Bengal (India),1924 Swahili Muslim Publics and Postcolonial Experience Kai Kresse,2018-12-17 Swahili Muslim Publics and Postcolonial Experience is an exploration of the ideas and public discussions that have shaped and defined the experience of Kenyan coastal Muslims Focusing on Kenyan postcolonial history Kai Kresse isolates the ideas that coastal Muslims have used to separate themselves from their upcountry Christian countrymen Kresse looks back to key moments and key texts pamphlets newspapers lectures speeches radio discussions as a way to map out the postcolonial experience and how it is negotiated in the coastal Muslim community On one level this is a historical ethnography of how and why the content of public discussion matters so much to communities at particular points in time Kresse shows how intellectual practices can lead to a regional understanding of the world and society On another level this ethnography of the postcolonial experience also reveals dimensions of intellectual practice in religious communities and thus provides an alternative model that offers a non Western way to understand regional conceptual frameworks and intellectual practice CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPAEDIA: A DICTIONARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE NEW EDITION VOL. research on the effects of media violence but less work on what attracts audiences to representations of violence in the first place Drawing on historical sociology cultural studies feminist and queer theory masculinity studies and textual analysis David Hansen Miller explains how the exercise of violence has been concealed and denied by modern society at the same time that it retains considerable power over how we live our lives He demonstrates how discourses of sexuality and gender even romantic love are freighted with the micropolitics of violence Confronted with such contradictions audiences are drawn to the cinema where they can see violence graphically restored to everyday life Popular cinema holds the power to narrate and interpret social forces that have become too opaque diffuse and dynamic to otherwise comprehend Through detailed engagement with specific narratives from the last century of popular film The Cabinet of Dr Caligari The Sheik Once Upon a Time in the West Deliverance and the pervasive violence of contemporary cinema Hansen Miller investigates the manner in which representations can transform our understanding of how violence works Trübner's Bibliographical Catalogues
