Too Much Information? Andrew Graystone, 2019-09-30 Almost without noticing it happen we have found ourselves shopping communicating playing and even worshipping online Andrew Graystone aims to help Christians who want to think through their own engagement in digital culture addressing ten key questions on how digital technology is changing our lives today

Too Much Information Cass R. Sunstein, 2022-02-15 The New York Times bestselling co author of Nudge explores how more information can make us happy or miserable and why we sometimes avoid it but sometimes seek it out How much information is too much Do we need to know how many calories are in the giant vat of popcorn that we bought on our way into the movie theater Do we want to know if we are genetically predisposed to a certain disease Can we do anything useful with next week s weather forecast for Paris if we are not in Paris In Too Much Information Cass Sunstein examines the effects of information on our lives Policymakers emphasize the right to know but Sunstein takes a different perspective arguing that the focus should be on human well being and what information contributes to it Government should require companies employers hospitals and others to disclose information not because of a general right to know but when the information in question would significantly improve people s lives Of course says Sunstein we are better off with stop signs warnings on prescription drugs and reminders about payment due dates But sometimes less is more What we need is more clarity about what information is actually doing or achieving

Too Much Information Dave Gorman, 2014-09-04 It s hard to imagine a world where anything you could possibly want to know about and everything you don t even know you want to know about isn t accessible 24 hours a day seven days a week with just a few taps of our fingers But that world once existed And Dave Gorman remembers it He remembers when there were only three channels on TV He remembers when mobile phones were the preserve of arrogant estate agents and yuppie twonks And he remembers when you had to unplug your phone to plug the computer into the landline in order to use the crippling slow internet Nowadays of course the world is full of people trying to tell us things So much so that we have taught our brains not to pay much attention After all click the mouse tap the screen flick the channel and it s on to the next thing But Dave Gorman thinks it s time to have a closer look to find out how much nonsense we tacitly accept Suspicious adverts baffling newspaper headlines fake twitter endless cat videos insane TV shows where the presenters ask the same questions over and over Can we even hear ourselves think over the rising din Or is there just too much information
