Fighting Fraud and Corruption at the World Bank Stefano Manacorda, Costantino Grasso, 2018-05-04 This book focuses on the World Bank's sanctions system which is an innovative instrument of global governance implemented by the leading multilateral development bank in order to impose penalties on legal entities and individuals that are involved in Bank financed projects Although similar regimes have also been implemented by other regional multilateral development banks the World Bank's legal framework is currently the most comprehensive one The book offers a rich and detailed analysis of the sanctions system presenting an in depth examination of all the phases of its procedure with a special focus on key aspects such as the criteria for assigning liability to legal entities and corporate groups as well as the World Bank's jurisdictional reach over non contractors The book also explores the compatibility between the legal framework implemented by the Bank and the rule of law the role of precedents and the level of due process It highlights the fact that the sanctions system is currently characterized by a lack of legal guarantees and that there are compelling reasons for supporting the argument that due process safeguards should be applied to it in their entirety To that end the book conducts a thorough analysis of specific procedural aspects such as the right to a hearing the right to evidence disclosure the time limit regime the standard of proof and shift of the burden of proof the evidential value of a party's silence and the consistency and predictability of the World Bank's sentencing practice The study is conducted on the basis of a detailed and painstaking examination of the most relevant decisions taken by the Sanctions Board providing the first ever commentary on the World Bank's case law

Development Management of Transforming Economies Fabiana Sciarelli, Azzurra Rinaldi, 2016-12-14 This insightful book offers a new and innovative tool in the study of development The authors propose The Overall Development Model which provides a strategy for long term sustainable and adaptable development for countries around the globe Starting with a comprehensive study into what development is and how it is achieved Development Management of Transforming Economies critically analyzes current development schemes within transforming economies and examines their various actors both international and local public and private It examines the implementation of health education and economic strategies of countries in Africa and Asia that have either undergone a development process experienced slow but steady progress or are just beginning to pursue a development strategy In considering human development as a whole the authors assert a new method of development that includes the developing population and highlights the need for countries to define their own unique development process

Long-Term Economic Growth in the World's Smallest Economies Aneta A. Teperek, 2025-02-04 This book investigates the historical political and economic circumstances of the world's smallest economies as key determinants influencing their economic growth and development A historical survey of the global economy provides an introduction to the history of the world's smallest economies which are examined based on their shared historical characteristics colonialism socialism and independence In addition to historical factors the reasons are sought in the political systems especially the political regimes of the countries under study as well as in the intensity of their integration with the global economy through membership in international organisations The majority of the book is dedicated to economic aspects which have been studied for nearly fifty years This includes an investigation into the factors influencing GDP and GDP per capita fluctuations across all countries To assess levels of socio economic development and quality of life the Human Development Index was employed as a means of assessment This book is addressed to students and scholars engaged in research or with an interest in economic history political systems international relations and the growth and economic development of the world's 93 smallest economies generating 1% of global GDP

Current Account Reversals and Currency Crises Mr. Gian Milesi-Ferretti, Assaf Razin, 1998-06-01 This paper studies large reductions in current account deficits and exchange rate depreciations in low and middle income countries It examines which factors help predict the occurrence of a reversal or a currency crisis and how these events affect macroeconomic performance Both domestic factors such as the low reserves and external factors such as unfavorable terms of trade are found to trigger reversals and currency crises The two types of events are however distinct an exchange rate crash is associated with a fall in output growth and a recovery thereafter while for reversals there is no systematic evidence of a growth slowdown

Sharp Reductions in Current Account Deficits Mr. Gian Milesi-Ferretti, Assaf Razin, 1997-12-01 The paper studies determinants and consequences of sharp reductions in current account imbalances reversals in low and middle income countries It poses two questions what triggers reversals and what factors explain how costly reversals are It finds that both domestic variables such as the current account balance openness to trade and the level of reserves and external variables such as terms of trade shocks U S real interest rates and growth in industrial countries seem to play important roles in explaining reversals in current account imbalances It also finds some evidence that countries with a less appreciated real exchange rate higher investment and more openness before the reversal tend to grow faster after a reversal occurs

Growth and Institutions in African Development Augustin K. Fosu,2015-03-24 Recent years have seen a sustained research effort exploring the African development experience The extant literature has offered a large set of explanations as to why the African development record has lagged behind that of other regions of the developing world This new volume brings international contributors together to focus on the role of growth and institutions First it provides brief evidence on the growth and institutional records as well as on development outcomes during the post independence period Second it targets certain growth determinants including industrial embeddedness innovation exchange rate regimes and environmental quality Third it sheds light on the dynamics and distribution of growth and on growth enhancing sectors of the economy Finally it investigates several issues of institutional development as well as institutions generating development outcomes Though focused on these two key areas the coverage strives to achieve a comprehensive analysis of how Africa s development may have been enhanced or undermined and to offer lessons for the future This volume is essential reading for all scholars of development economics and development studies World Bank Economic Rev V10 No3 E World Bank Staff,1996

Environmental Education in the Schools Judy Braus,David Wood,1993 The World Bank Open Data The World Bank Group,2010 Assessing World Bank Support for Trade, 1987-2004 Yvonne M. Tsikata,2006 This evaluation of the Bank s assistance on trade related issues focuses on the period between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 The majority of developing countries have significantly improved their environment for trade and economic growth following over two decades of assistance from the Bank in trade reform Arguably the developing world is more open today than at any time in recent memory Developing countries have more than doubled their exports since the mid 1980s helping many of them to grow steadily Exports and imports have risen as a share of the gross domestic product GDP across a wide range of countries fueled in part by China s remarkable trade performance and the growth in services trade Trade policies have also been significantly liberalized Average import tariffs have fallen steadily over the period although the fall in other forms of protection has been more gradual Between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 about 8.1 percent of total Bank commitments went to 117 countries to help them better integrate into the global economy This financing has been accompanied by a large volume of analysis in operational economic and sector work ESW research publications on trade and working papers on trade related topics During the first phase starting in the 1980s the Bank focused largely on the traditional trade agenda related to opening up economies During the second phase from the mid to late 1990s the Bank s emphasis on trade declined although the impact of earlier trade reforms was still playing out In the third phase initiated with the collapse of the World Trade

Organization WTO Seattle trade ministerial meeting in 1999 growing pressure to deliver on the Millennium Development Goals MDG and interest from development partners notably bilateral donors led the Bank to reappraise its trade activities This phase has focused on the global trading system and behind the border barriers to trade The Bank's trade activities during the period were led by a trade policy reform package supported by four components import related export related exchange rate and foreign exchange management and industrial and other supporting policies This assessment reviews project related outcomes and outputs to focus on the progress toward a more development friendly trading Recommendations include addressing poverty distributional outcomes and external shocks in a balanced approach revisiting the balance between global and country agendas and strengthening operational links on trade issues and strengthening knowledge management efforts
