Hawk,2018-06-26 Preaching Apocrypha in Anglo Saxon England is the first in depth study of Christian apocrypha focusing specifically on the use of extra biblical narratives in Old English sermons The work contributes to our understanding of both the prevalence and importance of apocrypha in vernacular preaching by assessing various preaching texts from Continental and Anglo Saxon Latin homiliaries as well as vernacular collections like the Vercelli Book the Blickling Book lfric s Catholic Homilies and other manuscripts from the tenth through twelfth centuries Vernacular sermons were part of a media ecology that included Old English poetry legal documents liturgical materials and visual arts Situating Old English preaching within this network establishes the range of contexts purposes and uses of apocrypha for diverse groups in Anglo Saxon society cloistered religious secular clergy and laity including both men and women Apocryphal narratives did not merely survive on the margins of culture but thrived at the heart of mainstream Anglo Saxon Christianity The Translator on Stage

Geraldine Brodie,2017-12-28 In today s theatre productions of plays that originated in another language are frequently distinguished by two characteristics the authorship of the English text by a well known local theatre specialist and the absence of the term translation generally in favour of adaptation or version The Translator on Stage investigates the creative processes that bring translated plays to the mainstream stage exploring the commissioning translation and development procedures that end with a performed play Through a sample of eight plays that span two thousand years and six languages including Festen Don Carlos Hedda Gabler and The UN Inspector and that were all staged within a three month period Geraldine Brodie brings in a wide range of theatre practitioners to discuss their roles in the translation process and the motivations that govern London theatre translation activities The Translator on Stage is informed by specially conducted interviews with the productions producers artistic directors directors literary managers playwrights and specialist translators including Michael Grandage Rufus Norris David Eldridge Juan Mayorga David Johnston and Mike Poulton It sheds new light not only on theatrical translation procedures but also on the place of translation in society today Shakespeare and the Ethics of Appropriation Alexa Huang,Elizabeth Rivlin,2014-10-23 Making an important new contribution to rapidly expanding fields of study surrounding the adaptation and appropriation of Shakespeare Shakespeare and the Ethics of Appropriation is the first book to address the intersection of ethics aesthetics authority and authenticity

Art and the Performance of Memory Richard Cándida Smith, 2003-08-29 This book investigates the role that the visual and performing arts play in our experience and understanding of the past The essays highlight the role of oral history in the documentation of the visual and performing arts

Adapting Translation for the Stage Geraldine Brodie, Emma Cole, 2017-07-06 Translating for performance is a difficult and hotly contested activity Adapting Translation for the Stage presents a sustained dialogue between scholars actors directors writers and those working across these boundaries exploring common themes and issues encountered when writing staging and researching translated works It is organised into four parts each reflecting on a theatrical genre where translation is regularly practised The Role of Translation in Rewriting Naturalist Theatre Adapting Classical Drama at the Turn of the Twenty First Century Translocating Political Activism in Contemporary Theatre Modernist Narratives of Translation in Performance A range of case studies from the National Theatre's Medea to The Gate Theatre's Dances of Death and Emily Mann's The House of Bernarda Alba shed new light on the creative processes inherent in translating for the theatre destabilising the literal performable binary to suggest that adaptation and translation can and do coexist on stage Chronicling the many possible intersections between translation theory and practice Adapting Translation for the Stage offers a unique exploration of the processes of translating adapting and relocating work for the theatre

Translation Studies and China Haiping Yan, Haina Jin, Paul Gladston, 2023-09-22 Focusing on transculturality this edited volume explores how the role of translation and the idea of untranslatability in the transformative complementation of different civilizations facilitates the transcultural connection between Chinese and other cultures in the modern era Bringing together established international scholars and emerging new voices this collection explores the linguistic social and cultural implications of translation and transculturality The 13 chapters not only discuss the translation of literature but also break new ground by addressing the translation of cinema performance and the visual arts which are active bearers of modern and contemporary culture that are often neglected by academics Our volume is ground breaking in its transdisciplinary attention to the study of translation related to China and such a transdisciplinarity should serve as a ground breaking leverage for other areas of humanities as well Through an engagement with these diverse fields the title aims not only to reflect on how translation has reproduced values concepts and cultural forms but also to stimulate the emergence of new possibilities in the dynamic transcultural interplay between China and the diverse national cultural linguistic and contexts of Europe the Americas and Asia It shows how cultures have been appropriated misunderstood transformed and reconstructed through processes of linguistic mediation as well as how knowledge understanding and connections have been generated through transculturality The book will be a must read for scholars and students of translation studies transcultural studies and Chinese studies

Explaining Pictures Ikumi Kaminishi, 2006-02-28 Early Japanese Buddhism was patronized by the literate classes and remained a prerogative of the elite until the end of the twelfth century With the fiscal and political decline of its aristocratic patrons the Buddhist establishment turned increasingly to lay commoners for financial support using paintings to accommodate its new and often subliterate audiences One type of preaching known as etoki pictorial decipherment helped bridge the worlds of esoteric Buddhism and lay practice and reveals much about the role of art in the context of didactic storytelling and proselytization Beginning with the provocative claim that the popularization of Buddhism in the medieval period was a phenomenon of visual culture Explaining Pictures reexamines the history and historiography of medieval Japanese Buddhism With theoretical sophistication and a full appreciation of the power of imagery to convey and control religious meaning it investigates a range of aspects of etoki including the particularly active role of itinerant nuns whose performances were especially edifying to female audiences as well as the visual hagiography of the reputed founder of Japanese Buddhism the pictorial projections of Buddhist paradise and hell and the explanation through visual imagery of sacred mountains Part One presents the social history of etoki as it appears in a broad variety of written sources from the tenth to fifteenth centuries and investigates how etoki helped establish the cult of Shot ku Taishi Part Two covers the period between the late twelfth and fourteenth centuries with a focus on Pure Land Buddhist propaganda and its use in etoki practice Etoki sermons on the Taima Mandala the visual description of the Pure Land Buddhist canons show how envisioning the land of bliss substitutes for meditative concentration to gain enlightenment Ikumi Kaminishi next turns to the itinerant etoki proselytes and similar performing artists between the fifteenth and the sixteenth centuries These individuals preached on the road and through their missionary work reached out to commoners turning etoki into an effective method of imparting religious beliefs and soliciting alms In the late medieval period audiences regarded itinerant preachers much like traveling artists and vendors which has led modern scholars to conclude that etoki priests desecrated religious rituals Kaminishi reconsiders this historiographical problem in relation to the social meaning of itinerant performing artists of the period Finally she examines etoki s effect on the popularization of sacred mountain worship in particular Kumano and Tateyama during the seventeenth through nineteenth centuries Chapters focus on the Kumano propaganda image used by nuns how Christian religious imagery was exploited in seventeenth century Buddhist propaganda and the ways in which etoki campaigns made the remote Tateyama a popular pilgrimage site in early modern times Explaining Pictures is an important groundbreaking work the first book length study devoted to the phenomenon of Buddhist art as religious propaganda and pictorial storytelling as a form of popular culture in medieval Japan A truly interdisciplinary study it suggests fruitful avenues of discussion between art historians and historians of Japanese Buddhism Scholars and students with an interest in Japanese Buddhism art and social and cultural history will find its examination of significant issues fresh and stimulating It will also find an appreciative audience among those concerned with the relationship between art and religion the mechanics of proselytization and Asian visual culture

Multilingual Information Access for Text, Speech and Images Paul Clough, Julio Gonzalo, Michael Kluck, Bernardo Magnini, 2005-08-25 The fifth campaign of the Cross Language Evaluation Forum CLEF for European languages was held from January to September 2004. Participation in the CLEF campaigns has increased each year and CLEF 2004 was no exception. 55 groups submitted results for one or more of the different tracks compared with 42 groups in the previous year. CLEF 2004 also marked a breaking point with respect to previous campaigns. The focus was no longer mainly concentrated on multilingual document retrieval as in previous years but was diversified to include different kinds of text retrieval across languages e.g. exact answers in the question answering track and retrieval on different kinds of media i.e. not just plain text but collections containing image and speech as well. In addition increasing attention was given to issues that regard system usability and user satisfaction with tasks to measure the effectiveness of interactive systems or system components being included in both the cross language question answering and image retrieval tasks with the collaboration of the coordinators of the interactive track. The campaign culminated in a two and a half day workshop held in Bath UK 15-17 September immediately following the 8th European Conference on Digital Libraries. The workshop was attended by nearly 100 researchers and system developers.
