Social Studies Teaching Activities Books Gary Lare, 2006 An annotated listing of activities books for use with social studies curriculums focusing on elementary and middle school grades arranged by curriculum area topic and grade level Includes contact information for publishers and distributors of appropriate books and an index Design Research in Social Studies Education Beth C. Rubin, Eric B Freedman, Jongsung Kim, 2019-06-06 This edited volume showcases work from the emerging field of design based research DBR within social studies education and explores the unique challenges and opportunities that arise when applying the approach in classrooms Usually associated with STEM fields DBR's unique ability to generate practical theories of learning and to engineer theory driven improvements to practice holds meaningful potential for the social studies Each chapter describes a different DBR study exploring the affordances and dilemmas of the approach Chapters cover such topics as iterative design using and producing theory collaborating with educators and the ways that DBR attends to historical political and social context The Cold War and After Marc Trachtenberg, 2012-03-12 A new way of looking at international relations from a leading expert in the field What makes for war or for a stable international system Are there general principles that should govern foreign policy In The Cold War and After Marc Trachtenberg a leading historian of international relations explores how historical work can throw light on these questions The essays in this book deal with specific problems with such matters as nuclear strategy and U S European relations But Trachtenberg's main goal is to show how in practice a certain type of scholarly work can be done He demonstrates how in studying international politics the conceptual and empirical sides of the analysis can be made to connect with each other and how historical theoretical and even policy issues can be tied together in an intellectually respectable way These essays address a wide variety of topics from theoretical and policy issues such as the question of preventive war and the problem of international order to more historical subjects for example American policy on Eastern Europe in 1945 and Franco American relations during the Nixon Pompidou period But in each case the aim is to show how a theoretical perspective can be brought to bear on the analysis of historical issues and how historical analysis can shed light on basic conceptual problems Southern Literature, Cold War Culture, and the Making of Modern America Jordan J. Dominy, 2020-01-27 During the Cold War national discourse strove for unity through patriotism and political moderation to face a common enemy Some authors and intellectuals supported that narrative by casting America's complicated history with race and poverty as moral rather than merely political problems Southern Literature Cold War Culture and the Making of Modern America examines southern literature and the culture within the United States from the period just before the Cold War through the civil rights movement to show how this literature won a significant place in Cold War culture and shaped the nation through the time of Hillbilly Elegy Tackling cultural issues in the country through subtext and metaphor the works of authors like William Faulkner Lillian Smith Robert Penn Warren Eudora Welty Ralph Ellison Alice Walker and Walker Percy redefined South as much more than a geographical identity within an empire The South has become a racially coded sociopolitical and cultural identity associated with white populist conservatism that breaks geographical boundaries and as it has in the past continues to have a disproportionate influence on the nation s future and values Fighting the Cold War John R. Galvin,2015-04-28 When four star general John Rogers Galvin retired from the US Army after forty four years of distinguished service in 1992 the Washington Post hailed him as a man without peer among living generals In Fighting the Cold War A Soldier s Memoir the celebrated soldier scholar and statesman recounts his active participation in more than sixty years of international history from the onset of World War II through the fall of the Berlin Wall and the post Cold War era Galvin s illustrious tenure included the rare opportunity to lead two different Department of Defense unified commands United States Southern Command in Panama from 1985 to 1987 and United States European Command from 1987 to 1992 In his memoir he recounts fascinating behind the scenes anecdotes about his interactions with world leaders describing encounters such as his experience of watching President Jos Napole n Duarte argue eloquently against US intervention in El Salvador a private conversation with Pope John Paul II in which the pontiff spoke to him about what it means to be a man of peace and his discussion with General William Westmoreland about soldiers conduct in the jungles of Vietnam and Cambodia In addition Galvin recalls his complex negotiations with a number of often difficult foreign heads of state including Manuel Noriega Augusto Pinochet Mikhail Gorbachev and Ratko Mladi As NATO Supreme Allied Commander in Europe during the tumultuous five years that ended the Cold War Galvin played a key role in shaping a new era Fighting the Cold War illuminates his leadership and service as one of America s premier soldier statesmen revealing him to be not only a brilliant strategist and consummate diplomat but also a gifted historian and writer who taught and mentored generations of students in the Cold War David Tal (Historian),2017 Cold War 2.0 George S. Takach,2024-03-05 A vivid thoughtful examination of how technological innovation especially AI is shaping the tensions between democracy and autocracy during the new Cold War So much of what we hear about China and Russia today likens the relationship between these two autocracies and the West to a rivalry or a great power competition Some might consider it alarmist to say we are in the midst of a second Cold War but that may be the only responsible way to describe today s state of affairs What s more we have come a long way from Mao Zedong s infamous observation that political power grows out of the barrel of a gun Now we live in an age more aptly described by Vladimir Putin s cryptic prophecy that artificial intelligence is the future not only of Russia but of all mankind and whoever becomes the leader in this sphere will become ruler of the world George S Takach s incisive and meticulously researched new volume Cold War 2 0 is the book we need to thoroughly understand these frightening and perilous times In the geopolitical sphere there are no more pressing issues than the appalling mechanizations of a surveillance state in China Russia s brazen attempt to assert its autocratic model in Ukraine and China s increasingly likely plans to do the same in Taiwan But the key here Takach argues is that our new Cold War is not only ideological but technological the side that prevails in Cold War 2 0 will be the one that bests the other in mastering the greatest innovations of our time Artificial intelligence sits in our pockets every day but what about AI that coordinates military operations and missile defense systems Or the highly sophisticated semiconductor chips and quantum computers that power those missiles and a host of other weapons And where recently we have seen remarkable feats of bio engineering to produce vaccines at record speed shouldn t we be concerned how catastrophic it would be if bio engineering were co opted for nefarious purposes Takach thoroughly examines how each of these innovations will shape the tension between democracy and autocracy and how each will play a central role in this second Cold War Finally he crafts a precise blueprint for how Western democracies should handle these innovations to respond to the looming threat of autocracy and ultimately prevail over it Resources in Education

,2001-10 Secularism, Decolonisation, and the Cold War in South and Southeast Asia Clemens Six,2017-07-20 The intensifying conflicts between religious communities in contemporary South and Southeast Asia signify the importance of gaining a clearer understanding of how societies have historically organised and mastered their religious diversity Based on extensive archival research in Asia Europe and the United States this book suggests a new approach to interpreting and explaining secularism not as a Western concept but as a distinct form of practice in 20th century global history In six case studies on the contemporary history of India Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore it analyses secularism as a project to create a high degree of distance between the state and religion during the era of decolonisation and the emerging Cold War between 1945 and 1970 To demonstrate the interplay between local and transnational dynamics the case studies look at patterns of urban planning the struggle against religious nationalism conflicts around religious education and anti communism as a dispute over secularism and social reform The book emphasises in particular the role of non state actors as key supporters of secular statehood a role that has thus far not received sufficient attention A novel approach to studying secularism in Asia the book discusses the different ways that global transformations such as decolonisation and the Cold War interacted with local relations to reshape and relocate religion in society It will be of interest to scholars of Religious Studies International Relations and Politics Studies of Empire Cold War Studies Subaltern Studies Modern Asian History and South and Southeast Asian Studies
