English-Haitian Creole Bilingual Dictionary

Albert Valdman, Marvin D. Moody, Thomas E. Davies, 2017-04-06 Haitian Creole HC is spoken by approximately 11 000 000 persons in Haiti and in diaspora communities in the United States and throughout the Caribbean. Thus it is of great utility to Anglophone professionals engaged in various activities: medical, social, educational, welfare in these regions. As the most widely spoken and best described creole language, a knowledge of its vocabulary is of interest and utility to scholars in a variety of disciplines. The English Haitian Creole Bilingual Dictionary EHCBD aims to assist anglophone users in constructing written and oral discourse in HC; it also will aid HC speakers to translate from English to their language. As the most elaborate and extensive linguistic tool available, it contains about 30 000 individual entries, many of which have multiple senses and include subentries, multiword phrases or idioms. The distinguishing feature of the EHCBD is the inclusion of translated sentence length illustrative examples that provide important information on usage.

Reading the Past

C. B. Walker, John Chadwick, 1990-01-01 Contains six previously published titles brought together in a single volume.

Paul's Large Letters Steve Reece, 2016-12-15 At the end of several of his letters the apostle Paul claims to be penning a summary and farewell greeting in his own hand: 1 Corinthians, Galatians, Philemon, cf. Colossians 2, Thessalonians. Paul's claims raise some interesting questions about his letter-writing practices: Did he write any complete letters himself or did he always dictate to a scribe? How much did his scribes contribute to the composition of his letters? Did Paul make the effort to proofread and correct what he had dictated? What was the purpose of Paul's autographic subscriptions? What was Paul's purpose in calling attention to their autographic nature? Why did Paul write in large letters in the subscription of his letter to the Galatians? Why did he call attention to this peculiarity of his handwriting? A good source of answers to these questions can be found among the primary documents that have survived from around the time of Paul, a large number of which have been discovered over the past two centuries and in fact continue to be discovered to this day. From around the time of Paul there are extant several dozen letters from the caves and refuges in the desert of eastern Judaea, in Hebrew, Aramaic, Nabataean Greek and Latin; several hundred from the remains of a Roman military camp in Vindolanda in northern England in Latin and several thousand from the sands of Middle and Upper Egypt in Greek Latin and Egyptian Demotic Reece has examined almost all these documents many of them unpublished and rarely read with special attention to their handwriting styles in order to shed some light on these technical aspects of Paul's letter writing conventions
