Vocabulary: an actor, a businessman, a chef, a designer, a doctor, a sales clerk, a server, a singer, a student, a teacher, an engineer, a model, a programmer, a tour guide

Conversation: Introducing yourself

Language Practice: Statements and yes/no questions with be

Pronunciation: Reduction of a/on

Listening: People introducing themselves

Speaking: A board game about personal information

VOCABULARY

The goal of this section is to present and practice the target vocabulary: occupations.

WARM-UP

- Focus attention on the warm-up activity. Model the activity by introducing yourself to a student. Have the student introduce him- or herself to you.
- Have students turn to a person next to them and introduce themselves.
- Encourage students to shake hands and to look each other in the eye as they practice introducing themselves.

Activity 1

- Books closed. Elicit jobs the students already know in English. Write the names and the jobs of some famous people on the board. For example: Taylor Swift = singer. Then point to yourself and say I am a ...? Write teacher on the board to complete the sentence even if students don't answer with the word. Point to a student and say You are a ...? Write student on the board to complete the sentence.
- Books open. Focus attention on the photos. Check which vocabulary items the students already know.
- Model the target vocabulary items—a singer, an actor, etc.
- Do the example with the class. Then have students complete the activity on their own.
- LANGUAGE NOTE: Explain to students that the article an is used before nouns that begin with a vowel sound and that a is used before nouns that begin with a consonant sound. Have students practice saying the vocabulary with the correct articles.
- CULTURE NOTE: It is becoming more common to use gender neutral words to describe some occupations. For example: actor is increasingly being used for both men and women; server is used instead of waiter or waitress. However, businesswoman and businessman are still more common than businessperson.

Activity 2

Play the recording. Allow time for students to change incorrect answers. Then check answers.

ANSWERS

1. d	3. c	5. b	7. f	9. j
2. a	4. e	6. g	8. h	10. i

Activity 3

- Model the question How do you spell doctor? Then write D - O - C - T - O - R on the board while saying the letters out loud.
- Write another occupation on the board and have a student spell it.
- Have students do the activity in pairs. As students work, walk around the class to check progress and offer help as necessary.

EXTRA IDEA

Have students come to the board one at a time. Whisper a job to each student and have them act it out silently for the class. The other students guess the job. Alternatively, have students think of a job and act it out.

Vocabulary Tip

- Focus attention on the Vocabulary Tip box. Explain to students that writing down new words in a notebook is a good way to remember the words they learn.
- Show students an example of a small notebook they can use for vocabulary. Then have students bring in a notebook to class. Give them time to write the new words in it, along with the definition and notes about the pronunciation.

SMART CHOICE ONLINE

Remind students that there are extra vocabulary practice activities on Online Practice.
