It covers the four key management functions: planning, organising, leading, and controlling, conveying to students the elements of a manager's working day. Along with current management theory and practice, the authors integrate coverage of innovation, entrepreneurship, agile workplaces, social media, and new technology throughout. This sixth edition features a new author on the team and contains updates to content based on recent research. Real-life local and international examples showcase the ongoing changes in the management world. Focusing on a skills approach, they bring concepts to life for students, supporting motivation, confidence, and mastery. Each part concludes with a contemporary continuing case study focusing on car company Toyota as it faces managerial challenges and opportunities in the region.

Labour Lines and Colonial Power Victoria Stead, Jon Altman, 2019-08-16 Today, increases of so-called low-skilled and temporary labour migrations of Pacific Islanders to Australia occur alongside calls for Indigenous people to orbit from remote communities in search of employment opportunities. These trends reflect the persistent neoliberalism within contemporary Australia, as well as the effects of structural dynamics within the global agriculture and resource extractive industries. They also unfold within the context of long and troubled histories of Australian colonialism and of complexes of race, labour, and mobility that reverberate through that history and into the present. The contemporary labour of Pacific Islanders in the horticultural industry has sinister historical echoes in the blackbirding of South Sea Islanders to work on sugar plantations in New South Wales and Queensland in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as well as in wider patterns of labour trade and colonisation across the Pacific region The antecedents of contemporary Indigenous labour mobility meanwhile include forms of unwaged and highly exploitative labouring on government settlements missions pastoral stations and in the pearling industry For both Pacific Islanders and Indigenous people though labour mobilities past and present also include agentive and purposeful migrations reflective of rich cultures and histories of mobility as well as of forces that compel both movement and immobility Drawing together historians anthropologists sociologists and geographers this book critically explores experiences of labour mobility by Indigenous peoples and Pacific Islanders including M ori within Australia Locating these new expressions of labour mobility within historical patterns of movement contributors interrogate the contours and continuities of Australian coloniality in its diverse and interconnected expressions The Motherhood
