

A black and white photograph of a prison corridor. The corridor is long and narrow, with a person walking away from the camera in the distance. The walls are lined with cell doors, and the floor is made of wooden planks. The lighting is dim, creating a somber and institutional atmosphere.

The Borderline Diaries:

The Borderline Diaries Elisa Frank, 2015-01-14 Elisa Frank's sister and best friend were murdered in front of her eyes by her ex boyfriend who then abducted her. The police caught him but Elisa was left traumatised and with her own life sentence of grief. Here she tells the story and describes how she battled mental health issues and recovered to fulfil her dream of becoming a writer.

The Girls' Diary Project Shannon McFerran, Daniel George Scott, 2013

Diaries of a Borderline Blue Evergarden, 2025-03-06 Blue Evergarden's Diaries of a Borderline offers an intimate and transformative poetic journey following a single protagonist's quest for self love and healing. Artfully divided into four parts, each section vividly portrays a tumultuous emotional odyssey.

Part 1 Diaries of a Borderline centers on unraveling the aftermath of trauma, chronicling the protagonist's struggle with dissociation, loneliness, and the elusive pursuit of reclaiming a shattered identity. Delving deeper in Part 2 This is Why She Falls Apart, Evergarden explores the delicate tapestry of self worth and self love, tracing the complicated journey of survival and reliance amidst inner turmoil and despair.

Entering a transformative phase in Part 3 Leaving Her Graveyard, the protagonist awakens to the potential of becoming everything she once believed she wasn't, finding the resilience to confront her inner demons and emerge stronger.

Part 4 The Gifts She Found celebrates the protagonist's triumphant emergence into self acceptance and inner tranquility. This final section encapsulates the euphoria of releasing past burdens, discovering self love, and embracing the promise of a brighter future.

Diaries of a Borderline is a poignant, soul stirring journey through the complexities of mental health and the transformative power of healing. With vivid prose and raw emotion, Evergarden weaves a tapestry of hope and resilience, inspiring those who tread similar paths.

Romania and the Holocaust Simon Geissbühler, 2016-10-11 From summer 1941 onwards, Romania actively pursued at its own initiative the mass killing of Jews in the territories it controlled. 1941 saw 13 000 Jewish residents of the Romanian city of Iași killed, the extermination of thousands of Jews in Northern Bukovina and Bessarabia by Romanian armed forces, and local people large scale deportations of Jews to the camps and ghettos of Transnistria and massacres in and around Odessa. Overall more than 300 000 Jews of Romanian and Soviet or Ukrainian origin were murdered in Romanian controlled territories during the Second World War. In this volume, a number of renowned experts shed light on the events, the contexts, and the aftermath of this under researched and lesser known dimension of the Holocaust. 75 years on, this book gives a much needed impetus to research on the Holocaust in Romania and Romanian controlled territories.

The Diaries of Tchaikovsky Peter Ilich Tchaikovsky, 1945

Act and Idea in the Nazi Genocide Berel Lang, 2003-01-01 This work is an analysis of the ideology, causal patterns, and means employed in the Nazi genocide against the Jews. It argues that the events of the genocide compel reconsideration of such moral concepts as individual and group responsibility, the role of knowledge in ethical decisions, and the conditions governing the relation between guilt and forgiveness. It shows how the moral implications of genocide extend to linguistic and artistic presentations of the Nazi extermination of the Jews.

Lacework or Mirror? Diary Poetics of

Frances Burney, Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley Magdalena Ożarska, 2014-01-08 Lacework or Mirror Diary Poetics of Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley sets out to determine whether each of the diaries by three female writers namely Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley approximates the Philippe Lejeunean concept of the diary as lacework or the more sweeping view typical of the broadly conceived autobiography which Georges Gusdorf famously likened to the mirror The author explores Burney's Wordsworth's and Shelley's attempts at concealing the gaps between their narrating and narrated I's as well as examining their diary lacunae especially helpful for illustrating the gradual emergence of the diarists individual selves Broader issues connected with diary poetics such as the use of metaphors and symbols the degree of reliance on dialogue and ensuing narrativity down to handling the past by means of anachronous eccentricities are also subject to examination The study is based on the assumption that the journal is a literary genre which can be investigated with tools routinely used for the examination of literary texts Yet beyond the issues of literariness in accordance with Philippe Lejeune's dictum the three journals reveal the writers diaristic practices In fact it seems that issues of the journal genre and the journal practice cannot be divorced and neither can their lacework and mirror aspects

Principles of Research Design in the Social Sciences Frank Bechhofer, Lindsay Paterson, 2000 A stimulating book for social scientists considering the issues involved when deciding upon their research design Are Borderlines More Passionate? Tammi Green, 2010-01 Retrospect and Review Robert Atkins, Martin Kane, 2023-12-18 In Retrospect and Review an international team of scholars explore East German literature and the circumstances of its production in the last phase of the German Democratic Republic's existence The provocative claim of the novelist playwright and essayist Christoph Hein Ich nehme an erdem für mich in Anspruch elfmal das Ende der DDR beschrieben zu haben serves as the starting point for the twenty three contributors to the volume who consider the many and varied ways in which Hein and his fellow writers signalled and diagnosed the demise of the GDR The fraught relationship between the state and its intellectuals inevitably forms a consistent theme in the studies of writers as diverse as Anna Seghers and Kito Lorenc Christa Wolf and Jurek Becker or Irmtraud Morgner and Heiner Müller However the process of retrospect and review also reveals the innovative and independent minded character of the culture of the GDR's later years Several contributors trace the emergence of a strong and distinctive women's writing which increasingly and subversively imposed itself on the hitherto patriarchal literary landscape of the GDR And in the literature of the 1970s and 1980s experimental narrative strategies take on a political role as a counter discourse to a stubbornly inflexible political order Z.
