Differentiating Development Soumhya Venkatesan, Thomas Yarrow, 2012-04-01 Over the last two decades anthropological studies have highlighted the problems of development as a discursive regime arguing that such initiatives are paradoxically used to consolidate inequality and perpetuate poverty This volume constitutes a timely intervention in anthropological debates about development moving beyond the critical stance to focus on development as a mode of engagement that like anthropology attempts to understand represent and work within a complex world By setting out to elucidate both the similarities and differences between these epistemological endeavors the book demonstrates how the ethnographic study of development challenges anthropology to rethink its own assumptions and methods In particular contributors focus on the important but often overlooked relationship between acting and understanding in ways that speak to debates about the role of anthropologists and academics in the wider world The case studies presented are from a diverse range of geographical and ethnographic contexts from Melanesia to Africa and Latin America and ethnographic research is combined with commentary and reflection from the foremost scholars in the field

Charismatic Leadership in Organizations Iga Maria Lehman, 2024-09-04 History is full of examples of how the skilful use of language is a fundamental aspect of charismatic leadership Traditionally this phenomenon has been studied focusing on oratory skills The book argues that the relationship between a leader and a follower has points of similarity to that which exists between a writer and a reader and that in each case former party is the agenda setter but satisfactory outcomes require a mutual endeavor Given that scholarly writing about management and organizations is inevitably a mix of the presentation of empirical truths and value judgements the ability to engage the reader intellectually and emotionally is critical in the successful dissemination of disciplinary knowledge and belief claims The book proposes a multi faceted construct of textual charisma which is created through the use of metaphors stories and personal accounts as well as the ancient construct of pistis and the contemporary notion of metadiscourse The proposed framework provides guidance for management and organization studies authors seeking to present themselves as convincing and engaging writers Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Malayalam Verbs Amanda Swenson,2019-09-23 This book using Malayalam as a case study provides an in depth exploration of how inflectional suffixes should be separated from the verb and the implications this has for the syntax and semantics Past work has proposed that Malayalam lacks a Tense Phrase and tense morphology i e is tenseless However this book shows that Malayalam behaves differently from other tenseless languages and that it does have tense morphology It also provides evidence that there is a Tense Phrase in the syntax In addition it examines what have been called the two imperfectives and argues that one is a type of progressive while the other is a pluractional marker and shows that Malayalam lacks perfect morphology and a Perfect Phrase in minimally Universal perfects With respect to finiteness among other things it argues that Conjunctive Participles are best analyzed as a type of absolutive adjunct and that athu gerunds involve nominalization above the Tense Phrase level This book will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in cross linguistic variation in Tense Aspect Modality and or the morphosyntax or morphosemantics of Dravidian languages
