The Bomber Command War Diaries An Operational Reference Book:

The Bomber Command War Diaries Martin Middlebrook, Chris Everitt, 2014-04-02 The essential WWII historical reference detailing RAF Bomber Command's extensive campaign of strategic bombings across occupied Europe. The Royal Air Force Bomber Command's strategic bombing campaign started on the first day of the Second World War and ended five and a half years later with the final victory in Europe. It was a campaign of such enormous scale that historians have only recently begun to piece together the finer details of the individual raids. Aviation historian Martin Middlebrook and his research colleague Chris Everitt were the first to compile a complete review of all the raids and their background stories. The Bomber Command War Diaries not only documents every Bomber Command operation but also details their effects on the ground, drawing on local archives from Germany, Italy, and the occupied countries. It is a groundbreaking work on historical research bringing together the two sides of Bomber Command's war. This edition includes retrospective observations and a new appendix.

The Bomber Command War Diaries Martin Middlebrook, 1987

Bomber Command: Reflections of War, Volume 4 Martin W. Bowman, 2013-02-05 This is the fourth volume of a five-part work that provides a comprehensive insight into all aspects of RAF Bomber Command in World War Two. It begins in the spring of 1944 with a completely new insight on the catastrophic raid on Nuremberg on the night of 30/31 March and follows with the disastrous attack on Mailly le Camp in May. Gradually the Allied Bomber Offensive began to bear fruit, and in June 1944 the invasion of Normandy took place under an umbrella of almost total Allied air superiority. RAF Bomber Command was to play a huge part in what proved to be the final steps to ultimate victory, returning to the mass raids on German cities by night and even mounting raids on the Reich by day. The authors' well-tried formula of using background information interspersed with the crews' personal narrative takes you raid by raid through each tour of ops while carrying full bomb loads in sub-zero temperatures, blighted by atrocious weather conditions and dogged by fear of fire, death, or serious injury, or having to endure months, if not years, of miserable existence and near starvation behind the wire in notorious PoW camps. The path to peace was paved with the unmitigated slow ebbing of courage with an ever-present possibility of death, unannounced from a prowling night fighter, nondescript and unseen as night after incessant night. Shattered and ailing bombers could run out of luck to crash in some foreign field while other crews, almost home, almost empty, ran out of fuel and died horrible, tortuous deaths in twisted and tangled wreckage. Not for them the glory that was accorded the Few, but as Winston Churchill said, "Fighters are our salvation but the bombers alone provide the means of victory."

Legion of the Lancasters Martin W. Bowman, 2023-01-05 Since he had already decided to use his nose armament against the four-mot four-engined bomber, he looked out and focused on a black shape. The Britisher's small, bluish exhaust flames made it easier to keep the target in sight. Four engines, twin tail, were recorded almost subconsciously. No sudden movement that might attract their attention. Calm now. Guns armed. Night sight switched on. Everything OK. Now he could see that it was a Lancaster crossing gently from starboard to port. He applied a little more power and approached.

cautiously Now he was exactly behind him at about 100 metres range The rear turret was clearly recognisable Br nies kept silent Pauke Pauke Kettledrums Kettledrums S the announced with a cry Br nies immediately transmitted Ich beruhe Then they closed in rapidly for the kill One can almost smell the flak taste the cordite and experience the nervous twitch before jumping out of one s skin to the sound of exploding shells and detonating bombs in this pulsating and highly intriguing selection of never before told stories recalled largely by members of the revered Lancaster crews of RAF Bomber Command From this bomber s introduction into service in 1942 with the famous if flawed raid on Augsburg on 17 April that year to the attacks on the Tirpitz in 1944 each chapter is a tribute to the spirit of those who flew the Lanc in anger and gained the respect of their enemies

The Path Finder Force Martin W. Bowman,2016-03-30 Charged with the formidable task of locating and marking German targets for attack by the main force of Bomber Command the Path Finder Force 8 PFF Group and those in 5 Group was perhaps the most experienced and highly trained elite group created within the Royal Air Force during World War II Its aircrew members were almost entirely volunteers and despite the terrifying odds against any individual or complete crew ever completing the sixty sorties tour of operations with the PFF the most feared punishment was to forfeit their coveted Path Finder wings and be posted away to other units This remarkable evocation of a remarkable force is made up largely of narrative and photographs from the men who flew with or were an integral part of the PFF They alone are best qualified to recount the Path Finder story While the subject matter herein largely covers the four engined Stirlings Halifaxes and Lancasters and twin engined Mosquitoes of 8 PFF Group the Path Finding techniques used by 5 Group are not forgotten and there are two chapters detailing the work of the Oboe Mosquitoes and other markers in support of the night and day Main Force raids on German and Italian cities and individual targets in the Reich This book is a fitting tribute to the PFF and in particular to the crews who failed to return from the PFF s many operations

Wings of War Martin W. Bowman,2016-07-07 Of the 7 953 Bomber Command aircraft lost on night operations during the Second World War an estimated 5 833 fell victim to Luftwaffe night fighters In this detailed re enactment of the air war over Western Europe and the raids flown by the men of RAF Bomber Command author Martin Bowman pieces together official data with the words and memories of the pilots and air crew who took part Detailing many unique experiences during the night bombing raids that were hurled against Hitler s war machine these truly epic stories span the period between November 1939 and 1945 and form an appropriate epitaph to the men of RAF Bomber Command

D-Day, 1944 Theodore A. Wilson,1994 Readers may be astonished at how much scholarly digging and the release of once secret information have transformed the history of this campaign At times it seems like a whole new war New York Times Book Review

RAF Bomber Command in Fact, Film and Fiction Jonathan Falconer,1996 RAF Bomber Command in Fact Film and Fiction is a bibliographical and media guide to the exploits of the command between 1939 1945 setting on record much of what has been written filmed or sound recorded in the English language had high hopes for his conquest of Norway which held both great symbolic and great strategic value for the Fuhrer. Despite early successes however his ambitious northern campaign foundered and ultimately failed. Adam Claasen for the first time reveals the full story of this neglected episode and shows how it helped doom the Third Reich to defeat. Hitler and Raeder the chief of the German navy were determined to take and keep Norway. By doing so they hoped to preempt Allied attempts to outflank Germany, protect sea lanes for German ships, access precious Scandinavian minerals for war production and provide a launchpad for Luftwaffe and naval operations against Great Britain. Beyond those strategic objectives Hitler also envisioned Norway as part of a pan Nordic stronghold, a centerpiece of his new world order. But as Claasen shows, Hitler's grand expectations were never realized. The Luftwaffe was the vital spearhead in the invasion of Norway which marked a number of wartime firsts. Among other things it involved the first large scale aerial operations over sea rather than land, the first time operational objectives and logistical needs were fulfilled by air power and the first deployment of paratroopers. Although it got off to a promising start, the German effort particularly against British and arctic convoys was greatly hampered by flawed strategic thinking, interservice rivalries between the Luftwaffe and navy, the failure to develop a long range heavy bomber, the diversion of planes and personnel to shore up the German war effort elsewhere and the northern theater's harsh climate and terrain. Claasen's study covers every aspect of this ill fated campaign from the 1940 invasion until war's end and shows how it was eventually relegated to a backwater status as Germany fought to survive in an increasingly unwinnable war. His compelling account sharpens our picture of the German air force and widens our understanding of the Third Reich's way of war.

Royal Air Force Fighter Command Losses of the Second World War Norman L. R. Franks, 1997

The first in a series of volumes which provide an account of the sacrifices made by RAF Fighter Command during the early years of the Second World War.

Targeting the Third Reich Robert S. Ehlers, 2009

Argues that air intelligence played a crucial but largely overlooked role in the successful execution of the Allied bombing campaigns against the Third Reich which in turn proved a decisive factor in both ending the war in Europe and ending it as soon as it did.

Volume IX I of this series focuses on how the war affected individuals from soldiers to slave labourers. After examining the Party's role in moulding public attitudes and how German society related to the Holocaust it looks at the social structure of military units, ideological indoctrination of the troops and resistance to the regime. The Second World War affected the lives and shaped the experience of millions of individuals in Germany: soldiers at the front, women, children and the elderly sheltering in cellars, slave labourers toiling in factories and concentration camp prisoners.
