

The background is a vibrant, abstract composition. It features a dark blue base with numerous glowing, out-of-focus light spots in shades of blue and cyan. Sweeping, ethereal lines of light in blue and red arc across the upper portion of the image. In the lower half, there are blurred, horizontal streaks of red and pink light, suggesting motion or a fast-paced environment. A Poetics of Editing Susan L. Greenberg, 2018-09-03 This original and authoritative book offers a first ever attempt to define a poetics of the editing arts It proposes a new field of editing studies in which the ideal editor can be understood in relation to the long theorised author and reader The book s premise is that editing like other forms of making is mostly invisible and can only be brought into full view through a comparative analysis that includes the insights of practitioners The argument laid down in careful layers is supported by a panoramic historical narrative that tracks the shifts in textual authority from religious and secular institutions to the romanticised self of the digital present The dangers posed by the anti editing rhetoric of this hybrid romanticism are confronted head on To the traditional perception of editing as the imposition of closure A Poetics of Editing adds a perspective on a dynamic process with a sense of the possible

An Aesthesia of Networks Anna Munster,2013-05-17 The experience of networks as the immediate sensing of relations between humans and nonhuman technical elements in assemblages such as viral media and databases Today almost every aspect of life for which data exists can be rendered as a network Financial data social networks biological ecologies all are visualized in links and nodes lines connecting dots A network visualization of a corporate infrastructure could look remarkably similar to that of a terrorist organization In An Aesthesia of Networks Anna Munster argues that this uniformity has flattened our experience of networks as active and relational processes and assemblages She counters the network anaesthesia that results from this pervasive mimesis by reinserting the question of experience or aesthesia into networked culture and aesthetics Rather than asking how humans experience computers and networks Munster asks how networks experience what operations they perform and undergo to change and produce new forms of experience Drawing on William James s radical empiricism she asserts that networked experience is assembled first and foremost through relations which make up its most immediately sensed and perceived aspect Munster critically considers a range of contemporary artistic and cultural practices that engage with network technologies and techniques including databases and data mining the domination of search in online activity and the proliferation of viral media through YouTube These practices from artists who undermine data to musicians and VJs who use intranetworked audio and video software environments are concerned with the relationality at the core of today s network experience
