Habits of the Heartland Lyn C. Macgregor, 2013-09-15 Although most Americans no longer live in small towns images of small town life and particularly of the mutual support and neighborliness to be found in such places remain powerful in our culture In Habits of the Heartland Lyn C Macgregor investigates how the residents of Viroqua Wisconsin population 4 355 create a small town community together Macgregor lived in Viroqua for nearly two years During that time she gathered data in public places attended meetings volunteered for civic organizations talked to residents in their workplaces and homes and worked as a bartender at the local American Legion post Viroqua has all the outward hallmarks of the idealized American town the kind of place where local merchants still occupy the shops on Main Street and everyone knows everyone else On closer examination one finds that the town contains three largely separate social groups Alternatives Main Streeters and Regulars These categories are not based on race or ethnic origins Rather social distinctions in Viroqua are based ultimately on residents ideas about what a community is and why it matters These ideas both reflect and shape their choices as consumers whether at the grocery store as parents of school age children or in the voting booth Living with and listening to the town s residents taught Macgregor that while traditional ideas about community especially as it was connected with living in a small town still provided an important organizing logic for peoples lives there were a variety of ways to understand and create community

Motorcycling in California's Central Valley Stewart Barber Sr. and David R. Stuart, 2023 The heart of California s Central Valley from Lodi Stockton and Tracy through Modesto Oakdale and Turlock embraced motorcycling from the beginning of the sport and lifestyle Eleven riders from the region are in the American Motorcyclist Association AMA Hall of Fame spanning every decade from the 1900s The popularity of bicycling in the 1890s led to early motorcycle shops riders and champion racers in the 1900 1910s Area motorcycle club recreational rides and field meets started in 1914 Central Valley police departments were among the first to develop motorcycle traffic units in the 1920s before the California Highway Patrol Early racing venues such as repurposed bicycle velodromes college stadiums and horse tracks were expanded when the Lodi Cycle Bowl was developed in the 1950s it gave newcomers such as Modesto s Kenny Roberts and Stockton s Alex Jorgensen Chris Carr and Fred Merkel all now AMA Hall of Famers a track at which to compete weekly
