the wartime experiences of some of the American airmen who served in Europe and the Pacific during WW II The stories are narrated by the airmen or submitted by relatives and recount missions over enemy territory encounters with enemy fighters struggles to control battle damaged planes crash landings and bail out from exploding planes often leaving behind dead and wounded buddies Many airmen who survived these experiences were captured and spent the rest of the war as POWs They were often brutally treated by their captors However some airmen managed to evade captivity and escaped Some were on the run for months throughout Europe some hiding for almost a year until war s end Thousands of POWs in Germany were on the forced marches in the beginning of 1945 the Death Marches Their suffering on these marches is painfully retold on some

Jim Fitzgerald,2008-08 Experiencing Translationality Piotr Blumczynski,2023-05-16 This innovative book takes the concept of translation beyond its traditional boundaries adding to the growing body of literature which challenges the idea of translation as a primarily linguistic transfer To gain a fresh perspective on the work of translation in the complex processes of meaning making across physical social and cultural domains conceptualized as translationality Piotr Blumczynski revisits one of the earliest and most fundamental senses of translation corporeal transfer His study of translated religious officials and translated relics reframes our understanding of translation as a process creating a sense of connection with another time place object or person He argues that a promise of translationality animates a broad spectrum of cultural artistic and commercial endeavours it is invoked for example in museum exhibitions art galleries celebrity endorsements and the manufacturing of musical instruments Translationality offers a way to reimagine the dynamic entanglements of matter and meaning space and time past and present This book will be of interest to students and scholars in translation studies as well as related disciplines such as the history of religion anthropology of art and material culture Engineering and Contracting ,1906
