Anthony Powell and takes us deep into the heart of twentieth century London's literary life. Insightful, lively and enthralling, this biography is as much a brilliant tapestry of a seminal era in London's literary life as it is a revelation of an iconic literary figure. Best known for his twelve volume comic masterpiece A Dance to the Music of Time, the prolific writer and critic Anthony Powell (1905-2000) kept company between the two world wars with rowdy, hard-up writers and painters and painters' models in the London where Augustus John and Wyndham Lewis loomed large. He counted Evelyn Waugh and Henry Green among his lifelong friends and his circle included the Sitwells, Graham Greene, George Orwell, Philip Larkin and Kingsley Amis. Drawing on letters, diaries and interviews, Hilary Spurling herself a longtime friend of Powell's as well as an award-winning biographer, has produced a fresh and powerful portrait of the man and his times. Forgotten Monorails of Canada Paul Langan, 2020-12-18 The definitive history of monorails in Canada from 1896 to 2020. From Vancouver BC to Cavendish PEI, Canada has had 6 monorails that have been in operation in the past. Two monorails are still in operation. What makes this book unique is it also reviews all the monorail proposals that have been pitched in over the years and there has been a lot of them. Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Winnipeg, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal are some of the cities that had studies done looking at monorail as a possible transit system. Montreal alone has had over 15 studies that included monorails as a possible option. Did you know that demonstration lines were built in Fort Saskatchewan and Niagara Falls. Low speed and High speed monorails ideas have been pitched. You won't find this topic covered on Wikipedia or in a Google search. Over 200 newspaper articles referenced. The Lawn Road Flats David Burke (Historian of intelligence and international relations), 2014 The story of a modernist building with a significant place in the history of Soviet espionage in Britain where communist spies rubbed shoulders with British artists, sculptors and writers. The Isokon building, Lawn Road Flats in Belsize Park on Hampstead's lower slopes is a remarkable building. The first modernist building in Britain to use reinforced concrete in domestic architecture, its construction demanded new building techniques. But the building was as remarkable for those who took up residence there as for the application of revolutionary building techniques. There were 32 Flats in all and they became a haunt of some of the most prominent Soviet agents working against Britain in the 1930s and 40s among them Arnold Deutsch, the controller of the group of Cambridge spies who came to be known as the Magnificent Five after the Western movie The Magnificent Seven, the photographer Edith Tudor Hart and Melita Norwood, the longest serving Soviet spy in British espionage history. However, it wasn't only spies who were attracted to the Lawn Road Flats; the Bauhaus exiles Walter Gropius, László Moholy-Nagy and Marcel Breuer, the pre-historian V Gordon Childe and the poet and Bletchley Park intelligence officer Charles Brasch all made their way there. A number of British artists, sculptors and writers were also drawn to the Flats among them the sculptor and painter Henry Moore, the novelist Nicholas Monsarrat and the crime writer Agatha Christie who wrote her only spy novel N or M in the Flats. The Isokon building boasted its own restaurant and dining club where many of the Flats' most famous residents rubbed shoulders with some of the most dangerous communist spies ever to operate in Britain Agatha Christie often said that she invented her characters from what she observed going on around her With the Kuczynskis probably the most successful family of spies in the history of espionage in residence she would have had plenty of material DAVID BURKE is a historian of intelligence and international relations and author of The Spy Who Came In From the Cold op Melita Norwood and the Ending of Cold War Espionage The Boydell Press 2009 Broadcasting Buildings Shundana Yusaf, 2014-02-28 How the BBC shaped popular perceptions of architecture and placed them at the heart of debates over participatory democracy The Market Makers Peter Scott, 2017-09-15 During the twentieth century affluence both at the level of the individual household and that of society as a whole became intimately linked with access to a range of prestige consumer durables The Market Makers charts the inter war origins of a process that would eventually transform these features of modern life from being luxuries to necessities for most British families Peter Scott examines how producers and retailers succeeded in creating mass though not universal market for new suites of furniture radios modern housing and some electrical and gas appliances while also exploring why some other goods such as refrigerators telephones and automobiles failed to reach the mass market in Britain before the 1950s Creating mass markets presented a formidable challenge for manufacturers and retailers Consumer durables required large markets Most involved significant research and development costs Some such as the telephone radio and car were dependent on complementary investments in infrastructure All required intensive marketing usually including expensive advertising in national newspapers and magazines while some also needed mass production methods and output volumes to make them affordable to a mass market This study charts the pioneering efforts of entrepreneurs many of whom though once household names are now largely forgotten to provide consumer durables at a price affordable to a mass market and to persuade a sometimes reluctant public to embrace the new products and the consumer credit that their purchase required In doing so Scott shows that contrary to much received wisdom there was a consumer durables revolution in inter war Britain at least for certain highly prioritised goods Gropius Fiona MacCarthy, 2019-04-15 This is an absolute triumph ideas lives and the dramas of the twentieth century are woven together in a feat of storytelling A masterpiece Edmund de Waal ceramic artist and author of The White Road The impact of Walter Gropius can be measured in his buildings Fagus Factory Bauhaus Dessau Pan Am but no less in his students I M Pei Paul Rudolph Anni Albers Philip Johnson Fumihiko Maki countless masters were once disciples at the Bauhaus in Berlin and at Harvard Between 1910 and 1930 Gropius was at the center of European modernism and avant garde society glamor only to be exiled to the antimodernist United Kingdom during the Nazi years Later under the democratizing influence of American universities Gropius became an advocate of public art and cemented a starring role in twentieth century architecture and design Fiona MacCarthy challenges the image of Gropius as a doctrinaire architectural rationalist bringing out the visionary philosophy and courage that carried him through a politically hostile age Pilloried by Tom Wolfe as inventor of the monolithic high rise Gropius is better remembered as inventor of a form of art education that influenced schools worldwide He viewed argument as intrinsic to creativity Unusually for one in his position Gropius encouraged women s artistic endeavors and sought equal romantic partners Though a traveler in elite circles he objected to the cloistering of beauty as a special privilege for the aesthetically initiated Gropius offers a poignant and personal story and a fascinating reexamination of the urges that drove European and American modernism
